Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
March 31, 2011 and 2010

NOTE 1 – NATURE OF ORGANIZATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization & Business Activities

Atlas Therapeutics Corporation (“the Company”) was incorporated under the laws of the State of Nevada on April 11, 2007 to provide mailing & shipping services. The Company has not realized any revenues to date and therefore is classified as a development stage company. The Company changed its name to Atlas Therapeutics Corporation in May 2010. On February 25, 2011, the Company entered into an agreement to purchase certain intellectual property from Peak Wellness, Inc. (the "Acquisition"). As a result of the Acquisition, the Company is now focused on the formulation, acquisition and distribution of nutritional, nutraceutical, physical performance enhancement and wellness products (see Note 7 – Intellectual Property Purchase Agreement).

Continuation of the Company as a Going Concern

At March 31, 2011 the Company had cash of $599,357 and as of May 16, 2011, the date of this report, the Company has remaining cash of approximately $268,000, with current liabilities of approximately $800,000. The continuation of the Company as a going concern is dependent both on achieving the projected sales growth after launch of the Company’s sales channels and obtaining additional financing on terms acceptable to the Company.

Depreciation

The cost of property and equipment will be depreciated over the estimated useful life of 4 to 7 years. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method when assets are placed in service.

Basis of Accounting and Principles of Consolidation

The accompanying consolidating financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiary. All material intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.

Cash & Cash Equivalents

For the purpose of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid investments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be a cash equivalent.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statement and the reported amounts of revenues & expenses during the reporting period.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue when products are fully delivered or services have been provided, and collection is reasonably assured.

Advertising

The Company follows the policy of charging the costs of advertising to expense as incurred. The Company has incurred no advertising costs from its inception.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
March 31, 2011 and 2010

Concentrations of Risk

The Company's bank accounts are deposited in insured institutions. From December 31, 2010 through December 31, 2011, all non-interest-bearing transaction accounts will be fully insured by the FDIC, regardless of the balance of the account and the ownership capacity of the funds. Since all of the Company's funds are deposited in a checking account which is considered a noninterest-bearing transaction account, all of its funds are currently insured regardless of the balance.

Basic Loss per Share

The computation of the basic loss per share of common stock is based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period.

	For the Three Months Ended March 31,
	2011	2010
(Loss) Income (Numerator)	$ (2,173,525)	$ 7,724
Shares (Denominator)	53,454,523	49,000,000
Per share amount	$ (0.04)	$ 0.00

Income Taxes

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method in accordance with ASC 740, Income Taxes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases as well as operating loss and tax credit carry forwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the periods in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance to the extent that the recoverability of the asset is unlikely to be recognized.

The Company follows ASC 740 rules governing uncertain tax positions, which provides guidance for recognition and measurement. This prescribes a threshold condition that a tax position must meet for any of the benefits of the uncertain tax position to be recognized in the financial statements. It also provides accounting guidance on derecognition, classification and disclosure of these uncertain tax positions. The Company has no uncertain income tax positions.

Interest costs and penalties related to income taxes are classified as interest expense and selling, general and administrative costs, respectively, in the Company's financial statements. For the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009, the Company did not recognize any interest or penalty expense related to income taxes. The Company files income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and states in which it does business.

Item 2. Financial Information.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

Plan of Operation

We are focused on the formulation, acquisition and distribution of nutritional, nutraceutical, physical performance enhancement and wellness products. Our initial core brand product is MYO-T12, a myostatin-inhibiting product. We intend to provide a pathway for consumers to easily access the product through an easy to navigate website and targeted marketing campaigns. Our operations will be supported by outside third party vendors, who will also provide the order processing controls, such as electronic data interface with our customers. Our plan of action over the next twelve months is to commence our operations to market and distribute nutrition maximization and wellness products.

As of May 6, 2011, we have accomplished the following:

- Established our website which is ready to go live and commence order taking in June 2011.
 - Purchased products ready and available for resale shipping.
 - Entered into fulfillment and credit card processing agreements.
 - Entered into sales agency agreements.
 - Entered into consulting agreements.

We are a small, start-up company that has not generated any revenues and lacks a stable customer base. Since our inception to the present, we have not generated any revenues and have incurred a cumulative net loss as indicated in our financial statements. In order to continue as a going concern and achieve a profitable level of operations, the Company will need, among other things, additional equity capital resources and develop a consistent source of revenues.

We expect to begin generating sales of our product through the Company's website and other internet vendors by June 2011.

Three Months Ended March 31, 2011 compared to Three Months Ended March 31, 2010.

In the initial operating period from April 11, 2007 (inception) to March 31, 2011, the Company generated no revenues while incurring $1,857,482 in general and administrative expenses, including stock based compensation of $1,500,000. The cumulative net loss since inception was $2,307,471.

