About Calamos Investments

For over 35 years, we have helped investors like you manage and build wealth to meet their long-term individual objectives by working to capitalize on the opportunities of the evolving global marketplace. We launched our first mutual fund in 1985 and our first closed-end fund in 2002. Today, we manage five closed-end funds. Two are income-oriented total return offerings, which seek current income, with increased emphasis on capital gains potential. Three are enhanced fixed income offerings, which pursue high current income from income and capital gains. Calamos Convertible Opportunities and Income Fund (CHI) falls into this category. Please see page 5 for a more detailed overview of our closed-end offerings.

We are dedicated to helping our clients build and protect wealth. We understand when you entrust us with your assets, you also entrust us with your achievements, goals and aspirations. We believe we best honor this trust by making investment decisions guided by integrity, by discipline, and by our conscientious research.

We believe an active, risk-conscious approach is essential for wealth creation. In the 1970s, we pioneered strategies that seek to participate in equity market upside and mitigate some of the potential risks of equity market volatility. Our investment process seeks to manage risk at multiple levels and draws upon our experience investing through multiple market cycles.

We have a global perspective. We believe globalization offers tremendous opportunities for countries and companies all over the world. In our view, this creates significant opportunities for investors. In our U.S., global and international portfolios, we are seeking to capitalize on the potential growth of the global economy.

We believe there are opportunities in all markets. Our history traces back to the 1970s, a period of significant volatility and economic concerns. We have invested through multiple market cycles, each with its own challenges. Out of this experience comes our belief that the flipside of volatility is opportunity.

JOHN P. CALAMOS, SR.

CEO and Global Co-CIO

Dear Fellow Shareholder:

Welcome to your annual report for the 12-month period ended October 31, 2013. This report includes commentary from our investment team, as well as a listing of portfolio holdings, financial statements and highlights, and detailed information about the performance and allocation of your Fund. I invite you to read it carefully.

Calamos Convertible Opportunities and Income Fund (CHI) is an enhanced fixed income fund. We utilize dynamic asset allocation to pursue high current income with a less rate-sensitive approach, while also maintaining a focus on capital gains. We believe the flexibility to invest in high yield corporate bonds and convertible securities is an important differentiator, especially given our view of the likelihood of a coming reduction in the Federal Reserve s quantitative easing activities and the impact that would have on the fixed income markets.

Steady and Competitive Distributions

During the annual period, CHI provided steady monthly distributions. We believe the Funds distribution rate, which was 8.71%* on a market price basis as of October 31, 2013, was very competitive, given the low interest rates in many segments of the bond market. In our view, the Funds distributions illustrate the benefits of a global, multi-asset class approach and flexible allocation strategy.

We understand that many closed-end fund investors seek steady, predictable distributions instead of distributions that fluctuate. Therefore, this Fund has a level rate distribution policy. As part of this policy, we aim to keep distributions consistent from month to month, and at a level that we believe can be sustained over the long term. In setting the Fund s distribution rate, the investment management team and the Fund s Board of Trustees consider the interest rate, market and economic environment. We also factor in our assessment of individual securities and asset classes. (For additional information on our level rate distribution policy, please see The Calamos Closed-End Funds: An Overview on page 5 and Level Rate Distribution Policy on page 40.)

* Current Annualized Distribution Rate is the Fund s most recent distribution, expressed as an annualized percentage of the Fund s current market price per share. The Fund s 10/15/13 distribution was $0.0950 per share. Based on our current estimates, we anticipate that approximately $0.0950 is paid from ordinary income and that no portion of the distribution represents a return of capital. Estimates are calculated on a tax basis rather than on a generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) basis, but should not be used for tax reporting purposes. Distributions are subject to re-characterization for tax purposes after the end of the fiscal year. This information is not legal or tax advice. Consult a professional regarding your specific legal or tax matters. Under the Fund s level rate distribution policy, distributions paid to common shareholders may include net investment income, net realized short-term capital gains and return of capital. When the net investment income and net realized short-term capital gains are not sufficient, a portion of the level rate distribution will be a return of capital. In addition, a limited number of distributions per calendar year may include net realized long-term capital gains. Distribution rate may vary.

