Pershing Square, Valeant and Allergan Settle Pending Litigation Before the Delaware

Court of Chancery

Allergan to Announce Unconditional Calling of a Special Meeting of Shareholders

NEW YORK AND LAVAL, QUEBEC Pershing Square Capital Management, L.P. (Pershing Square) and Valeant Pharmaceuticals International, Inc. (NYSE:VRX) (TSX: VRX) (Valeant) announced an agreement with Allergan, Inc. (NYSE:AGN) (Allergan) to settle pending litigation before the Delaware Court of Chancery.

Pursuant to the settlement, Allergan has agreed to unconditionally call and hold a special meeting of its shareholders on December 18, 2014.

Shareholders of record at the close of business on October 30, 2014 will be entitled to receive notice of and vote at the meeting. Shareholders who submitted special meeting requests will not be required to provide updated information to the company in advance of the meeting.

Pershing Square has delivered requests calling for a special meeting from 51 institutions representing 35.68% of the outstanding common stock of Allergan.

At the special meeting, Allergan shareholders will have the opportunity to voice their support for a number of critical matters, including the removal of six incumbent members of the Allergan board, the appointment of an independent slate of directors, amendments to Allergan's bylaws to eliminate onerous restrictions on the calling of a special meeting, a request that Allergan engage in negotiations with Valeant and Pershing Square, and certain other actions to improve corporate governance of Allergan.

Allergan has reserved the right to continue to pursue existing litigation in federal court in California but will no longer seek the invalidation of any special meeting requests or otherwise seek to postpone or cancel the special meeting. Valeant and Pershing Square believe that Allergan's claims and request for relief in the California litigation are entirely without merit and will ultimately be rejected.
