EXPLANATORY NOTE

This Annual Report on Form 20-F/A is being filed as Amendment No. 1, dated February 7, 2007, to the Annual Report on Form 20-F filed on December 28, 2006, in order to:

(1) Amend Item 10 B. Memorandum and Articles of Association Compliance with NASDAQ listing standards on corporate governance to incorporate the information set forth below on home country corporate governance practice.

The remainder of the original filing is unchanged and is not reproduced in this Form 20-F/A. This report speaks as of the original filing date and, except as indicated, has not been updated to reflect events occurring subsequent to the original filing date.

NASDAQ Standards for U.S. companies Rule 4350(c)(1) - Majority of Independent Directors.

Rule 4350(c)(3) - Compensation of Officers.

CRESUD S CORPORATE PRACTICES

In lieu of the requirements of Rule 4350(c)(1), we follow Argentine law which does not require that a majority of the board of directors be comprised of independent directors. Argentine law instead requires that public companies in Argentina, such as the Company, must have a sufficient number of independent directors to be able to form an audit committee of at least three members, the majority of which must be independent pursuant to the criteria established by the Comisión Nacional de Valores.

In lieu of the requirements of Rule 4350(c)(3), we follow Argentine law which does not require companies to form a compensation committee comprised solely of independent directors. For the determination of the compensation of the chief executive officer, and all other executive officers, no decision of a majority of independent directors or a compensation committee comprised solely of independent directors is required under Argentine law. Under Argentine law, the board of directors is the corporate body responsible for determining the compensation of the chief executive officer, and all other executive officers, so long as they are not directors. In addition, under Argentine law, the audit committee shall provide its opinion on the reasonableness of management s proposals on fees and option plans for directors or managers of the Company.
