The Amendment (1) increases the amount permitted for acquisitions and certain investments by the Company from $150 million to $400 million, (2) provides the Company with the additional flexibility to repurchase up to $150 million of its common stock and warrants, and (3) increases the amount permitted for the Company's capital expenditures in each fiscal year. The Amendment also expands the borrowing base of the Credit Facility to include certain additional real estate holdings. In addition, the Amendment clarifies certain regulatory issues and expands certain representations and covenants of the Company, none of which are expected to impact the Company's financial flexibility.
