This Report on Form 6-K contains a news release issued by Vodafone Group Plc on October 6 2007, entitled "VODAFONE TO ACQUIRE TELE2 S BUSINESSES IN ITALY AND SPAIN".

6 October 2007

VODAFONE TO ACQUIRE TELE2'S BUSINESSES IN ITALY AND SPAIN

Vodafone announces today that it has agreed to acquire Tele2 Italia SpA ("Tele2 Italy") and Tele2 Telecommunication Services SLU ("Tele2 Spain") from Tele2 AB Group for a cash consideration of 775 million (£537 million) on a debt free basis.

Tele2 Italy and Tele2 Spain provide nationwide fixed-line telecommunications and broadband services. Tele2 Italy had over 2.6 million customers as at 30 June 2007, including over 400,000 broadband customers, Tele2 Spain had 550,000 customers as at 30 June 2007, including over 240,000 broadband customers.

Key highlights of the transaction are:

Enables Vodafone to benefit from the attractive, high growth broadband markets in Spain and Italy, as penetration is increasing rapidly

Immediately delivers the infrastructure and broadband expertise necessary for a competitive broadband offering in two of Vodafone's key European markets

Capital expenditure requirements of Tele2 Italy and Tele2 Spain are not expected to materially impact the Group's ongoing capital intensity ratio in its Europe region

Meets Vodafone's stated financial investment criteria and is expected to be broadly neutral to adjusted earnings per share in the first full year after acquisition, excluding the impact of acquired intangible asset amortisation

Commenting on the transaction, Arun Sarin, Chief Executive of Vodafone, said:

Edgar Filing: VODAFONE GROUP PUBLIC LTD CO - Form 6-K

"This acquisition is consistent with our strategy of meeting our customers' total communications needs. It will generate substantial time to market benefits in Italy and Spain, where low broadband penetration and the market structure make ownership of fixed broadband assets attractive. We have now established a clear route to delivering fixed broadband services in each of our major European markets."

Principal benefits

The principal benefits of the transaction are:

Enables Vodafone to benefit from the attractive, high growth broadband markets in Spain and Italy:

Approximately 44% of households in Italy are expected to have broadband services by the end of the year, up from 30% two years ago

Approximately 57% of households in Spain are expected to have broadband services by the end of the year, up from 33% two years ago

Acceleration of Vodafone's total communications strategy in Italy and Spain by immediately delivering the infrastructure and broadband expertise necessary for a competitive DSL offering in two of Vodafone's key European markets

Exploits strong existing platforms in Spain and Italy:

The acquisition of unbundled networks enables Vodafone to benefit from the scale benefits and improved economics of asset ownership

In both countries, Tele2 offers local loop unbundling coverage to major cities, with the remaining nationwide coverage available through resale services

Vodafone plans to substantially increase local loop unbundling coverage within the next 12 months

Integration with existing Vodafone operations will significantly enhance Tele2 Italy and Tele2 Spain through:

Cost synergies arising from the use of existing network operations and infrastructure

Revenue synergies arising from cross-selling existing Vodafone products to the current customer base

Financial impact on Vodafone

The transaction meets Vodafone's stated financial criteria.

The capital expenditure requirement of the acquired businesses is not expected to have a material impact on the Group's ongoing capital intensity ratio in its Europe region.

The transaction is expected to be broadly neutral to adjusted earnings per share in the first full year post acquisition, excluding the impact of acquired intangible asset amortisation. Including this impact, the transaction is expected to be approximately 1.5% dilutive to adjusted earnings per share in the first full year post acquisition.

The transaction is not expected to have a material impact on the Group's 2007/08 outlook statement and will have no impact on the Group's expectations for modest dividend growth in the near term.

Further transaction details

The transaction is expected to close by the end of the calendar year, following the receipt of regulatory approval.
