2. Power Generation

In 2013, the Company overcame difficulties posed by a slowdown in growth of power consumption by the whole society and intensified market competition, and explored the market through various channels, seized market opportunities, capitalised the Company's competitive edge in energy saving and environment protection, expanded its market shares and increased its power generation, thereby achieving outstanding results with utilization hours of its coal-fired generating units and ranking the first in many provinces. Total power generated by the Company's operating power plants in China amounted to 317.481 billion kWh, representing an increase of 4.98% year-on-year. The electricity sold aggregated to 300.003 billion kWh, representing an increase of 5.10% year-on-year.

In 2013, the annual average utilization hours of the Company's domestic power plants reached 5,036 hours, of which the utilization hours of the thermal units reached 5,089 hours, which was 77 hours higher than the average utilization hours of thermal units in China.

3. Cost Control

Fuel costs represented a major part of the operation cost of the Company. In 2013, the Company purchased a total of 134 million tons of natural coal. The Company adopted measures boasting "structural adjustment, coal price control and quality improvement". Particularly, in respect of coal price control, the Company adopted two strategies, namely long term cooperation with major suppliers and increase of imported coal. The coal supply structure was further improved while the Company maintained better control over fuel procurement costs. The fuel costs per unit of power sold of the Company's domestic power plants was RMB218.59/MWh, representing a decrease of 12.50% compared to same period last year.

4. Energy Saving and Environmental Protection

The Company has always placed energy saving and environmental protection as its utmost priority. In 2013, the Company led the industry in terms of technical, economic and energy consumption indicators. The average equivalent availability ratio of the Company's domestic power plants was 94.53% and its weighted average house consumption rate was 5.28%. The Company's average coal consumption rate for the power generated was 291.26 grams/kWh, which is 1.69 grams/kWh lower than that of the same period last year. The Company's average coal consumption rate for power sold was 308.26 grams/kWh, representing a decrease of 2.08 grams/kWh from that of the same period last year. At the same time, the Company continued to intensify the technological renovation of the existing units, proceeded with the desulfurization and denitration of the thermal units as scheduled and proactively updated the flue gas dust removal devices of thermal units, with a view to enhancing the Company's performance in energy- saving and environmental protection, securing its leading market position, and achieving the goal of "green development".

5. Project Development

The construction of power generating projects of the Company progressed smoothly. In 2013, the controlled generating capacity of the newly commissioned domestic coal-fired, gas turbine and wind generating units of the Company was 3,072 MW, 382 MW and 48 MW, respectively. As of 18 March 2014, the Company's controlled and equity-based generating capacity was 66,795 MW and 59,993 MW, respectively.

6. Overseas Business

In 2013, Tuas Power Ltd. ("Tuas Power"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company in Singapore, maintained safe and stable operation of the generation units throughout the year. In conjunction with commencement of operation of Phase I (101 MW) of Tembusu Multi-Utility Complex Project and No. 5 combined cycle unit of Tuas Power (405.9 MW), the total market share of Tuas Power in the power generation market for the whole year was 20.6%, representing a decrease of 4.6 percentage points, thereby realizing a net profit attributable to shareholders of the Company of RMB113 million, which represented a decrease of 89.16%. It was mainly attributable to the increase of newly operated generation units in the electricity market of Singapore in 2013, which intensified competitions in the power and gas market, resulting in a decline in return levels in power generation business. The Company made provision for impairment of the goodwill of overseas projects.

In 2013, the Company delivered promising performance in the capital market. The Company was included as one of the constituent stocks of Hang Seng China 50 Index and was awarded the "Best Listed Company Award" of the China Securities Golden Bauhinia Awards 2013. The Company has been listed on the league table of “Platts Top 250 Global Energy Listed Companies Award” for five years and ranked 96th in 2013, which is much higher than that of 2012.

PROSPECTS FOR 2014

In 2014, the Company will capitalize on favorable factors in face of difficulties and challenges for its development.

