Item 5.02 Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

(b) and (c). On June 15, 2007, the Board of Directors of Trans-India Acquisition Corporation (the Company) appointed Cliff Haigler as Chief Financial Officer of the Company, effective June 15, 2007. Cliff Haigler, CFA, age 51, has served and continues to serve as the President of Haigler Investments, a consulting services firm to various corporations in a range of industries since 1995. Mr. Haigler has served and continues to serve as the Chief Financial Officer of Business Ventures Corp, a special situations venture capital firm since 1995. From 1995 through present, Mr. Haigler, in his capacity as President of Haigler Investments and Chief Financial Officer of Business Ventures Corp., has worked on numerous transactions involving initial public offerings, acquisitions and consolidations. From August 2005 to April of 2006, Mr. Haigler served as the Chief Financial Officer of Digital Music Group, Inc. from formation through the initial public offering on NASDAQ. Mr. Haigler was also a co-founder of Digital Music Group, Inc. From October 2004 to August 2005, Mr. Haigler was Senior Vice President of Strategic Business Development for Mphasis Corporation, one of India's largest public outsourcing firms serving Fortune 500 clients. From February 2004 to September 2004, Mr. Haigler was Chief Financial Officer of Steve and Barry's University Sportswear, a national apparel retailer. From 1996 through 2000, Mr. Haigler served as a member of the group responsible for the creation and private financing of Centerprise Advisors (now called UHY Advisors), a company formed through the combination of several private accounting and related service companies creating the thirteenth largest accounting firm in the United States. From March of 1997 through February of 1998, Mr. Haigler served as a member of the group responsible for the creation and public financing of Quanta Services, Inc. a company formed through the combination of several private utility infrastructure contractors, which is listed on the New York Stock Exchange. From 1985 to 1995, Mr. Haigler served as an Equity Securities Analyst for securities broker-dealers and money management firms in Houston, Texas and Boston, Massachusetts. Mr. Haigler holds a BA degree in Finance from the University of Texas at Austin and an MBA degree from the Harvard Business School.

On June 15, 2007, the Company, Johnson and Colmar, Haigler Investments and Mr. Haigler entered into a contractor agreement whereby Johnson and Colmar retained Haigler Investments as an independent contractor for Mr. Haigler, on behalf of Haigler Investments, to perform certain financial services and act as Chief Financial Officer and principal financial and accounting officer of the Company. The services performed by Haigler Investments under the contractor agreement will be paid by Johnson and Colmar pursuant to its existing office services agreement with the Company dated July 28, 2006. Mr. Haigler will not receive any compensation directly from the Company for his services.

Mr. Haigler will assume the role of principal financial and accounting officer of the Company, effective June 15, 2007, from Craig Colmar, the Company's Treasurer and Secretary.

On June 15, 2007, the Company announced the appointment of Cliff Haigler as Chief Financial Officer and principal financial officer and principal accounting officer of the Company. The press release is attached to this report as Exhibit 99.1 and incorporated into this Item 5.02 by reference.
