FUND DISTRIBUTIONS AND MANAGED DISTRIBUTION PLAN

The Fund has a Managed Distribution Plan to pay 10% of the Fund's net asset value on an annualized basis. Distributions may represent earnings from net investment income, realized capital gains, or, if necessary, return of capital. The board believes that regular monthly, fixed cash payouts will enhance shareholder value and serve the long-term interests of shareholders. You should not draw any conclusions about the Fund's investment performance from the amount of the distributions or from the terms of the Fund's Managed Distribution Plan.

The Fund estimates that it has distributed more than its income and net realized capital gains in the fiscal year to date; therefore, a portion of your distributions may be a return of capital. A return of capital may occur, for example, when some or all of the money that you invested in the Fund is paid back to you. A return of capital distribution does not necessarily reflect the Fund's investment performance and should not be confused with "yield" or "income".

The amounts and sources of distributions reported in Section 19(a) notices of the 1940 Act are only estimates and are not being provided for tax reporting purposes. The actual amounts and sources of the amounts for tax reporting purposes will depend upon the Fund's investment experience during the remainder of its fiscal year and may be subject to changes based on tax regulations. The

Edgar Filing: ZWEIG TOTAL RETURN FUND INC - Form N-CSR

Fund will send shareholders a Form 1099-DIV for the calendar year that will tell you how to report distributions for federal income tax purposes.

The Board may amend, suspend or terminate the Managed Distribution Plan at any time, without prior notice to shareholders if it deems such action to be in the best interest of the Fund and its shareholders.

Information on the Zweig funds is available at www.Virtus.com. Section 19(a) notices are posted on the website at:

MARKET OVERVIEW AND OUTLOOK

Pounded by successive barrages of negative economic news, the stock markets in 2008 suffered their worst year since the Great Depression. The Dow Jones Industrial Average slumped 33.8%/(1)/, its biggest downturn since the 52.7%/(1)/ debacle in 1931. Doing no better, the S&P 500 was down 38.5%/(1)/, matching its 38.6%/(1)/ decline in 1937. The record S&P 500 loss was 47.1%/(1)/ in 1931. The NASDAQ Composite, created in 1971, posted its biggest drop ever, plummeting 40.5%/(1)/, topping its 39.3%/(1)/ tumble in 2000 after the tech-stock bubble burst.

There were no safe havens outside the U.S. The Dow Jones Stoxx index of Europe's 600 largest companies sank 46%/(1)/ in 2008, the largest annual decline in its 22-year history, lowering values to early 1997 levels. Britain's FTSE 100 Index slid 31.3%/(1)/, a record drop since the index was formed in 1984. Germany's DAX stumbled 40.4%/(1)/ Asia also was hit hard, with the MSCI Asia-Pacific Index off 43%/(1)/. Japan's Nikkei stock average of 225 companies fell 42.1%/(1)/ and China's benchmark Shanghai Composite Index collapsed 65.4%/(1)/

The weakness in the markets reflects the fact that the U.S. remains mired in a recession. The National Bureau of Economic Research, the government-sponsored recession designator and scorekeeper, reported that our current recession began in December 2007. Only two recessions have endured longer than the current one --those ending in 1975 and 1983, each lasting eleven months. If this recession persists through April, it would be the longest recession since the 43-month downturn that ended in 1933.

Managed Distribution Plan: The Fund has a policy to distribute 10% of its net asset value annually. Please see the inside front cover for more details.

As the impact of the recession spread, the nation's unemployment rate jumped from 6.8% in November to 7.2% in December, a 16-year high, according to the Labor Department. More than 524,000 jobs were lost in December, bringing the total for 2008 to 2.6 million. At 7.2%, the rate is the highest since 1993, while last year's job loss was the greatest since 1945.

In a move to stimulate the economy, the Federal Reserve (the "Fed") cut its benchmark interest rate to a historic low of zero to 0.25% at its December meeting. In notes released after the meeting, the Fed foresaw a deep contraction in the first half of 2009 and slow growth in the second half that would not make up for the losses. Some officials expressed concern that the reduction in stock and housing wealth, combined with the global economic contraction, could lead to a longer and deeper recession than previously predicted. As a result, the Fed's staff said the unemployment rate was likely to rise significantly into 2010. After citing the numerous problems, the Fed promised "to employ all available tools to promote the resumption of sustainable economic growth and to provide price stability."