For the three months ended March 31, 2011, we incurred general and administrative expenses of $1,711,266 compared to $4,776 for the three months ended March 31, 2010. For the three months ended March 31, 2011, we incurred a net loss of ($2,173,525) (including stock based compensation of $1,500,000) compared to net income of $7,724 (including gain of forgiveness of debt of $12,500) for the three months ended March 31, 2010.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of March 31, 2011, we had $599,357 in cash and $5,472,742 in total assets (which includes $4,662,000 of intangible assets). We used cash of $376,330 for operating activities (including the initial payment of $168,000 toward the purchase of $336,000 of product for resale) and we used $450,000 as the cash down payment for the acquisition of the intellectual property assets from Peak. We received $1,430,000 from the Private Placement, of which we paid $75,000 in costs associated with the purchase of MYO-T12. We presently do not have sufficient cash resources to pay the first installment of $350,000 on the note payable to Peak in August 2011. In order to have sufficient cash for debt service and operations we will need to meet our sales projections for June through August 2011 and/or raise additional capital through the issuance of debt or equity securities.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We do not have any off-balance sheet arrangements.

Critical Accounting Policies

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes, and disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of the financial statements. Estimates are used for, but not limited to, the selection of the useful lives of property and equipment, provisions necessary for contingent liabilities, fair values, revenue recognition, taxes, budgeted costs and other similar charges. Management believes that the estimates utilized in preparing its financial statements are reasonable and prudent. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses. The cost of an asset is comprised of its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to its working condition and location for its intended use. Expenditures incurred after the fixed assets have been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance and overhaul costs, are normally charged to the profit and loss account in the year in which they are incurred.

In situations where it can be clearly demonstrated that the expenditure has resulted in an increase in the future economic benefits expected to be obtained from the use of the asset beyond its originally assessed standard of performances, the expenditure is capitalized as an additional cost of the asset.

Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, less any estimated residual value. Estimated useful lives of our assets are as follows:

Office equipment	5 years

Any gain or loss on disposal or retirement of a fixed asset is recognized in the profit and loss account and is the difference between the net sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the relevant asset. When property and equipment are retired or otherwise disposed of, the assets and accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and the resulting profit or loss is reflected in income.

Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Additions, renewals and betterments are capitalized.

Long-lived assets

We apply the provisions of Financial Accounting Standard Board (“FASB”) Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) No. 360, “Property, Plant and Equipment”. ASC 360 requires that long-lived assets be reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable through the estimated undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the assets. Whenever any such impairment exists, an impairment loss will be recognized for the amount by which the carrying value exceeds the fair value.

The Company tests long-lived assets, including property, plant and equipment and other assets, for recoverability at least annually or more frequently upon the occurrence of an event or when circumstances indicate that the net carrying amount is greater than its fair value. Assets are grouped and evaluated at the lowest level for their identifiable cash flows that are largely independent of the cash flows of other groups of assets. The Company considers historical performance and future estimated results in its evaluation of potential impairment and then compares the carrying amount of the asset to the future estimated cash flows expected to result from the use of the asset. If the carrying amount of the asset exceeds estimated expected undiscounted future cash flows, the Company measures the amount of impairment by comparing the carrying amount of the asset to its fair value. The estimation of fair value is generally measured by discounting expected future cash flows as the rate the Company utilizes to evaluate potential investments. The Company estimates fair value based on the information available in making the necessary estimates, judgments and projections. There was no impairment of long-lived assets since our acquisition of the assets from Peak.

Income taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes using an asset and liability approach which allows for the recognition and measurement of deferred tax assets based upon the likelihood of realization of tax benefits in future years. Under the asset and liability approach, deferred taxes are provided for the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for income tax purposes. A valuation allowance is provided for deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not these items will either expire before the Company is able to realize their benefits, or that future deductibility is uncertain.

The Company records a valuation allowance for deferred tax assets, if any, based on its estimates of its future taxable income as well as its tax planning strategies when it is more likely than not that a portion or all of its deferred tax assets will not be realized. If the Company is able to utilize more of its deferred tax assets than the net amount previously recorded when unanticipated events occur, an adjustment to deferred tax assets would increase the Company's net income when those events occur.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

We have not entered into, and do not expect to enter into, financial instruments for trading or hedging purposes.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

We maintain disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act) that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the reports we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding disclosure. In designing and evaluating the disclosure controls and procedures, management recognized that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving the desired control objectives, and management necessarily was required to apply its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures.

Our management, with the participation of our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, has evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of March 31, 2011. Based on their evaluation, our principal executive officer and principal financial officer have concluded that, as of March 31, 2011, our disclosure controls and procedures were not effective because we did not have sufficient time or resources to establish our disclosure controls and procedures and hire consultants capable of implementing them. We are in the process of remediating our disclosure controls and procedures by adopting and implementing additional policies and hiring additional personnel as necessary.

Changes in Internal Controls.

There have not been any changes in the Company's internal control over financial reporting (as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) under the Exchange Act) during the quarter ended March 31, 2011 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.