In respect of the electricity market, the state policy of attaching equal importance to progress and stabilization will ensure the stability of macro economy, such that the demand for electricity will continue to grow in a certain period of time onward. In respect of the fuel market, coal supply is abundant in general and the possibility of significant fluctuations in coal prices is low. In respect of the capital market, the Company has established good reputation, enabling it to provide a variety of financing instruments for fund raising exercises.

Concurrently, since China has given impetus to clean energy development and overall control on energy consumption and environmental measures, the Company’s operation and development of thermal units will encounter challenges ahead. There are still uncertainties in tariff policies, policy regarding direct supply to major customers as well as energy saving and environmental policies. With the continued implementation of a prudent monetary policy and the deepened market-oriented reform on interest rates, the supply of fund appears to be tightly balanced, thus bringing about more challenges in securing capital and controlling cash costs.

In 2014, the Company will further pursue improvement in efficiency, structural adjustment, reinforcement in management, stability and efficiency of profitability, sustainability and its leading competitive edge in the sector. The Company will strive to realize an annual power generation of 325 billion kWh from its domestic power plants, and attain an average utilization hour of 5,000 hours.

The Company will reinforce marketing activities and optimize the adjustment in production operation. The Company will continue to foster the establishment of a stable and reliable fuel supply system, reinforce the operation and management of Tuas Power in Singapore and strive to increase its market share, so as to create long term, stable and increasing returns for shareholders of the Company.

Total	317.481	302.433	4.98	%	300.003	285.455	5.10	%

In 2013, the Company's total power generation within China on consolidated basis was 317.481 billion kWh, representing an increase of 4.98% over the same period last year. Total electricity sold by the Company was 300.003 billion kWh, representing an increase of 5.10% over the same period last year, mainly attributable to the business expansion of the Company and the growth of its capacity. Total electricity sold by SinoSing Power was 9.120 billion kWh, representing a decrease of 18.72% over the same period last year. The power generated by SinoSing Power in Singapore accounted for 20.60% of the total electricity generated in Singapore, down 4.6 percentage points from the same period last year, mainly attributable to the decreased power generation, as a result of the increase of newly commissioned power plants and intensified competition in Singapore market.

In respect of the tariff, the Company's average tariff for the year ended 31 December 2013 was RMB454.38 per MWh, up RMB0.19 per MWh from the year ended 31 December 2012. SinoSing Power's average tariff for 2013 was RMB994.54 per MWh, representing a decrease by 17.55% from the same period last year.

In respect of fuel costs, the decrease of coal market price and effective cost controls of the Company contributed to reduced fuel costs of the Company. Compared with 2012, the Company's fuel cost per unit of power sold decreased by 12.50% to RMB218.59 per MWh.

Combining the forgoing factors, for the year ended 31 December 2013, the operating revenue of the Company remained generally stable compared with last year at approximately RMB133.833 billion, and recorded profit attributable to equity holders of RMB10.426 billion, representing an increase of 89.14% from the profit of RMB5.512 billion for the year ended 31 December 2012.

For the year ended 31 December 2013, the profit attributable to equity holders of the Company from domestic power plants was RMB10.313 billion, representing an increase of RMB5.842 billion from RMB4.471 billion for the same period last year. The increase was primarily attributable to the decrease of coal market price and the increase of sold electricity in 2013.

For the year ended 31 December 2013, the profit attributable to equity holders of the Company from its operations in Singapore was RMB0.113 billion, representing a decrease of RMB0.928 billion compared to the same period last year. This is largely attributable to the intensified competition in the power generation market in Singapore as a result of the increase in power generation capacities, thus reducing the Company's market share and profit of power generation operations in overseas market.