The Fed and the Treasury have already done a great deal but there is little evidence so far that the credit squeeze is loosening. Setting up the Troubled Assets Relief Program and drawing on the $700 billion rescue package approved by Congress, the government has already doled out hundreds of millions to the financial and automotive industries. Furthermore, it is reported that the Obama administration will seek an economic stimulus package of at least $825 billion, including a $300 billion tax cut.

While the monetary infusion is growing, the economy is moribund. The broken-bubble housing market that ignited the financial implosion continues to weaken. The Commerce Department reported that housing starts fell to 625,000 units in November, an 18.9% drop from October and 47% under the year-ago figure. Meanwhile, the sales of previously owned homes tumbled 13% in November from a year earlier, the sharpest decline in more than 40 years, according to the National Association of Realtors.

Similar reports are coming in from the manufacturing sector. The Institute for Supply Management said that its index of manufacturing activity in December sank to the lowest level in 28 years. With a number below 50 indicating contraction, the December figure was 32.4, down from 36 in the previous month. It was the lowest rating since 30.36 in June 1980.

In another confirmation of the economy's deterioration, the Fed reported that industrial production declined 0.6% in November. Capacity utilization dipped to 75.4% in November from 76% in October. New orders for durable goods --products expected to last at least three years --were also off in November, slipping 1% to $186.9 billion, according to the Commerce Department. New orders had fallen 8.4% in October. Earlier the Commerce Department reported that the U.S. gross domestic product slid 0.5% in the third quarter, the steepest drop since 2001.

The U.S. trade deficit increased to $57.2 billion in October from $56.6 billion in September, according to the Commerce Department. October exports of $151.7 billion were $3.4 billion below September's $155.1 billion. Imports of $208.9 billion in October were $2.7 billion less than September's total of $211.6 billion. The stronger dollar may have been a factor in the drop in exports. In 2008 the dollar strengthened 4.5% against the Euro, 36% against the British pound and 22% against the Canadian dollar. As the major exception, the dollar slipped 16% against the Japanese yen.

Largely as a result of the steep decline in gasoline and fuel oil costs, consumer prices fell 1.7% in November, the deepest decline since the Labor Department began keeping track in 1947. The core rate of inflation, excluding volatile food and energy, was flat for the month. While this price stability indicates that inflation is in check, it brought concerns that deflation might be looming. There has not been a serious period of deflation since the 1930s. However, we are very concerned about the prospect. Based on the sharp declines in bond yields, it seems that the market expects deflation or something very close to it.

With the business news so bleak, there was little surprise when the Conference Board reported that the overall consumer confidence in December fell to its lowest level on record. Only 6.2% of Americans said that business conditions were good and 6.2% said jobs were plentiful, down from 23.6% a year ago.

The softness in the economy has virtually shut down the market for initial public offerings ("IPOs"). In the U.S., 33 companies went public in 2008, raising $26.2 billion, according to Dealogic. This compares with 183 offerings that raised $42.7 billion in 2007. Globally, the number of IPOs totaled 663, raising $76.4 billion against 1,708 offerings that raised $272.1 billion in 2007. The global number of offerings was the lowest since Dealogic began keeping score in 1995 and the money raised was the least since 2003. At this writing, conditions for the IPOs are horrendous and there seems little likelihood of a recovery soon.

Mergers and acquisitions continued to suffer from tight credit conditions. Not counting government-sponsored deals, domestic M&A activity in the fourth quarter dropped 5.3% from a year earlier to $115 billion, the worst quarter in six years, according to Dealogic. Spending $280 billion, the government obtained 20 of the 25 largest deals. Globally the number of deals declined 24% to 6,371, while volume dropped 38 % to $585 billion. For 2008, global volume was down 24% to $3.06 trillion, about equal to the 2005 total. Looking to the future, cash deals will be harder and leveraged buyouts will be virtually non-existent. However, there will always be mergers and acquisitions. Some companies will be so beaten down that they will be considered cheap enough to be bought by another company.

