Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

GENERAL

Skinvisible, Inc. (the "Company") is focused on the development of innovative topical polymer-based delivery systems and technologies, incorporating its proprietary process for combining hydrophilic and hydrophobic polymers into stable water emulsions. The Company's primary marketing objectives are to license its technologies and/or sell its delivery systems to established brand manufacturers and marketers of topical prescription Rx, over-the-counter, cosmetic and skincare products to provide enhanced performance capabilities.

When topically applied, products incorporating the Company's delivery systems adhere to the skin's outer layers, forming a protective bond, resisting wash-off, and delivering targeted levels of therapeutic or cosmetic skincare agents to the skin. Proven or potential applications identified to date include antimicrobial hand sanitizers, suncare and lipcare formulations, skincare moisturizers, anti-fungals, insect repellents, and acne, eczema and psoriasis treatment applications.

The Company's short-term strategy includes revenue generation from private label business opportunities for its antimicrobial hand sanitizer formulations. The Company is also offering private label opportunities for its clinically tested sunscreen formulation which allows labeling as "Very Water Resistant with an SPF of 30" in accordance with FDA Final Sunscreen Monograph requirements.

In January 2002 the Company received trademark approval in the U.S. for the name "Invisicare" to identify its family of polymer delivery systems. The Company is currently in the process of filing this trade name with the Cosmetic, fragrance and Toiletries Association ("CFTA") as an ingredient for use in skincare and cosmetic formulations.

It is the Company's intention to direct its ongoing energies and resources towards:

Expanding research and development of its Invisicare delivery systems and related technologies;

Identifying additional applications and opportunities for its Invisicare delivery systems, either independently or in collaboration with established manufacturing and/or marketing companies;

Maximizing efforts for the licensing of its technologies and/or sale of its Invisicare delivery systems to manufacturers/marketers of topically administered Rx prescription, over-the-counter, cosmetic, and skincare products.

The Company is pursuing potential business opportunities, strategic alliances and collaborations directly and through sales agents/brokers. In this activity, the Company has targeted Rx pharmaceutical, over-the-counter, cosmetic, healthcare, and other brand manufacturers.

The Company has entered into a number of Confidentiality/Non-Disclosure Agreements during 2001 and is presently undergoing negotiations or actively working with a variety of existing or potential customers for the purpose of developing or selling its products.

Patent Applications:

The Company filed a patent application in August 2001 for its Invisicare topical compositions and its methodology for manufacturing and utilization of numerous delivery systems and related applications.

In January 2000 the Company filed a patent application for its antimicrobial dermal barrier formulation, which utilized one of the Invisicare delivery systems. This initial application was intended to obtain patent protection for the Company's original finished skin protector product.

Background & History of Operations:

At its inception, the Company's strategy was to develop and market a line of antimicrobial protective hand-care products that incorporated its proprietary polymer emulsion invention. These finished products were intended for a variety of industries, including medical, food service, industrial, salon, and personal-care markets. The Company also marketed and sold its antibacterial/antimicrobial skincare sanitizers under the trade name Safe4Hours to the retail/commercial market.

Edgar Filing: SKINVISIBLE INC - Form 10-Q

After extensive ongoing market investigations, analysis of regulatory requirements and strategic planning and evaluation, the Company subsequently determined that the highest and best use of its resources would be achieved by focusing on development of topical polymer-based delivery systems and related technologies, rather than pursuing the commercialization of its own antimicrobial and/or dermal barrier formulations that would require extensive lead-times and regulatory processes for each product application, significant human and financial resources for a variety of specialized markets, and extensive marketing efforts to compete in a saturated marketplace dominated by large established suppliers.

The Company redefined its long-term strategies and objectives to focus on independent and collaborative research & development of its Invisicare polymer delivery systems and related technologies for a variety of product applications.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Net revenue for the six months ended June 30, 2002 increased to $106,859 from $19,733 for the six months ended June 30, 2001. This increase in revenue was mainly due to private label sales, product development fees charged to other pharmaceutical companies, and polymer sales to cosmetic manufacturers through the Company's sales agent/broker network. This is in line with the Company's re-directed focus of directly pursuing private label business opportunities with existing retail suppliers/distributors, as well as selling or licensing its delivery systems to established manufacturers for enhanced product formulations and applications in the cosmetic, over-the-counter, and pharmaceutical skincare markets.