Letter to Shareholders

Market Environment

The economic recovery continued during the reporting period although volatility persisted driven in large measure by political uncertainties. During the early portion of the period, investors were focused primarily on finding income in a low-rate environment. In the latter part of the period, a greater emphasis on fundamentals emerged, as investors began to put more faith in the slow-growth recovery, turning their attention away from the highest dividend-paying stocks they had used as fixed income surrogates.

We believe our active approach and rigorous research are particularly well suited for this environment.

Volatility persisted as a major theme throughout the year, however, with myriad political uncertainties promising more of the same going forward. Nevertheless, the markets ultimately looked past the uncertainty. As the economic recovery in the U.S. continued, stocks rallied to near-record double-digit gains, with the S&P 500 Index¹ returning an impressive 27.18% for the period. Growth stocks fared even better, coming on strong in the second half of the period to post a gain of 29.16% in the Russell 3000 Growth Index².

Economic recovery and equity market gains benefited the convertible securities market. We saw encouraging new issuance trends as well as strong performance. Participating in the equity market supside trajectory, the BofA Merrill Lynch All U.S. Convertible Ex-Mandatory Index returned 23.82%. High yield issuance remained compelling, and the Credit Suisse High Yield Index returned 8.88%. However, in light of concerns over a potential rate hike, the lower-yielding U.S. bond market barely advanced during the first half of the 12-month period before eventually turning negative during the rest of the fiscal year, resulting in a loss of 1.08% for the Barclays Capital U.S. Aggregate Bond Index 5.

Outlook: Continued Cautious Optimism

We continue to believe the keys to long-term investing success are the active management and diversification that this Fund offers. We believe the U.S. seems poised to continue on its respectable pace and lead the global recovery, with corporate balance sheets in good health and record corporate cash levels at the ready to potentially fund new job growth and capital expenditures. Incoming data continues to show the needle pointing upward for manufacturing, and earnings still appear to be on the rise as we head toward 2014. Just as significantly, improved personal balance sheets and higher confidence levels stand to further embolden the already resilient consumer class that we believe will continue to carry this recovery forward.

We continue to believe the keys to long-term investing success are the active management and diversification that this Fund offers.

Letter to Shareholders

We are also encouraged by recent new issuance trends in the U.S. convertible market, and believe that the combination of ongoing economic recovery and a more normal interest-rate environment may provide added incentives for companies to issue convertibles.

Our Use of Leverage*

We have the flexibility to utilize leverage in this Fund. Over the long term, we believe that the judicious use of leverage provides us with opportunities to enhance total return and support the Fund s distribution rate. Leverage strategies typically entail borrowing at short-term interest rates and investing the proceeds at higher rates of return. During the reporting period, we believed the prudent use of leverage would be advantageous given the economic environment, specifically the low borrowing costs we were able to secure. Overall, our use of leverage contributed favorably to the returns of the Fund, as the performance of the Fund s holdings exceeded the costs of our borrowing activities.

Consistent with our focus on risk management, we have employed techniques to hedge against a rise in interest rates. We have used interest rate swaps to manage the borrowing costs associated with our leverage activities. Interest rate swaps allow us to lock down an interest rate we believe to be attractive. Although rates are at historically low levels across much of the fixed income market, history has taught us that rates can rise quickly, in some cases, in a matter of months. We believe the Fund suse of interest rate swaps is beneficial because it provides a degree of protection should a rise in rates occur.

Well Positioned for the Long Term

Over the past years, the U.S. economy has demonstrated its resilience, and we expect the recovery to move forward at a measured pace. Still, as we discussed, we expect volatility to continue. We believe this Fund s enhanced fixed income approach and use of high yield corporate bonds and convertible securities positions it well for the long term as Fed activity begins to affect more rate-sensitive areas of the market.

^{*} Leverage creates risks that may adversely affect return, including the likelihood of greater volatility of net asset value and market price of common shares, and fluctuations in the variable rates of the leverage financing.

The Calamos Closed-End Funds: An Overview

In our closed-end funds, we draw upon decades of investment experience, including a long history of opportunistically blending asset classes in an attempt to capture upside potential while managing downside risk. We launched our first closed-end fund in 2002.

