PART III NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

Ansell Limited is a Foreign Private Issuer that lodges an Annual Report on Form 20-F with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). That filing is due to be lodged by 30 December 2005. Ansell sauditor, KPMG, has informed Ansell that the lodgement date will not be achieved, but that the lodgement will be achieved by the end of the permitted fifteen day extension period specified in Rule 12b-25(b).

At 30 June 2005, Ansell has significant unbooked tax losses in the group for which no Deferred Tax Asset has been recognised and accordingly, no adjustment was recognised in the AGAAP to USGAAP reconciliation in the draft Form 20-F for the year ended 30 June 2005. Consistent with its Form 20-F for the year end 30 June 2004, management maintain that based on the relative lack of historic evidence and other uncertainties around future results, it is less likely than not, that these losses will be recouped and accordingly have not recognised a Deferred Tax Asset.

This position had been accepted by KPMG Melbourne, however in its internal review, KPMG s US Capital Markets group formed the view that because of recent improvement in profitability there is not currently sufficient documented negative evidence to support this assumption and accordingly management have been requested to prepare a detailed analysis to support their assumption.

Because of the late notification of this request and the difficult logistics involved in collating and completing this analysis, management are not certain that, without unreasonable effort and expense, they will be able to make the information available to KPMG for review in time to enable the prescribed filing date to be met.

To ensure that the analysis is completed appropriately it is felt prudent to submit a Form 12b-25 notification of late filing to the SEC advising that Ansell s 20-F will not be filed by the prescribed date 30 December 2005, but will be filed within the allowed grace period on or before the fifteenth calendar day following the prescribed due date.
