Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)

1. Basis of presentation

The accompanying unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of Vital Images, Inc. (the “Company”) have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-Q and Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and notes required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. In the opinion of management, all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments, for a fair statement have been included. Operating results for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for any subsequent quarter or for the year ending December 31, 2010. The December 31, 2009 condensed consolidated balance sheet information was derived from audited financial statements but does not include all disclosures required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009.

The Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated. The Company views its operations and manages its business as one reportable segment - the development and marketing of software and related products and services for advanced visualization and analysis solutions for use by medical professionals in clinical analysis and therapy planning. Factors used to identify the Company’s single operating segment include the financial information available for evaluation by the chief operating decision maker in making decisions about how to allocate resources and assess performance. The Company markets its products and services through a direct sales force, resellers and independent distributors in the United States and international markets.

Certain reclassifications have been made to prior period operating expense amounts in order to conform to the current period presentation. Specifically, expenses related to certain product development related activities were reclassified from general and administrative expense and sales and marketing expense to research and development expense and therefore had no effect on previously reported stockholder’s equity, net loss, or net cash flows.

Operating expenses for the three and six months ended June 30, 2009 as reported and as reclassified were as follows:

	For the Three Months Ended June 30, 2009		For the Six Months Ended June 30, 2009

3. Research and development

In January 2009, the Company and Toshiba entered into a development agreement under which Toshiba provides funding in support of the Company's research and development efforts, and the parties work collaboratively to develop and deliver innovative technology advancements for Toshiba's medical equipment and the Company's advanced visualization software solutions. Software developed under the agreement is owned by the Company, and intellectual property in either party's possession that may be useful in the development efforts or that is produced during the development activities is subject to cross-licenses. For payments received under the agreement, the Company's policy is to offset research and development expense in the period in which the related costs are incurred. The agreement does not require repayment of payments previously received by the Company and offset against incurred expenses.

Table of Contents

Receipt of payments by the Company from Toshiba and recognition of offsets to the Company's research and development expense for reimbursement from Toshiba to offset the development costs the Company incurred during the period under the agreement were as follows (in thousands):

	For the Three Months Ended		For the Six Months Ended

4. Equity-based compensation

During the three months ended March 31, 2010, the Company initiated a cash tender offer for certain employee stock options in an effort to reduce its stock option overhang. The tender offer expired on March 19, 2010. Pursuant to the tender offer, employees tendered for purchase 360,000 options, and the Company accepted for purchase all such options. As a result, the Company paid an aggregate of $194,000 to the participating employees and incurred a equity-based compensation expense of $692,000 related to the remaining unamortized equity-based compensation expense associated with the options tendered in the offer. The tender offer applied to outstanding stock options held by employees with an exercise price equal to or greater than $25.00 per share. The price offered for each eligible stock option was at a discount to its Black-Scholes fair value.

The following table illustrates how equity-based compensation, including the expense related to the tender offer that expired on March 19, 2010, was allocated to the condensed consolidated statements of operations (in thousands):

	For the Three Months Ended		For the Six Months Ended
	June 30,		June 30,
	2010	2009	2010	2009
Cost of revenue	$62	$81	$199	$161
Sales and marketing	129	312	559	624
Research and development	194	234	608	465
General and administrative	254	355	760	724
Total equity-based compensation expense	$639	$982	$2,126	$1,974

As of June 30, 2010, approximately $4.8 million of unrecognized compensation expense related to stock options was expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 2.7 years. As of June 30, 2010, approximately $250,000 of unrecognized compensation expense related to restricted stock awards was expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 2.7 years.

The fair value of each option award is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option valuation model. The Black-Scholes option valuation model requires the development of assumptions that are input into the model. These assumptions include the expected stock volatility, the risk-free interest rate, the option's expected life and the dividend yield on the underlying stock.