Closed-end funds are long-term investments. Most focus on providing monthly distributions, but there are important differences among individual closed-end funds. Calamos closed-end funds can be grouped into multiple categories that seek to produce income while offering exposure to various asset classes and sectors.

Our Level Rate Distribution Policy

Closed-end fund investors often look for a steady stream of income. Recognizing this, Calamos closed-end funds have a level rate distribution policy in which we aim to keep monthly income consistent through the disbursement of net investment income, net realized short-term capital gains and, if necessary, return of capital. We set distributions at levels that we believe are sustainable for the long term. Our team is focused on delivering an attractive monthly distribution, while maintaining a long-term focus on risk management. The level of the funds distributions can be greatly influenced by market conditions, including the interest rate environment. The funds distributions will depend on the individual performance of positions the funds hold, our view of the benefits of retaining leverage, fund tax considerations, and maintaining regulatory requirements.

For more information about any of these funds, we encourage you to contact your financial advisor or Calamos Investments at 800.582.6959 (Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., Central Time). You can also visit us at www.calamos.com.

CONVERTIBLE OPPORTUNITIES AND

INCOME FUND (CHI)

INVESTMENT TEAM DISCUSSION

Please discuss the Fund s strategy and role within an asset allocation.

Calamos Convertible Opportunities and Income Fund (CHI) is an enhanced fixed income offering, seeking total return through a combination of capital appreciation and current income. It provides an alternative to funds investing exclusively in investment-grade fixed income instruments, and seeks to be less sensitive to interest rates. Like all five Calamos closed-end funds, the Fund seeks to provide a steady stream of distributions paid out on a monthly basis and invests in multiple asset classes.

Within this Fund, we invest in a diversified portfolio of convertible securities and high yield securities. The allocation to each asset class is dynamic, and reflects our view of the economic landscape, as well as the potential of individual securities. By combining these asset classes, we believe the Fund is well positioned to generate capital gains as well as income. We believe the broader range of security types in which the Fund invests also provides us with increased opportunities for managing the risk and reward characteristics of the portfolio over full market cycles.

^{}Annualized since inception.

We seek companies with respectable balance sheets, reliable debt servicing and good prospects for sustainable growth. While we invest primarily in securities of U.S. issuers, we favor those companies that are actively participating in globalization with geographically diversified revenue streams and global business strategies.

How did the Fund perform over the reporting period?

The Fund gained 16.08% on a net asset value (NAV) basis and 14.56% on a market price basis for the 12-month period ended October 31, 2013, versus the 8.88% return for the Credit Suisse High Yield Index and a 23.94% gain for the BofA Merrill Lynch All U.S. Convertibles Index for the same period.

As of the end of the reporting period, the Fund s shares traded at a 0.83% discount to net asset value.

Investment Team Discussion

How do NAV and market price return differ?

Closed-end funds trade on exchanges, where the price of shares may be driven by factors other than the value of the underlying securities. The price of a share in the market is called market value. Market price may be influenced by factors unrelated to the performance of the fund s holdings, such as general market sentiment or future expectation. A fund s NAV return measures the actual return of the individual securities in the portfolio, less fund expenses. It also measures how a manager was able to capitalize on market opportunities. Because we believe closed-end funds are best utilized as long-term holdings within asset allocations, we believe NAV return is the better measure of a fund s performance. However, when managing the Fund, we strongly consider actions and policies that we believe will optimize its overall price performance and returns based on market value.

Please discuss the Fund s distributions during the annual period.

We employ a level rate distribution policy within this Fund with the goal of providing shareholders a consistent distribution stream. The Fund provided a steady distribution stream over the period. Monthly distributions were $0.095 per share, and the Fund s annual distribution rate was 8.71% of market price as of October 31, 2013.

We believe that both the Funds distribution rate and level remained attractive and competitive, as low interest rates limited yield opportunities in much of the marketplace. For example, as of October 31, 2013, the dividend yield of S&P 500 Index stocks averaged 2.02%. Yields also remained low within the U.S. government bond market, with 10-year U.S. Treasury and 30-year U.S. Treasury yielding 2.57% and 3.63%, respectively.