Demonstrating the severity of the recession, U.S. corporate profits are estimated to have fallen again in the fourth quarter of 2008, marking the sixth consecutive quarterly decline, according to Bloomberg News. That would make it the longest quarterly slump since 1988. Earnings of companies in the S&P 500 probably dropped an average of 11.9% in the quarter from a year earlier according to the agency. Analysts forecast that the downward streak would reach eight quarters, with a 10.3% fall in the first quarter of 2009 and a 5.8% dip in the second quarter.

At the year-end, companies in the S&P 500 were trading at 18.8 times earnings, with the ratio rising to 19.6 in the first week of 2009. This compares with P/Es of 22.9 on September 30, 2008 and 19.0 at the end of 2007. If you consider a very broad band of so-called fair value, we believe the current numbers are in the upper range, but not necessarily overvalued. They are not undervalued either, but if current conditions continue, P/E ratios may become undervalued.

Despite the market's weakness, a majority of analysts surveyed by Investors Intelligence were optimistic. Early in 2009 there were 42% bulls and 34% bears compared with 35% bulls and 38% bears at the year-end. Interestingly, members of the American Institute of Individual Investors were more bearish than the analysts. Individual investors were 29% bulls and 44% bears in early 2009 against 30% bulls and 50% bears at the end of 2008. These figures have been so volatile lately that it is hard to put any stock in them.

Right now our equity indicators look bullish but we don't trust them because we have not seen an economy like this since the 1930s. If you change the entire economic environment, as has happened, the traditional indicators don't work. For example, lower interest rates are usually bullish. Now the rates have gone down to zero and look where we are.

Our exposure to U.S. common stocks was 38% on December 31, 2008, unchanged from our position at the end of the third quarter. If we were fully invested our portfolio would be 50% in equities and 50% in bonds. Consequently, at 38%, we are at about 76% of a full position (38/50).

The Fund's bond exposure at the year-end was 42%, with average duration, (a measure of sensitivity to interest rates) of 3.1 years. With the close of the third quarter, our bond exposure was 31%, with an average duration unchanged at 3.1 years at 42% in bonds, we are at about 84% of a full position (42/50).

Amid all the headline-making economic news during 2008, relatively little attention was paid to the remarkable performance of Treasury bonds. Yields on the benchmark 10-year Treasury note fell from 4.02% at the beginning of the year to 2.21% at the end of December 2008. (Bond prices move in the opposite direction from yields.) The only major asset class with positive performance (other than cash) was Treasury bonds. As investors shunned risk, they sold stocks of every description as well as corporate bonds. They also liquidated holdings in commodities and real estate. The one safe haven was Treasury bonds.

As mentioned earlier, The Fed cut its overnight federal funds rate from 4.25% at the start of the year to the unprecedented level of between 0 and 0.25%. As a result, the Fed, for all practical purposes, has a zero interest rate policy for overnight inter-bank loans. This is similar to what occurred in Japan in the mid to late nineties.

Edgar Filing: ZWEIG TOTAL RETURN FUND INC - Form N-CSR

Fueling the interest rate cuts and the flight to Treasuries was a massive slowdown in the economy, a total collapse in commodities that eased inflation concerns, and a meltdown of the worldwide banking system. The forced liquidation of Bear Stearns, which many felt would mark the lows in yields, turned out to have been just the beginning.

The list of collapsed institutions is long but the most astounding included AIG, Wachovia, Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac, and Lehman Brothers. As failure became a truly scary but real possibility for a number of financial institutions, the panic sent investors to the last perceived bastion of true credit safety: the U.S. Government.

While there is plenty of blame for the weakened state of many commercial and investment banks, we believe a stellar role was played by a new derivative contract known as a credit-default swap ("CDS"). Essentially an insurance policy on the solvency of the bond issuer, it allowed a bond holder to hedge against default. Soon speculators entered the market to play the credit spread. Eventually, this market ballooned and burst, with even issuers of CDSs going bankrupt. As the consequences of the collapse came to life in tandem with the housing market free-fall, a plunging stock market and oil prices collapsing by over $100 a barrel, holders of Treasury bonds were happy investors.