2. Comparative Analysis of Operating results

2.1 Operating revenue and tax and levies on operations

Operating revenue mainly consists of revenue from electricity sold. For the year ended 31 December 2013, the consolidated operating revenue of the Company and its subsidiaries amounted to RMB133.833 billion, representing a decrease of 0.10% from RMB133.967 billion for the year ended 31 December 2012. The operating revenue from domestic operations of the Company increased by approximately RMB5.468 billion over the same period of last year, which is mainly attributable to the increase in power generation and business expansion of the Company. The operation of new generation capabilities contributed RMB7.017 billion to the increased consolidated revenue of the Company.

The operating revenue from operations of the Company in Singapore decreased by RMB5.602 billion over the same period of last year, which is mainly because of the intensified competition in the power generation market in Singapore as a result of growing power generation capacities since 2013, which has reduced the tariff and volume of power generation operations of the Company in overseas market and consequently lowered its operating revenue.

Operating taxes and surcharges mainly consist of taxes associated with value-added tax surcharges. According to relevant administrative regulations, these surcharges include City Construction Tax and Education Surcharges calculated at prescribed percentages on the amounts of the value-added tax paid. For the year ended 31 December 2013, the operating taxes and surcharges of the Company and its subsidiaries were RMB1.044 billion, representing an increase of RMB0.372 billion from RMB0.672 billion for the same period of last year. This is largely due to the rise of surcharges as a result of the increased value added tax paid by the Company and its subsidiaries.

Operating expenses

For the year ended 31 December 2013, the total operating costs and expenses of the Company and its subsidiaries was RMB108.678 billion, representing a decrease of 6.58% from the same period last year. The operating costs and expenses in domestic power plants of the Company decreased by RMB3.310 billion, or 3.37%, from the same period last year, which was primarily attributable to the reduced market price of coal in the PRC as well as increase of assets impairment and assets disposal loss.

The operating costs and expenses from the operations in Singapore decreased by RMB4.350 billion, or 24.08%, from the same period last year. This is mainly because of the decreased fuel costs and retail electricity purchase cost as a result of the declined power generation in Singapore.

In 2013, due to the external environment deterioration in respect of shipping market, the utilization of port was below expectation and the price was at a lower level. Based on the impairment testing results, the goodwill arising from the acquisition of Qingdao Port, Luoyuanwan Harbour and Hualu Sea Transportation were fully impaired. Besides, the goodwill arising from the acquisition of Enshi Hydropower was assessed as fully impaired due to the fact that the capital expenditure of the power plant was higher than the original expectation. The above mentioned goodwill impairment provided in 2013 approximately amounted to RMB586 million. For Singapore segment, the goodwill in respect of Tuas Power acquisition was impaired of RMB392 million in 2013 as a result of the power market change in Singapore.

For goodwill allocated to CGUs in the PRC, changes of assumptions in tariff and fuel price could have affected the results of goodwill impairment assessment. As at 31 December 2013, if tariff had decreased by 1% or 5% from management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to further recognize impairment against goodwill by approximately RMB115 million and RMB1,864 million, respectively. Factors leading to the impairment primarily included shut-down of certain domestic power plants and the continuous deterioration in utilization of certain non-power assets in a foreign subsidiary.

Changes of assumptions in tariff and fuel price will affect the result of property, plant and equipment impairment assessment. For those power plants which the property, plant and equipment are subject to impairment testing, as at 31 December 2013, if tariff had decreased by 1% or 5% from management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to further recognize impairment against property, plant and equipment by approximately RMB13 million and RMB734 million, respectively. If fuel price had increased by 1% or 5% from the management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to further recognize impairment against property, plant and equipment by approximately RMB8 million and RMB40 million, respectively.

RISK FACTORS

Risks relating to power market

It is forecast by China Electricity Enterprises Association that China's GDP will grow by 7.5% in 2014; national power consumption is expected to increase by 6.5% to 7% from same period last year; total installed generation capacity in the PRC is expected to increase by 7.3% with newly installed generation capacity of 90 million KW. Power supply and demand nationwide are expected to be in balance generally, while power generators in Northeast, Central and South China will see excessive generation capacity.