Table of Contents

For purposes of calculating the fair value of options under applicable accounting standards, the weighted-average fair value of options granted was $5.09 and $5.70 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, respectively, and $3.94 and $3.44 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2009, respectively. The weighted-average fair values for the options were based on the fair values on the dates of grant. The fair values for the options were calculated using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model, with the following weighted-average assumptions and expense adjusted using the following expected forfeiture rate assumptions:

	For the Three Months Ended June 30,		For the Six Months Ended June 30,
	2010	2009	2010	2009
Expected option life	3.23 years	3.26 years	3.64 years	3.67 years
Expected volatility factor	46	% 49	% 46	% 48
Expected dividend yield	0	% 0	% 0	% 0
Risk-free interest rate	1.56	% 1.48	% 1.90	% 1.56
Expected forfeiture rate	2	% 2	% 2	% 2

The following table summarizes stock option activity for the six months ended June 30, 2010:

	Shares Underlying Options
Total outstanding as of December 31, 2009	2,639,767
Options granted	398,000
Options exercised	(142,017)
Options cancelled	(567,560)
Total outstanding as of June 30, 2010	2,328,190

Options granted during the six months ended June 30, 2010 consisted primarily of the Company's annual grant to employees during the three months ended March 31, 2010 and the Company's annual grant to its board of directors during the three months ended June 30, 2010. Options cancelled during the six months ended June 30, 2010 included cancellation of options for 360,000 shares resulting from the tender offer during the three months ended March 31, 2010.

The following table summarizes restricted shares activity for the six months ended June 30, 2010:

	Restricted Shares
Total outstanding as of December 31, 2009	49,123
Shares vested	(4,536)
Shares forfeited/cancelled	(18,000)
Total outstanding as of June 30, 2010	26,587

5. Asset impairment

In 2007, the Company began the implementation of an enterprise resource planning (“ERP”) system. The ERP system was intended to replace numerous disconnected business management software applications and link the data contained within these disconnected systems to enable better management of the Company’s business and derive more useful data for various business functions, such as sales, marketing, finance and customer support.

Table of Contents

Phase 1 of the implementation, which related to the replacement of the Company's general ledger, was completed in 2007. As of June 30, 2010, the net book value of Phase 1 was $523,000. Phase 2 of the implementation, which consisted of replacing the Company's various customer relationship management and order processing systems, was put on hold in 2008 in conjunction with cost-control efforts. In 2009, the Company determined, in conjunction with continued cost-control measures, that it would not implement Phase 2. As a result, in 2009 the Company recognized an asset impairment charge of $3.1 million related to costs incurred for the discontinued Phase 2 implementation.

6. Per share data

Basic net loss per share is computed using net loss and the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted net loss per share reflects the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding plus any potentially dilutive shares outstanding during the period. Potentially dilutive shares consist of shares issuable upon the exercise of stock options, as well as unvested restricted stock.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, common share equivalents are not included in the diluted net loss per share calculations because they were antidilutive due to the Company having a net loss for each of the periods. Shares subject to antidilutive stock options and restricted stock awards excluded from net loss per share totaled 2.4 million for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, and 2.7 million for the three and six months ended June 30, 2009.

7. Comprehensive income (loss)

Comprehensive income (loss) includes net income (loss) and items defined as other comprehensive income. Accounting standards require that items defined as other comprehensive income (loss), such as unrealized gains and losses on certain marketable securities, be separately classified in the financial statements. Such items are reported in the consolidated statements of stockholders' equity as comprehensive income (loss).

The components of comprehensive loss were as follows (in thousands):

	For the Three Months Ended		For the Six Months Ended
	2010	2009	2010	2009
Net loss	$ (1,646)	$ (19,621)	$ (2,738)	$ (19,872)

11. Income taxes

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, the Company recognized provisions for income taxes of $21,000 and $45,000, respectively, relating entirely to foreign income taxes. During the three months ended June 30, 2009, the Company recorded a non-cash charge of $15.0 million to the provision for income taxes to establish a full valuation allowance against its deferred tax assets. As of June 30, 2010, the Company's deferred tax assets remained fully reserved with a valuation allowance based on its assessment of cumulative pretax results in recent years and projections of cumulative pretax results in future periods. If pretax results improve in future periods, the Company may be able to utilize the deferred tax assets to reduce the tax provision and related payments.

12. Commitments and contingencies

Under general contract terms, the Company often includes provisions in its software license agreements under which the Company agrees to indemnify its customers against liability and damages arising from claims of patent, copyright, trademark or trade secret infringement by the Company's software. The Company has not incurred any material costs as a result of this type of indemnification clause, and the Company does not maintain a product warranty liability reserve related to such indemnification clauses.

