On February 26, 2013, the Board of Trustees of Commonwealth REIT, or the Company, received two open letters, or the Corvex/Related Letters, from Corvex Management, LP, or Corvex, and Related Fund Management, LLC, or Related, raising various matters, and Corvex and Related filed a Schedule 13D, or the Schedule 13D, with the Securities and Exchange Commission, or the SEC. Among other things, the Corvex/Related Letters demand that the Company terminate this public offering of the Company's common shares, or this Offering, and the Company's previously announced tender offer to purchase for cash up to $450.0 million aggregate principal amount of its outstanding 5.75% Senior Notes due February 15, 2014, 6.40% Senior Notes due February 15, 2015, 5.75% Senior Notes due November 1, 2015 and 6.25% Senior Notes due August 15, 2016, or the Tender Offer. The Schedule 13D and the Corvex/Related Letters referenced in this Free Writing Prospectus were not prepared by the Company, and the Company does not endorse or confirm, and is not responsible for, any of their content. The Schedule 13D and the Corvex/Related Letters are the responsibility of Corvex and Related.

Edgar Filing: Commonwealth REIT - Form FWP

The Company has included a copy of its press release and copies of the Corvex/Related Letters as exhibits to a Current Report on Form 8-K it filed today with the SEC, which is incorporated by reference into the Preliminary Prospectus Supplement and the accompanying prospectus.

In addition, the Company is providing the following additional risk factors for the purpose of updating the risk factor disclosure incorporated by reference into the Preliminary Prospectus Supplement.

The matters described in, arising out of or related to the Schedule 13D or the Corvex/Related Letters create certain risks for the Company and its equity investors.

The matters described in, arising out of or related to the Schedule 13D or the Corvex/Related Letters create certain risks for current and future investors in the Company's common shares. Among other things, Corvex and Related have demanded that the Company terminate this Offering and the Tender Offer, and have stated that they are prepared to file litigation seeking to enjoin this Offering or provide for its rescission in the event that it is completed. After considering the Corvex and Related Documents, our Board of Trustees has determined to proceed with this Offering and the Tender Offer. That decision and any views that may be expressed or actions taken by the Board of Trustees with respect to the matters raised by, described in or related to the Schedule 13D or the Corvex/Related Letters may be negatively received by our shareholders, which could result in negative consequences for the Company and have a material adverse effect on future share prices of the Company's securities. Litigation or arbitration could be costly and could divert the time and attention of the Company's management from the operation of its business. Certain actions by Corvex and Related described in the Schedule 13D or the Corvex/Related Letters could result in a change of control, a change in management and a change in the composition of the Company's Board of Trustees, and could give rise to defaults under numerous of the Company's agreements, including its revolving credit facility, term loan and other debt agreements. Further, investors should not necessarily assume that the actions by Corvex and Related are an indication that they, or any other party, will seek to acquire us now or in the future or that any actions or proposed actions described by Corvex and Related in the Schedule 13D or the Corvex/Related Letters will be taken, and investors should not necessarily ascribe incremental value to our shares as a result of the possibility of such actions. On February 25, 2013, the day before the Schedule 13D was filed by Corvex and Related, the last reported sales price of the Company's common shares on the New York Stock Exchange was $15.85 per share.

The actions taken by the Company's Board of Trustees with respect to the matters described in, arising out of or related to the Schedule 13D or the Corvex/Related Letters may provoke dissident shareholder activities that result in significant costs and have other material adverse effects.

The actions taken by the Company's Board of Trustees with respect to the matters described in, arising out of or related to the Schedule 13D or the Corvex/Related Letters could provoke shareholder litigation or arbitrations, dissident shareholder trustee nominations or dissident shareholder proposals and result in the substantial decline in the market price of the Company's common shares. These activities, if instituted against the Company, could result in substantial costs and a diversion of its management's attention that could have a material adverse effect on the Company and the market price of its common shares.