The Company will experience challenges in power generation growth as most of the Company's thermal generating capacities are located in the coastal provinces and cities in southeast China. Meanwhile, the operations of multiple hydro-power generating units in West China as well as super high voltage lines transmitting electricity from West China to East China will restrict the generation potential of thermal power generators in East China. The Company's power generation capacities in North China, Yangtze River Delta and Zhujiang River Delta will be subject to strict control as a result of the government's measures to prevent and control air pollution in these regions. The coming year will also be a peak period when a large number of nuclear power and gas power generating units come into operation. All these adverse factors will have certain impact on the power generation growth of the Company.

Under such situation, the Company will further its implementation of various government policies, apply more efforts to alert and control power market risks, make strengthened analysis and study of the conditions and policies of power market, design flexible marketing strategies to respond effectively to market demand, take initiatives to develop market, and leverage its strengths on energy saving and environment protection to increase equipment utilization hours and mitigate risks from electricity market.

2. Risks relating to electricity tariff

In December 2012, the State Council issued the Guidance on Further Market Reform of the Coal for Power Generation, according to which the electricity tariff will be adjusted in accordance with the coal price change on yearly basis; if the coal price changes by more than 5%, the on-grid electricity tariff will be adjusted accordingly and the adjusted tariff will reflect 10% of the coal price change. The previous adjustment of electricity tariff resulting from coal price change occurred in December 2012, and since then the coal price has experienced more than 5% decrease. If the price of the coal for power generation in 2014 continues a downward trend or experience further reduction, the electricity tariff could be re-adjusted accordingly.

The Company will keep close watch of relevant government policies and developments, make well-based estimates of coal prices and electricity tariff, strengthen communication and coordination with central and local pricing administrative authorities, and prepare active responses and strategies to deal with relevant issues.

3. Risks relating to coal market

According to the estimate of China Coal Industry Association, the nationwide coal supply capacity will reach 4.0 billion tons in 2014, including 3.8 billion tons from domestic production and approximately 0.3 billion tons from imports. Coal supply will continue to be sufficient with excessive coal production capacity. The coal price is still subject to uncertainties. Firstly, the increased concentration of domestic coal production capacities and import of spot coal subject the coal price to climate changes in major coal-producing economies; secondly, the enhanced environment protection measures by the government and reform of railway enterprises could lead to increase of railway costs, which in turn could affect the supply of coal.

The Company will continue its two strategies of focusing on long-term cooperation with major mining enterprises and increasing the imported coal. It will also increase the percentage of coal purchased under annual contracting arrangement, and make efforts to control fuel costs by enhanced management throughout the fueling process.

-- 35 --

4. Risks relating to environment protection policies

The Company will continue making increased investment to satisfy the requirements under environmental protection policies. In September 2013, the State Council issued the Air Pollution Prevention Action Plan (the “Plan”), setting forth stricter requirements for air pollution prevention and control. Local government departments have released local rules and regulations under the Plan, some of which require higher emission standards than the national ones. Carbon emission trading has been conducted in certain regions on trial basis and could be gradually introduced to an expanded market in the future. On July 1, 2014, the new pollutants emission standards for thermal power plants and the dust emission standards in key regions will also come into effect.

Under such situation, the Company is making efforts to increase the percentage of power production capacity generated by clean energies and high-volume, efficient thermal power generating units. It will continue technical renovation of existing generating units, complete scheduled denitrification renovation of coal-fired generating units, and make gradual upgrade of de-dusting devices on certain coal-fired generating units. In its endeavors towards green development, the Company will take advantage of the preferential policies for energy saving and emission reduction renovation and coal-fired generating units upgrade efforts by power generation enterprises as well as the policies encouraging replacement of small generating units with large ones, make efforts to improve energy saving performance and reduce production costs.