The Company has entered into various employment agreements with certain executives of the Company, which include provisions for severance payments subject to certain conditions and events.

The Company is involved in various claims and legal actions in the normal course of business. The outcome of such legal actions, even if unfavorable, will not have a significant adverse effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

13. Share repurchase program

As of the June 30, 2010, the Company had a share repurchase program in place, under which there remained 566,000 shares authorized for repurchase on the open market. The Company completed stock repurchases under this program of 21,000 shares for $277,000 during the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, inclusive of fees and expenses. Subsequent to June 30, 2010 and through August 6, 2010, the Company had purchased 91,000 shares for $1.2 million under the program, bringing the total aggregate shares repurchased under this share repurchase program to 525,000 shares. At the time of repurchase, shares are returned to the status of authorized and unissued shares. The Company has accounted for repurchases as constructively retired and recorded such repurchases as a reduction of common stock and additional paid-in capital.

On August 4, 2010, the Company announced an additional share repurchase program, authorizing up to $20.0 million of shares to be repurchased on the open market.

14. Recent accounting pronouncements

In October 2009, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2009-13, Multiple-Deliverable Revenue Arrangements—a consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force, that provides amendments to the criteria for separating consideration in multiple-deliverable arrangements. The ASU does not apply to arrangements for which industry specific allocation and measurement guidance exists, such as long-term construction contracts and software transactions. The Company will adopt ASU No. 2009-13 on January 1, 2011. The Company may elect to adopt the provisions prospectively for new or materially modified arrangements beginning on the effective date or retrospectively for all periods presented. The Company does not expect that the adoption of this standard will have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In October 2009, the FASB issued ASU No. 2009-14, Certain Revenue Arrangements That Include Software Elements—a consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force, that reduces the types of transactions that fall within the current scope of software revenue recognition guidance. Existing software revenue recognition guidance requires that its provisions be applied to an entire arrangement when the sale of any products or services containing or utilizing software when the software is considered more than incidental to the product or service. The ASU also provides guidance on how to allocate transaction consideration when an arrangement contains both deliverables within the scope of software revenue guidance (software deliverables) and deliverables not within the scope of that guidance (non-software deliverables, such as hardware). The Company will adopt ASU No. 2009-14 on January 1, 2011. The Company may elect to adopt the provisions prospectively for new or materially modified arrangements beginning on the effective date or retrospectively for all periods presented. However, the Company must elect the same transition method for this guidance as that chosen for ASU No. 2009-13. The Company does not expect that the adoption of this standard will have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Executive summary

The financial results for Vital Images, Inc. (also referred to as "we", "us" and "our") have continued to be affected by the weakness in the U.S. economy, evidenced by contracted capital spending by U.S. hospitals and low interest rates on our cash and investments. While our distribution partner Toshiba continues to face a challenging high-end computed tomography, or CT, scanner market, we offset the decreased Toshiba revenue with growth in our direct and other distributor business.

Vital Images, Inc. summary results for the three months ended June 30, 2010, were as follows:

- Revenue increased 4% to $14.0 million, compared to $13.4 million for the second quarter of 2009.
- Gross margin was 69.4%, compared to 75.7% for the second quarter of 2009.
- Loss before income taxes was $1.6 million, compared to $4.6 million for the second quarter of 2009.
- Net loss was $1.6 million, or $(0.11) per diluted share, compared to $19.6 million, or $(1.37) per diluted share, for the second quarter of 2009, which included non-cash charges of $18.1 million related to an asset impairment and the establishment of a full valuation allowance against our deferred tax assets.

Vital Images, Inc. summary results for the six months ended June 30, 2010, were as follows:

- Revenue increased 2% to $28.7 million, compared to $28.2 million for the first six months of 2009.
- Gross margin was 72.2%, compared to 75.8% for the first six months of 2009.
- Loss before income taxes was $2.7 million, compared to $5.2 million for the first six months of 2009.
- Net loss was $2.7 million, or $(0.19) per diluted share, compared to $19.9 million, or $(1.38) per diluted share, for the first six months of 2009, which included non-cash charges of $18.1 million in the second quarter of 2009.