In late Spring and early Fall as commodity prices were soaring, inflation concerns were pervasive. However, only months later, by mid-Fall, the growing fear of deflation further powered the Treasuries to their biggest monthly gains since the early Reagan years.

While we did make certain moves during the year, we never deviated from our policy of not including any credit exposure from outside the U.S. Government in our bond portfolio. Although we had a relatively modest duration for the overall portfolio, the bonds we did own helped the performance of the fund dramatically. In the late Fall we added some Treasury Inflation Protected Securities (TIPS) as yields on this particular series surged. At present, we see a great deal of medium to longer-term value in this area.

Sincerely,

Glossary

American Depositary Receipt (ADR): Represents shares of foreign companies traded in U.S. dollars on U.S. exchanges that are held by a bank or a trust. Foreign companies use ADRs in order to make it easier for Americans to buy their shares.

Benchmark Index for The Zweig Total Return Fund: A composite index consisting of 50% Barclays Capital U.S. Government Bond Index (formerly Lehman Brothers Government Bond Index) and 50% S&P 500(R) Index.

Consumer Price Index (CPI): Measures the pace of inflation by measuring the change in consumer prices of goods and services, including housing, electricity, food, and transportation, as determined by a monthly survey of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Also called the cost-of-living index.

Credit Default Swap (CDS): A swap designed to transfer the credit exposure of fixed income products between parties. The buyer of a credit swap receives credit protection, whereas the seller of the swap guarantees the credit worthiness of the product. By doing this, the risk of default is transferred from the holder of the fixed income security to the seller of the swap.

Deflation: A general decline in prices, if it persists, generally creates a vicious spiral of negatives such as falling profits, closing factories, shrinking employment and incomes, and increasing defaults on loans by companies and individuals. To counter deflation, the Federal Reserve (the Fed) can use monetary policy to increase the money supply and deliberately induce rising prices, causing inflation.

Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/: A price-weighted average of 30 blue chip stocks. The index is calculated on a total return basis with dividends reinvested.

Duration: A measure of a fixed income fund's sensitivity to interest rate changes. For example, if a fund's duration is 5 years, a 1% increase in interest rates would result in a 5% decline in the fund's price. Similarly, a 1% decline in interest rates would result in a 5% gain in the fund's price.

Federal funds rate: The interest rate charged on overnight loans of reserves by one financial institution to another in the United States. The federal funds rate is the most sensitive indicator of the direction of interest rates since it is set daily by the market.

(1) Closing Price -- New York Stock Exchange.

(2) Total investment return is calculated assuming a purchase of a share of the Fund's common stock at the opening NYSE share price on the first business day and a sale at the closing NYSE share price on the last business day of each period reported. Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed for the purpose of this calculation, to be reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's Automatic Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan. Generally, total investment return based on net asset value will be higher than total investment return based on market value in periods where there is an increase in the discount or a decrease in the premium of the market value to the net assets from the beginning to the end of such periods. Conversely, total investment return based on net asset value will be lower than total investment return based on market value in periods where there is a decrease in the discount or an increase in the premium of the market value to the net asset value from the beginning to the end of such periods.

(3) Computed using average shares outstanding.

(4) Shares were sold at a 5% discount from a 5-day average market price from 5/14/07 to 5/18/07.

- (5) Total investment return includes the dilutive effect of the rights offering. Without this effect, the total investment return would have been (13.82)%.
- (6) Amount is less than $0.005.
- (7) NAV return is calculated using the opening Net Asset Value price of the Fund's common stock on the first business day and the closing Net Asset Value price of the Fund's common stock on the last business day of each period reported. Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed for the purpose of this calculation, to be reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's Automatic Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan.

THE ZWEIG TOTAL RETURN FUND, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2008

NOTE 1 -- ORGANIZATION

The Zweig Total Return Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") is a closed-end, diversified management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "Act"). The Fund was incorporated under the laws of the State of Maryland on July 21, 1988. The Fund's investment objective is to seek the highest total return, consisting of capital appreciation and current income, consistent with the preservation of capital.

NOTE 2 -- SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principals generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

A. Security Valuation:

Equity securities are valued at the official closing price (typically last sale) on the exchange on which the securities are primarily traded, or if no closing price is available, at the last bid price.