Interest rate risks

The domestic capital market is generally tight and liberalization of interest rates is expected to accelerate. The interest bearing debts of the Company are mostly denominated in RMB. The interest rates applicable to existing RMB loan contracts will be regularly adjusted in accordance with the adjustment of benchmark lending interest rates published by the PBOC, and the interest rates applicable to new RMB loan contracts will be determined based on the benchmark lending interest rates published by the PBOC. The change of the benchmark lending interest rates published by the PBOC will have direct impact on the debt costs of the Company.

The Company will make reasonable financing arrangement according to market conditions, explore new accesses to capital markets, and strive to control financing costs subject to satisfaction of funding requirements.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL INFORMATION EXTRACTED FROM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PREPARED UNDER IFRS

(Amount expressed in thousands of RMB unless otherwise stated)

1. Basis of preparation

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (the “IASB”) and the disclosure requirement of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. These financial statements also comply with the applicable disclosure provisions of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited. These financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of available-for-sale financial assets, trading securities and derivative financial assets and liabilities.

As at and for the year ended 31 December 2013, a portion of the Company and its subsidiaries’ funding requirements for capital expenditures were partially satisfied by short-term financing. Consequently, as at 31 December 2013, the Company and its subsidiaries have net current liabilities of approximately RMB64.8 billion. Taking into consideration of the expected operating cash flows of the Company and its subsidiaries and the undrawn available banking facilities of approximately RMB174.2 billion as at 31 December 2013, the Company and its subsidiaries are expected to refinance and also consider alternative sources of financing, where applicable and when needed. Therefore, the directors of the Company are of the opinion that the Company and its subsidiaries will be able to meet its liabilities as and when they fall due within the next twelve months and accordingly, these consolidated financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis.

-- 56 --

2. Principal accounting policies

The accounting policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

The Company and its subsidiaries have adopted the following new standards or amendments to standards that are first effective for the current accounting period.

• Amendments to IAS 1, 'Presentation of financial statements – Presentation of items of other comprehensive income'. The amendments require entities to present separately the items of other comprehensive income that would be reclassified to profit or loss in the future if certain conditions are met from those that would never be reclassified to profit or loss. The Company and its subsidiaries adopted the amendments from 1 January 2013. These amendments did not have any material impact on the consolidated financial statements.

• IFRS 10, 'Consolidated financial statements' introduces a single control model to determine whether an investee should be consolidated, by focusing on whether the entity has power over the investee, exposure or rights to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and the ability to use its power to affect the amount of those returns.

As a result of the adoption of IFRS 10, the Company and its subsidiaries have changed their accounting policy with respect to determining whether they have control over an investee. The adoption did not change any of the control conclusions reached by the Company and its subsidiaries in respect of its involvement with other entities as at 1 January 2013.

• IFRS 11, 'Joint arrangements' divides joint arrangements into joint operations and joint ventures. Entities are required to determine the type of an arrangement by considering the structure, legal form, contractual terms and other facts and circumstances relevant to their rights and obligations under the arrangement. Joint arrangements which are classified as joint operations under IFRS 11 are recognized on a line-by-line basis to the extent of the joint operator's interest in the joint operation. All other joint arrangements are classified as joint ventures under IFRS 11 and are required to be accounted for using the equity method in the Company and its subsidiaries' consolidated financial statements. Proportionate consolidation is no longer allowed as an accounting policy choice.

As a result of the adoption of IFRS 11, the Company and its subsidiaries have changed their accounting policy with respect to their interests in joint arrangements and re-evaluated their involvement in their joint arrangements. The adoption of IFRS 11 did not have any material impact on the financial position and the financial result of the Company and its subsidiaries.

IFRS 12, 'Disclosure of interests in other entities' brings together into a single standard all the disclosure requirements relevant to an entity's interests in subsidiaries, joint arrangements, associates and unconsolidated structured entities. The disclosures required by IFRS 12 are generally more extensive than those previously required by the respective standards.

IFRS 13, 'Fair value measurement' replaces existing guidance in individual IFRSs with a single source of fair value measurement guidance. IFRS 13 also contains extensive disclosure requirements about fair value measurements for both financial instruments and non-financial instruments. The adoption of IFRS 13 did not have any material impact on the fair value measurements of the Company and its subsidiaries' assets and liabilities.