Gross profit for the six months ended June 30, 2002 increased to $80,076 from $13,622 for the six months ended June 30, 2001.

The Company's operating expenses decreased to $546,472 for the six months ended June 30, 2002 from $876,849 for the six months ended June 30, 2001. This decrease in expenses was due to management's continuing efforts to reduce costs. The Company incurred marketing and selling expenses in the amount of $68,245 for the six months ended June 30, 2002 compared with $225,756 for the six months ended June 30, 2001.

The Company incurred general and administrative costs in the amount of $478,227 for the six months ended June 30, 2002 compared with $651,093 for the six months ended June 30, 2001. Some of these general and administrative costs included the following: Professional fees in the amount of $21,011 for the six months ended June 30, 2002 compared to $25,468 for the same period in 2001; Salaries and Wages which decreased to $237,526 for the six months ended June 30, 2002, compared with $340,266 for the six months ended June 30, 2001; and Outside Management Consultant costs in the amount of $16,347 for the six months ended June 30, 2002, compared to $188,237 for the six months ended June 30, 2001.

The Company had net losses of $466,396 for the six months ended June 30, 2002, down from $863,227 for the same period ended June 30, 2001. The losses were funded by various financings and short-term loans obtained during the period. Generally, the reduction in net losses was the result of the cost savings realized by the Company's change in marketing focus and its continuing efforts to trim operating expenditures. The loss per share for the six months ended June 30, 2002, was $0.02, down from a loss of $0.06 per share for the same period in 2001.

Edgar Filing: SKINVISIBLE INC - Form 10-Q

During the period ended June 30, 2002 the Company retired and abandoned leasehold improvements and an outdated computer system with an original cost of $64,599 and accumulated depreciation of $64,171 resulting in a net loss of $428.

The Company anticipates that losses will likely continue into the foreseeable future, until sufficient revenues are generated to cover its reduced operating expenditures.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The Company's operations have been financed principally through a combination of private sales of the Company's equity securities and short-term loans.

The Company had cash of $583 as of June 30, 2002, compared to $1,400 as of June 30, 2001. The Company has outstanding loans payable with interest in the amount of $232,622 as of June 30, 2002.

The Company had accounts payable and accrued expenses in the amount of $542,785 as of June 30, 2002, compared to $213,129 as of June 30, 2001. Until revenues increase or the Company receives additional funding, certain creditors and employees have agreed to defer receipt of payments or salaries, respectively. This accounts for the rise in our accounts payable and accrued expenses.

Cash used in operating activities for the six months ended June 30, 2002 decreased to $324,889 down from $753,855 for the six months ended June 30, 2001. This can be mainly attributed to a decrease in the use of outside consultants, a decrease in staffing, and an increase in accounts payable and accrued expenses as outlined in the previous paragraph.

Cash used in investing activities for the six months ended June 30, 2002 and 2001, was $5,471 and $135 respectively.

Future issuances of the Company's equity or debt securities will be required in order for the Company to clear up some of its debt and continue to finance its operations, as the Company's present revenues are insufficient to meet operating expenses. Present revenues have increased slightly due to the Company's re-directed focus of pursuing private label business opportunities, charging product development fees, as well as sales of its polymer delivery systems. The Company will continue with these efforts as well as pursue possible licensing of its delivery systems to established manufacturers in the cosmetic, over-the-counter, and pharmaceutical skincare markets. The Company periodically revises its plan of operations as new situations arise. Over the next six months remaining in the fiscal year ending December 31, 2002, the Company expects to realize approximately $300,000 from operating revenues after deduction of costs of goods sold, and existing cash reserves. These projected revenues are comprised of private label sales of the polymer-based formulations, product development fees, as well as sales of its polymer-based delivery systems or licensing of its polymer-based delivery system technologies. In that same six-month period, the Company anticipates incurring approximately $370,000 in operating expenses. Any revenues that fall short of these projections will need to be raised through additional debt or equity financing.

The Company is presently undertaking a search for additional equity financing in the form of a private placement to cover these anticipated expenses and expected operational losses. The failure to obtain such financing in a timely manner would have a significant negative effect on the future operations and may result in the Company being forced to cease operations.