Debt securities are valued on the basis of broker quotations or valuations provided by a pricing service, which utilizes information with respect to recent sales, market transactions in comparable securities, quotations from dealers, and various relationships between securities in determining value.

As required, some securities and other assets may be valued at fair value as determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Directors.

Certain foreign common stocks may be fair valued in cases where closing prices are not readily available or are deemed not reflective of readily available market prices. For example, significant events (such as movement in the U.S. securities market, or other regional and local developments) may occur between the time that foreign markets close (where the security is principally traded) and the time that the Fund calculates its net asset value (generally, the close of the NYSE) that may impact the value of securities traded in these foreign markets. In these cases, information from an external vendor may be utilized to adjust closing market prices of certain foreign common stocks to reflect their fair value. Because the frequency of significant events is not predictable, fair valuation of certain foreign common stocks may occur on a frequent basis.

Short-term investments having a remaining maturity of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market.

The Fund has adopted the provisions of the Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157 (SFAS 157) as of the beginning of the current fiscal period of the Fund. This standard clarifies the definition of fair value for financial reporting, establishes a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosures about the use of fair value measurements. To increase consistency and comparability in fair value measurements and related disclosures, the Fund utilizes a fair value hierarchy which prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value into three broad levels:

- . Level 1 -- quoted prices in active markets for identical securities
- . Level 2 -- prices determined using other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.)
- . Level 3 -- prices determined using significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

The following is a summary of the inputs used to value the Fund's net assets as of December 31, 2008. The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

Valuation Inputs	Investments in Securities
Assets:
Level 1 -- Quoted Prices.....	$176,367,493
Level 2 -- Other Significant Observable Inputs.....	280,558,605
Level 3 -- Significant Unobservable Inputs.....	--
Total.....	$456,926,098 =====

B. Security Transactions and Related Income:

Security transactions are recorded on the trade date. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date, or in the case of certain foreign securities, as soon as the Fund is notified. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. The Fund amortizes premiums and accretes discounts using the effective interest method. Realized gains and losses are determined on the identified cost basis.

C. Income Taxes:

It is the policy of the Fund to comply with the requirements of Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code and to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to its shareholders. Therefore, no provision for federal income taxes or excise taxes has been made.

The Fund may be subject to foreign taxes on income, gains on investments or currency repatriation, a portion of which may be recoverable. The Fund will accrue such taxes and recoveries as applicable based upon current interpretations of the tax rules and regulations that exist in the markets in which it invests.

FASB Interpretation No. 48, ("FIN 48") Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, sets forth a minimum threshold for financial statement recognition of the benefit of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. Management has analyzed the Fund's tax positions and has concluded that no provision for income tax is required in the Fund's financial statements. The Fund is not aware of any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of unrecognized tax benefits will significantly change in the next twelve months. However, management's conclusions regarding the adoption of FIN 48 may be subject to review and adjustment at a later date based on factors including, but not limited to, further implementation guidance from the FASB, new tax laws, regulations and administrative interpretations (including court decisions). Each of the Fund's federal tax returns for the prior three fiscal years remains subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service.

D. Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders:

Distributions are recorded by the Fund on the ex-dividend date. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences may include the treatment of non-taxable dividends, market premium and discount, non-deductible expenses, expiring capital loss carryovers, foreign currency gain or loss, operating losses and losses deferred due to wash sales. Permanent book and tax basis differences relating to shareholder distributions will result in reclassifications to capital paid in on shares of beneficial interest. As of December 31, 2008, the Fund increased undistributed net investment income by $36,483,956, decreased the accumulated net realized loss by $849,692, and decreased capital paid in on shares of beneficial interest by $37,333,648.

Under current tax law, foreign currency and capital losses realized after October 31 may be deferred and treated as occurring on the first day of the following fiscal year. For the fiscal year ended December 31, 2008, the Fund deferred $98,885 of post-October losses.

The components of distributable earnings on a tax basis (excluding unrealized appreciation (depreciation) which is disclosed in the Schedule of Investments) consist of undistributed ordinary income of $0 and undistributed long-term capital gains of $0.

Edgar Filing: ZWEIG TOTAL RETURN FUND INC - Form N-CSR

For the fiscal year (the "period") ended December 31, 2008, the Fund utilized losses deferred in prior years of $4,861,360.