What factors influenced performance over the reporting period?

The Fund s convertible securities and high yield corporate credits both contributed positive performance for the period.

During the period, we increased the Fund s exposure to convertible assets to a combined total of over 52% as of October 31, 2013. The Fund benefited from this increased exposure to convertible securities throughout the course of the period, as convertibles rallied in concert with the overall equity market.

In terms of specific sector performance, security selection in consumer discretionary boosted returns. Even given this year s government shutdown, continued debt ceiling debates and unemployment data activity, the U.S consumer continued to shop, supported by a wealth effect of rising equity markets and a strengthening housing market. We also found many opportunities within the health care sector, resulting in an overweight that reflects the growth potential we see in companies involved in new technologies or product cycles, such as health care consumerism and genome-based diagnostics. Our security selection decisions also contributed favorably here, particularly within biotechnology.

Although Fund holdings in the materials and information technology sectors posted positive absolute returns, they lagged their peers in the Credit Suisse High Yield Index. We continue to favor information technology in the Fund, given the attributes we have found in companies within the sector, including reasonable valuations, sound balance sheets, sustainable cash flows and participation in secular growth trends.

ASSET ALLOCATION AS OF 10/31/13

Fund asset allocations are based on total investments and may vary over time.

Investment Team Discussion

How is the Fund positioned?

In light of the rising equity markets, we lightened the Fund s positions in corporate bonds during the period, while increasing the allocation to convertible securities. Currently, over 50% of the portfolio is invested in convertible securities, positioning that we believe will enable the Fund to better capitalize on opportunities in the general equity markets as we seek to invest in global businesses with sustainable cash flow growth and improving credit profiles. From an economic sector perspective, the Fund s heaviest positioning is in the consumer discretionary, information technology, health care, energy and industrials sectors.

The average credit quality of the portfolio is higher than that of its comparative index BB- versus B+, as our credit process tends to guide us away from the most speculative corporate securities. We continue to hold higher allocations in the BB credit tier, as we believe this exposure offers investors a better risk/return dynamic while continuing to provide regular income. We currently view the lowest credit tiers of the market as less attractive given their pricing and our outlook for a slower-growth global economy, although we do selectively invest in lower-credit securities when we believe the risk/return dynamics are favorable.

The portfolio is currently employing leverage at approximately 28%, borrowing through floating-rate bank debt. Given the low borrowing rates at present, this has been beneficial to the performance of the Fund. In addition, 46% of our floating-rate debt is hedged through interest rate swaps, a defensive strategy that mitigates the Fund s overall exposure to a quick rise in short-term interest rates.

Do you have any closing thoughts for Fund shareholders?

We believe the Fund s multi-asset, enhanced fixed income approach continues to provide shareholders with a good opportunity for growth and current income.

In our view, U.S. credit markets are an attractive opportunity for investors, especially in the current low-rate environment. Compared to government bonds, corporate credits have tended to be less vulnerable to interest rate increases. While history has shown that it is impossible to predict when interest rates will rise, we believe that prudent investors should maintain a long-term perspective and position their asset allocations ahead of the curve.

We continue to find compelling opportunities that meet our criteria. Many companies have taken advantage of lower interest rates to refinance their debt, allowing them to push their obligations out and reduce overall borrowing costs. Moreover, many issuers may be well positioned against a backdrop of economic recovery. Even so, we believe that not all companies will fare equally well. We believe the Calamos investment team is well positioned to identify opportunities among corporate bonds, due to our extensive experience with credit analysis, as well as our focus on balancing risk, return and income considerations. We believe our focus on mid-grade credits, issued by companies with good records of reliable debt servicing, is a suitable risk-managed approach to corporate bonds.

Investment Team Discussion

We are also finding growing opportunities among convertible securities and we believe convertibles remain a good choice for income, as well as equity upside participation. Supported by global economic growth, new issuance trends have been encouraging, and our team is finding attractively valued issues offering the balance of equity and fixed income characteristics that we prefer in this environment. We believe this dynamic will offer shareholders the income they seek in a closed-end vehicle, in addition to the opportunity for forward capital appreciation.