Amendments to IAS 19, 'Employee benefits' introduces a number of amendments to the accounting for defined benefit plans. Among them, revised IAS 19 eliminates the "corridor method" under which the recognition of actuarial gains and losses relating to defined benefit schemes could be deferred and recognized in profit or loss over the expected average remaining service lives of employees. Under the revised standard, all actuarial gains and losses are required to be recognized immediately in other comprehensive income. Revised IAS 19 also changed the basis for determining income from plan assets from expected return to interest income calculated at the liability discount rate, and requires immediate recognition of past service cost, whether vested or not. This change in accounting policy did not have any material impact on the financial position and the financial result of the Company and its subsidiaries.

•Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2009-2011 Cycle contains amendments to five standards with consequential amendments to other standards and interpretations. Among them, IAS 1 has been amended to clarify that an opening balance sheet is required only when a retrospective application of an accounting policy, a retrospective restatement or a reclassification has a material effect on the information presented in the opening balance sheet. The amendments also remove the requirement to present related notes to the opening balance sheet when such statement is presented. The adoption of the amendments did not have an impact on these financial statements because the Company and its subsidiaries have not made retrospective restatements during the periods presented.

•Amendments to IFRS 7 – Disclosures – Offsetting financial assets and financial liabilities. The amendments introduce new disclosures in respect of offsetting financial assets and financial liabilities. Those new disclosures are required for all recognized financial instruments that are set off in accordance with IAS 32, Financial instruments: Presentation and those that are subject to an enforceable master netting arrangement or similar agreement that covers similar financial instruments and transactions, irrespective of whether the financial instruments are set off in accordance with IAS 32.

The adoption of the amendments did not have an impact on the Company and its subsidiaries' financial statements because the Company and its subsidiaries have not offset financial instruments, nor have they entered into master netting arrangement or similar agreement which is subject to the disclosures of IFRS 7 during the periods presented.

Directors and certain senior management of the Company perform the function as the chief operating decision maker (collectively referred to as the “senior management”). The senior management reviews the internal reporting of the Company and its subsidiaries in order to assess performance and allocate resources. The Company has determined the operating segments based on these reports. The reportable segments of the Company are the PRC power segment, Singapore segment and all other segments (mainly including port and transportation operations). No operating segments have been aggregated to form a reportable segment.

Senior management assesses the performance of the operating segments based on a measure of profit before income tax expense under China Accounting Standard for Business Enterprises (“PRC GAAP”) excluding dividend income received from available-for-sale financial assets and operating results of the centrally managed and resource allocation functions of headquarters (“Segment Results”). Other information provided, except as noted below, to the senior management of the Company is measured under PRC GAAP.

Segment assets exclude prepaid income tax, deferred income tax assets, available-for-sale financial assets and assets related to the centrally managed and resource allocation functions of headquarters that are not attributable to any operating segment (“corporate assets”). Segment liabilities exclude current income tax liabilities, deferred income tax liabilities and liabilities related to the centrally managed and resource allocation functions of headquarters that are not attributable to any operating segment (“corporate liabilities”). These are part of the reconciliation to total balance sheet assets and liabilities.

All sales among the operating segments were performed at market price or close to market price, and have been eliminated as internal transactions when preparing consolidated financial statements.

-- 79 --

(a) Effect of the recorded amounts received in advance in previous years

In accordance with the tariff setting mechanism applicable to certain power plants of the Company in previous years, certain power plants of the Company received payments in advance in the previous years (calculated at 1% of the original cost of fixed assets) as the major repair and maintenance cost of these power plants. Such receipts in advance are recognized as liabilities under IFRS and are recognized in profit or loss when the repairs and maintenance is performed and the liabilities are extinguished. In accordance with PRC GAAP, when preparing the financial statements, revenue is computed based on actual power sold and the tariff currently set by the State, no such amounts are recorded.

