Proxy Advisory Firms Glass Lewis and Egan-Jones Join ISS in Recommending EQT Shareholders Vote FOR the Pending Acquisition of Rice Energy

PITTSBURGH October 31, 2017 EQT Corporation (NYSE: EQT), today announced that Glass Lewis & Co. (Glass Lewis) and Egan-Jones Rating Company (Egan-Jones), independent proxy advisory firms, have recommended that EQT shareholders vote FOR the pending transaction with Rice Energy Inc. (NYSE: RICE). A similar announcement by Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS), another independent proxy advisor, also recommended that EQT shareholders support the transaction by voting the WHITE proxy card.

In making its recommendation, Glass Lewis stated(1):

Overall, we see no reason to doubt the strategic rationale for the proposed transaction, which is supported by compelling industry logic and opportunities to achieve meaningful synergies and economies of scale, in our view.

In addition, the transaction would create what is expected to be the largest natural gas producer in the U.S., with 2017E pro forma combined production of approximately 1.3 trillion cubic feet. We expect the combined company's broader portfolio of producing wells and development assets would provide greater operational and asset diversification as well as potential scale benefits. The transaction would also provide additional scale to the midstream business and could put EQT in a better position to address its sum-of-the-parts discount following completion, in our view.

Edgar Filing: Rice Energy Inc. - Form 425

we believe the proposed transaction is strategically compelling and financially acceptable from the perspective of EQT and its shareholders. The combined company would have greater scale with a more attractive asset base and acreage footprint, providing opportunities to achieve meaningful capital efficiencies and operating synergies, in our view.

In its report, Egan-Jones stated(1):

The fact that the merger transaction is a result of thorough evaluation of strategic alternatives and valuation, we believe that the merger consideration is will [sic] bring accretive returns and is financially and substantially fair to the Company and its shareholders.

(1) Permission to use quotations neither sought nor obtained.

Edgar Filing: Rice Energy Inc. - Form 425

Rice's business complements EQT's, which we believe will better position the combined companies in the natural gas industry, thereby creating synergies, low cost products and operational efficiency, that will help fix EQT's large sum-of-the-parts discount.

We believe that EQT will benefit from Rice's large asset base and that the consummation of the merger will capture investment opportunities for the combined companies.

EQT recommends that all shareholders follow the unanimous recommendation of the Board by voting the WHITE proxy card FOR all agenda items.

Shareholders with questions about how to vote their shares may call the Company's proxy solicitor, Innisfree M&A Incorporated, at (877) 717-3930 (toll-free in the U.S. and Canada) or (412) 232-3651 (from other locations).