In addition, under certain conditions, the Fund may lose the benefit of these losses to the extent that distributions to shareholders exceed required distribution amounts as defined under the Internal Revenue Code. Shareholders may also pay additional taxes on these excess distributions.

E. Foreign Currency Translation:

Foreign securities and other assets and liabilities are valued using the foreign currency exchange rate effective at the end of the reporting period. Cost of investments is translated at the currency exchange rate effective at the trade date. The gain or loss resulting from a change in currency exchange rates between the trade and settlement dates of a portfolio transaction is treated as a gain or loss on foreign currency. Likewise, the gain or loss resulting from a change in currency exchange rates between the date income is accrued and paid is treated as a gain or loss on foreign currency. The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations arising from changes in exchange rates and that portion arising from changes in the market prices of securities.

F. Foreign Security Country Determination:

A combination of the following criteria is used to assign the countries of risk listed in the Schedule of Investments: country of incorporation, actual building address, primary exchange on which the security is traded and country in which the greatest percentage of company revenue is generated.

G. Short Sales:

A short sale is a transaction in which the Fund sells a security it does not own in anticipation of a decline in market price. To sell a security short, the Fund must borrow the security. The Fund's obligation to replace the security borrowed and sold short will be fully collateralized at all times by the proceeds from the short sale retained by the broker and by cash and securities deposited in a segregated account with the Fund's custodian. If the price of the security sold short increases between the time of the short sale and the time the Fund replaces the borrowed security, the Fund will realize a loss, and if the price declines during the period, the Fund will realize a gain. Any realized gain will be decreased, and any realized loss increased, by the amount of transaction costs. On ex-dividend date, dividends on short sales are recorded as an expense to the Fund. The collateral includes the deposits with the broker for securities held short and the value of the segregated investments held long. Short selling used in the management of the Fund may accelerate the velocity of potential losses if the prices of securities sold short appreciate quickly. Stocks purchased may decline in value at the same time stocks sold short may appreciate in value, thereby increasing potential losses.

At December 31, 2008, there were no securities sold short.

H. Security Lending:

Edgar Filing: ZWEIG TOTAL RETURN FUND INC - Form N-CSR

The Fund may loan securities to qualified brokers through an agreement with State Street Bank and Trust Company (the "Custodian"). Under the terms of agreement, the Fund is required to maintain collateral with a market value not less than 100% of the market value of loaned securities. Collateral is adjusted daily in connection with changes in the market value of securities on loan. Collateral may consist of cash, securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. Government or its agencies, sovereign debt of foreign countries and/or irrevocable letters of credit issued by banks. Cash collateral is invested in a short-term money market fund. Dividends earned on the collateral and premiums paid by the broker are recorded as income by the Fund net of fees and rebates charged by the Custodian for its services in connection with this securities lending program. Lending portfolio securities involves a risk of delay in the recovery of the loaned securities or in the foreclosure on collateral.

At December 31, 2008, the Fund had no securities on loan.

NOTE 4 -- INVESTMENT ADVISORY FEES AND OTHER TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES

At end of business December 31, 2008, Virtus Investment Partners, Inc. ("Virtus") spun off from The Phoenix Companies, Inc., into an independent publicly traded company. Virtus is the holding company for various asset management subsidiaries, including Zweig Advisers, LLC (the "Adviser", formerly known as Phoenix/Zweig Advisers LLC) and VP Distributors, Inc. ("VP Distributors", formerly known as Phoenix Equity Planning Corporation). Due to the spin-off, the asset management subsidiaries have changed their names.

a) Investment Advisory Fee: The Investment Advisory Agreement (the "Agreement") between the Adviser and the Fund provides that, subject to the direction of the Board of Directors of the Fund and the applicable provisions of the Act, the adviser is responsible for the actual management of the Fund's portfolio. The responsibility for making decisions to buy, sell, or hold a particular investment rests with the Adviser, subject to review by the Board of

Directors and the applicable provisions of the Act. For the services provided by the Adviser under the Agreement, the Fund pays the Adviser a monthly fee equal, on an annual basis to 0.70% of the Fund's average daily net assets. During the year ended December 31, 2008, the Fund incurred advisory fees of $3,621,383.

