Safe Harbor Statement under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995

Information included in this Form 8-K may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). This information may involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the Company's actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by any forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements, which involve assumptions and describe the Company's future plans, strategies and expectations, are generally identifiable by use of the words "may," "will," "should," "expect," "anticipate," "estimate," "believe," "intend" or "project" or the negative of these words or other variations on these words or comparable terminology. These forward-looking statements are based on assumptions that may be incorrect, and there can be no assurance that these projections included in these forward-looking statements will come to pass. The Company's actual results could differ materially from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements as a result of various factors. Except as required by applicable laws, the Company undertakes no obligation to update publicly any forward-looking statements for any reason, even if new information becomes available or other events occur in the future.

Item 8.01 Other Events

On January 2, 2008, QuikByte Software, Inc. ("Company"), a Colorado corporation, effective as of December 21, 2007, terminated its letter of intent to acquire Tcomt China Limited, a Hong Kong registered corporation ("Tcomt"). The Company did not believe that the conditions to the transaction would be met by the parties within the proposed time line required by Tcomt to achieve the initial stages of its business plan.

The Company is currently a "shell company" with nominal assets and operations whose sole business has been to identify, evaluate and investigate various companies with the intent that, if such investigation warrants, a reverse merger transaction be negotiated and completed pursuant to which the Company would acquire a target company with an operating business with the intent of continuing the acquired company's business as a publicly held entity. The Company will continue to seek an acquisition candidate that meets its overall business objectives.
