AVI BioPharma to Acquire eXegenics in $11.0 Million Stock Exchange

PORTLAND, Ore. and DALLAS, Tex. July 16, 2003 AVI BioPharma, Inc. (Nasdaq: AVII, AVIIW, AVIIZ), and eXegenics, Inc. (Nasdaq: EXEG) today announced the signing of a definitive merger agreement under which AVI has agreed to acquire eXegenics in a stock-for-stock transaction. The transaction has been structured as a two-step acquisition comprised of an immediate exchange offer for all of the outstanding shares of eXegenics common stock and eXegenics preferred stock, followed by a merger in which AVI would acquire those shares of eXegenics common stock and eXegenics preferred stock that are not exchanged for AVI common stock in the exchange offer.

This transaction offers 0.103 of a share of AVI common stock for each share of eXegenics common stock, and 0.155 of a share of AVI common stock for each share of eXegenics preferred stock. Based on the volume weighted average prices of AVI common stock for the 30 consecutive trading days ending on July 14, 2003, the transaction values eXegenics common stock at $0.64 per share, and eXegenics preferred stock at $0.96 per share, or approximately $11.0 million in total. The exchange offer is subject to various conditions, including the tender of at least a majority of the shares of eXegenics capital stock in the exchange offer. The exchange offer is expected to close in August of this year, and the merger is expected to close in September of this year.

"Acquiring eXegenics should provide AVI up to approximately $10 million in additional cash as well as antisense drug discovery technology and three validated cancer targets," said Denis R. Burger, Ph.D., chief executive officer at AVI. "In addition, eXegenics' work in rapid development of drugs using their Quantum Core Technology is an excellent fit with AVI's existing viral rapid response platform. We believe the cash AVI will receive in the transaction will enable AVI to further its clinical development programs and create additional value for all shareholders."

"This transaction affords our stockholders greater liquidity for their investment in the near term as well as the opportunity to participate in the future growth of AVI," said Dr. Ronald Goode, chairman, president and chief executive officer of eXegenics. "We believe AVI has demonstrated its ability to produce clinical candidates with significant potential market value. The breadth of AVI's clinical development programs is impressive, as is AVI's demonstrated ability to rapidly advance clinical candidates."

Key highlights of the acquisition include the following:

The acquisition will bring additional cash of up to approximately $10 million to AVI;

AVI will acquire all eXegenics intellectual property, including eXegenics' target validation antisense platform (the Oasis program) and eXegenics' Quantum Core Technology;

AVI will not retain eXegenics employees;

AVI does not anticipate that the consummation of the transaction will result in an increase in AVI expenditures or burn rate; and

There will be no change to the AVI board of directors or senior management as a result of the transaction.

Terms of the Transaction

Under the terms of the definitive merger agreement, AVI will first commence an exchange offer in which AVI will offer 0.103 of a share of AVI common stock for each outstanding share of eXegenics common stock and 0.155 of a share of AVI common stock for each outstanding share of eXegenics preferred stock. The exchange offer will be followed by a merger in which each share of eXegenics common stock not tendered in the exchange offer will be converted into the right to receive 0.103 of a share of AVI common stock and each share of eXegenics preferred stock not tendered in the exchange offer will be converted into the right to receive 0.155 of a share of AVI common stock.

The Board of Directors of eXegenics has voted unanimously to recommend the exchange offer and the merger to its stockholders. Petkevich & Partners, LLC is the financial advisor to eXegenics for this transaction.

About AVI BioPharma

AVI BioPharma develops therapeutic products for the treatment of life-threatening diseases using two technology platforms: NEUGENE antisense drugs and cancer immunotherapy. AVI's lead NEUGENE antisense compound is designed to target cancer, cardiovascular restenosis, polycystic kidney disease and other cell proliferation disorders. In addition to targeting specific genes in the body, AVI's antiviral program uses NEUGENE antisense compounds to target single-stranded RNA viruses, including West Nile Virus, SARS coronavirus, calicivirus, and Hepatitis C. AVI's lead cancer agent, AVICINE, is a therapeutic cancer vaccine currently in late stage colorectal and pancreatic cancer. More information about AVI is available on the company's Web site at www.avibio.com.