Zweig Consulting LLC (the "Sub-Adviser"), which serves as the Sub-Adviser for the Fund, performs certain asset allocation research and analysis and provides such advice to the Adviser. The Sub-Adviser's fees are paid by the Adviser.

b) Administration Fee: VP Distributors serves as the Fund's Administrator (the "Administrator") pursuant to an Administration Agreement. The Administrator receives a fee for financial reporting, tax services, and oversight of the subagents' performance at a rate of 0.065% of the Fund's average daily net assets. During the year ended December 31, 2008, the Fund incurred Administration fees of $336,271.

c) Directors Fee: During the period the Fund paid each Director who is not an interested person of the Fund or the Adviser a fee of $11,000 per year plus $1,500 per Directors' or committee meeting attended, together with the out-of-pocket costs relating to attendance at such meetings. The Audit Committee chairperson was paid an additional fee of $5,000. Any Director of the Fund who is an interested person of the Fund or the Adviser receives no remuneration from the Fund.

NOTE 5 -- INDEMNIFICATIONS

Under the Fund's organizational documents and related agreements, its directors and officers are indemnified against certain liabilities arising out of the performance of their duties to the Fund. In addition, the Fund enters into contracts that contain a variety of indemnifications. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown. However, the Fund has not had prior claims or losses pursuant to these arrangements.

NOTE 6 -- CAPITAL STOCK AND REINVESTMENT PLAN

At December 31, 2008, the Fund had one class of common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of which 500,000,000 shares are authorized and 114,594,744 shares are outstanding.

Registered shareholders may elect to have all distributions paid by check mailed directly to the shareholder by Computershare as dividend paying agent. Pursuant to the Automatic Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan (the "Plan"), shareholders not making such election will have all such amounts automatically reinvested by Computershare, as the Plan agent, in whole or fractional shares of the Fund, as the case may be. During the years ended December 31, 2008 and 2007, 0 and 552,046 shares, respectively, were issued pursuant to the Plan.

NOTE 7 -- CREDIT RISK AND ASSET CONCENTRATIONS

In countries with limited or developing markets, investments may present greater risks than in more developed markets and the prices of such investments may be volatile. The consequences of political, social or economic changes in these markets may have disruptive effects on the market prices of these investments and the income they generate, as well as the Fund's ability to repatriate such amounts.

The Fund may invest a high percentage of its assets in specific sectors of the market in its pursuit of a greater investment return. Fluctuations in these sectors of concentration may have a greater impact on the Fund, positive or negative, than if the Fund did not concentrate its investments in such sectors.

NOTE 8 -- REGULATORY EXAMS

Federal and state regulatory authorities from time to time make inquiries and conduct examinations regarding compliance by Virtus and its subsidiaries (collectively "the Company") with securities and other laws and regulations affecting their registered products.

NOTE 9 -- RECENTLY ISSUED ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

In March 2008, Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 161, "Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" (FAS 161) was issued and is effective for fiscal years and interim periods beginning after November 15, 2008. FAS 161 is intended to improve financial reporting for derivative instruments by requiring enhanced disclosure that enables investors to understand how and why a fund uses derivatives, how derivatives are accounted for, and how derivative instruments affect a fund's results of operations and financial position. Management is currently evaluating the impact, if any, of FAS 161 on financial statement disclosures.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Zweig Total Return Fund, Inc.

In our opinion, the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities, including the schedule of investments, and the related statements of operations and of changes in net assets and the financial highlights present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The Zweig Total Return Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") at December 31, 2008, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended and the financial highlights for each of the five years in the period then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements and financial highlights (hereafter referred to as "financial statements") are the responsibility of the Fund's management; our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these financial statements in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits, which included confirmation of securities at December 31, 2008 by correspondence with the custodian and brokers, provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The Adviser shall promptly notify the President of the Fund once any actual or potential conflict of interest exists and their recommendations for protecting the best interests of Fund's shareholders. Potential Conflicts of Interests