(b) Difference in the recognition of housing benefits to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries in previous years

The Company and its subsidiaries once provided staff quarters to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries and sold such staff quarters to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries at preferential prices set by the local housing reform office. Difference between cost of the staff quarters and proceeds from the employees represented the housing losses, and was borne by the Company and its subsidiaries.

Under Previous Accounting Standards and Accounting System (“Previous PRC GAAP”), in accordance with the relevant regulations issued by the Ministry of Finance, such housing losses incurred by the Company and its subsidiaries are fully charged to non-operating expenses in previous years. Under IFRS, such housing losses incurred by the Company and its subsidiaries are recognized on a straight-line basis over the estimated remaining average service lives of the employees.

(c) Effect of depreciation on the capitalization of borrowing costs in previous years

In previous years, under Previous PRC GAAP, the scope of capitalization of borrowing costs was limited to specific borrowings, and thus, borrowing costs arising from general borrowings were not capitalized. In accordance with IFRS, the Company and its subsidiaries capitalized borrowing on general borrowing used for the purpose of obtaining qualifying assets in addition to the capitalization of borrowing costs on specific borrowings. From 1 January 2007 onwards, the Company and its subsidiaries adopted PRC GAAP No. 17 prospectively, the current adjustments represent the related depreciation on capitalized borrowing costs included in the cost of related assets under IFRS in previous years.

(d) Differences in accounting treatment on business combinations under common control

Huaneng Group is the parent company of HIPDC, which in turn is also the ultimate parent of the Company. The Company carried out a series of acquisitions from Huaneng Group and HIPDC in previous years. As the acquired power companies and plants and the Company were under common control of Huaneng Group before and after the acquisitions, such acquisitions are regarded as business combinations under common control.

In accordance with PRC GAAP, under common control business combination, the assets and liabilities acquired in business combinations are measured at the carrying amounts of the acquirees on the acquisition date. The difference between carrying amounts of the net assets acquired and the consideration paid is adjusted to equity account of the acquirer. The operating results for all periods presented are retrospectively restated as if the current structure and operations resulting from the acquisition had been in existence since the beginning of the earliest year presented, with financial data of previously separate entities consolidated. The cash consideration paid by the Company is treated as an equity transaction in the year of acquisition.

For the business combination occurred prior to 1 January 2007, in accordance with Previous PRC GAAP, when equity interests acquired is less than 100%, the assets and liabilities of the acquirees are measured at their carrying amounts. The excess of consideration over the proportionate share of the carrying amounts of the net assets acquired was recorded as equity investment difference and amortized on a straight-line basis for not more than 10 years. When acquiring the entire equity, the entire assets and liabilities are accounted for in a method similar to purchase accounting. Goodwill arising from such transactions is amortized over the estimated useful lives on a straight-line basis. On 1 January 2007, in accordance with PRC GAAP, the unamortized equity investment differences and goodwill arising from business combinations under common control were written off against undistributed profits.

Under IFRS, the Company and its subsidiaries adopted the purchase method to account for the acquisitions above. The assets and liabilities acquired in acquisitions were recorded at fair value by the acquirer. The excess of acquisition cost over the proportionate share of fair value of net identifiable assets acquired was recorded as goodwill. Goodwill is not amortized but is tested annually for impairment and carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. The operating results of the acquirees are consolidated in the operating results of the Company and its subsidiaries from the acquisition dates onwards.

As mentioned above, the differences in accounting treatment under PRC GAAP and IFRS on business combinations under common control affect both equity and profit. Meanwhile, due to different measurement basis of the assets acquired, depreciation and amortization in the period subsequent to the acquisition will be affected which will also affect the equity and profit or loss upon subsequent disposals of such investments. Such differences will be gradually eliminated following subsequent depreciation, amortization and disposal of related assets.

(e) Deferred income tax impact on GAAP differences

This represents related deferred income tax impact on the GAAP differences above where applicable.