There may be certain inherent conflicts of interest that arise in connection with the Mr. Neel's and Mr. Dickerson's management of each Fund's investments and the investments of any other accounts he manages. Such conflicts could arise from the aggregation of orders for all accounts managed by a particular portfolio manager, the allocation of purchases across all such accounts, the allocation of IPOs and any soft dollar arrangements that the Adviser may have in place that could benefit the Funds and/or such other accounts. The Board of Trustees/Directors has adopted on behalf of the Funds policies and procedures designed to address any such conflicts of interest to ensure that all transactions are executed in the best interest of the Funds' shareholders. The Advisers and Sub adviser are required to certify their compliance with these procedures to the Board of Trustees on a quarterly basis. There have been no material compliance issues with respect to any of these policies and procedures during the Funds' most recent fiscal year ended December 31, 2008. Additionally, there are no material conflicts of interest between the investment strategy of a Fund and the investment strategy of other accounts managed by Mr. Neel and Mr. Dickerson since portfolio managers generally manage funds and other accounts having similar investment strategies.

(a) (3) Compensation Structure of Portfolio Manager(s) or Management Team Members

For the most recently completed fiscal year ended December 31, 2008, following is a description of Mr. Neel's and Mr. Dickerson's compensation structure as portfolio managers of ZA and Euclid.

Virtus Investment Partners, Inc. (formerly known as Phoenix Investment Partners, Ltd.) and its affiliated investment management firms (collectively, "Virtus"), believe that the firm's compensation program is adequate and competitive to attract and retain high-caliber investment professionals. Investment professionals at Virtus receive a competitive base salary, an incentive bonus opportunity and a benefits package. Certain investment professionals who supervise and manage others also participate in a management incentive program reflecting their personal contribution and team performance. Certain key individuals may also participate in a long-term Incentive Compensation program, including potential awards of Virtus restricted stock units ("RSUs") with multi-year vesting, subject to Virtus board approval, and opportunities to defer their compensation and reduce tax implications.

The bonus package for portfolio managers is based upon how well the individual manager meets or exceeds assigned goals and subjective assessment of contribution to the team effort. Their incentive bonus also reflects a performance component for achieving and/or exceeding performance competitive with peers managing similar strategies. Such component is further adjusted to reward investment personnel for managing within the stated framework and for not taking unnecessary risks. This ensures that investment personnel will remain focused on managing and acquiring securities that correspond to a fund's mandate and risk profile. It also avoids the temptation for portfolio managers to take on more risk and unnecessary exposure to chase performance for personal gain.

Prior to the Spin-off of Virtus from Phoenix Companies, Inc. ("PNX") on December 31, 2008, certain compensation awards were paid in PNX RSUs, which converted to Virtus RSUs at Spin-off. Other than as described here, no material changes have been made to the compensation structure as a result of the Spin-off.

In summary, the Investment Manager believes that overall compensation is both fair and competitive while rewarding employees for not taking unnecessary risks to chase personal performance.

Following is a more detailed description of the compensation structure of the Fund's portfolio managers.

Base Salary. Each Portfolio Manager is paid a fixed base salary, which is determined by Virtus and is designed to be competitive in light of the individual's experience and responsibilities. Virtus management uses compensation survey results of investment industry compensation conducted by an independent third party in evaluating competitive market compensation for its investment management professionals.

Incentive Bonus. Incentive bonus pools are based upon individual firm profits and in some instances overall Virtus profitability. The short-term incentive payment is generally paid in cash, but a portion may be made in Virtus RSUs. Individual payments are assessed using comparisons of actual investment performance compared with specific peer groups established at the beginning of each calendar year. Performance of the funds managed is measured over one, three and five year periods. Generally, an individual manager's participation is based on the performance of each fund/account managed as weighted roughly by total assets in each of these funds/accounts. In certain instances comparison of portfolio risk factors to peer or index risk factors, as well as achievement of qualitative goals, may also be components of the individual payment potential.

The Performance Incentive Plan applicable to some portfolio managers varies from the description above. For instance, plans applicable to certain portfolio managers (i) may have an override based upon revenues generated (ii) may contain a component that is based on the profitability of the management division with which the portfolio manager is associated, or (iii) may contain a guarantee payout.

Other Benefits. Portfolio managers are also eligible to participate in broad-based plans offered generally to the firm's employees, including 401(k), health and other employee benefit plans.