Total cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities were $143.1 million as of June 30, 2010, compared to $143.0 million as of March 31, 2010 and $142.2 million as of December 31, 2009. Working capital (defined as current assets less current liabilities) was $108.6 million as of June 30, 2010, a decrease from $128.1 million as of March 31, 2010 and $121.0 million as of December 31, 2009. The decrease in working capital as of June 30, 2010, compared to March 31, 2010 and December 31, 2009, was due primarily to purchases of noncurrent marketable securities during the three months ended June 30, 2010.

Overview

We are a leading provider of advanced visualization and analysis software for physicians and healthcare specialists. We provide software, customer education, software maintenance and support, professional services and, on occasion, third-party hardware to our customers. Our technology rapidly transforms complex data generated by diagnostic imaging equipment into functional digital images that can be manipulated and analyzed using our specialized applications to better understand internal anatomy and pathology. Our solutions are designed to improve physician workflow and productivity, enhance the ability to make clinical decisions, facilitate less invasive patient care, and complement often significant capital investments in diagnostic imaging equipment made by our customers. Our software is compatible with equipment from all major manufacturers of diagnostic imaging equipment, such as CT scanners, and can be integrated into PACS. Many hospitals use PACS to acquire, distribute and archive medical images and diagnostic reports, reducing the need for film and increasing reliance on advanced visualization solutions such as ours. We have adopted various accounting policies to prepare the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The most significant accounting policies are disclosed in Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009. The preparation of these financial statements requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates. We continually evaluate our critical accounting policies and estimates. We discuss our critical accounting estimates in “Item 7. Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2009. We did not have any significant changes in our critical accounting policies or estimates since December 31, 2009.

License fee revenue (dollars in thousands)

The following table sets forth information on license fee revenue by source (dollars in thousands):

	For the Three Months Ended				For the Six Months Ended

Toshiba	70 %	92 %			76 %	84 %
Total license fee revenue	100 %	100 %			100 %	100 %

The increase in license fee revenue during the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods in 2009, was driven primarily by an increase in direct and other distributors license fee revenue in the U.S. This was partially offset by decreased Toshiba license fee revenue, reflecting weakness in the U.S. and European markets for high-end CT equipment.

Maintenance and services revenue (dollars in thousands)

	For the Three Months Ended				For the Six Months Ended

Total maintenance and services revenue	$ 8,165	$ 8,371	$ (206)	(2)%	$ 16,969	$ 16,932	$ 37	0 %

Maintenance and services revenue stayed relatively flat compared to 2009, due to the continued pressure on new software sales, and a greater percentage of installed base customer conversions to Vitrea Enterprise Suite, which results in lower incremental maintenance and support revenue than new license sales.

The decrease in customer education revenue for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods in 2009, was due to the effect of decreased U.S. license sales, for which training is generally provided up to a year after the sale, as well as the general timing of training sessions provided.

Professional services revenue increased for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods in 2009, due to a higher percentage of enterprise sales, which generally include more professional services than non-enterprise sales, as well as the timing of professional services provided.

Toshiba	35 %	38 %		39 %	39 %
Total maintenance and services revenue	100 %	100 %		100 %	100 %

The decrease in maintenance and services revenue from Toshiba in the three months ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same period in 2009, was primarily due to decreased education revenue, and driven by lower sales through Toshiba in the U.S.

Hardware revenue

Hardware revenue increased 47% to $647,000 for the second quarter of 2010, compared to $439,000 for the second quarter of 2009, and increased 61% to $1.1 million for the first six months of 2010, compared to $672,000 for the first six months of 2009. We offer to sell hardware to our customers in conjunction with license sales, and fluctuations are driven by individual customer purchasing preferences. Sales of hardware systems are not core to our strategy, although many customers purchasing our software on an enterprise basis are choosing to also purchase the hardware for their enterprise from us. We expect hardware sales to fluctuate from period to period depending upon the needs and preferences of our customers.

Cost of revenue and gross profit

A comparison of gross profit and gross margin by revenue category is as follows (dollars in thousands):

Hardware	(3.1)%	3.4 %		(2.4)%	5.8 %
Total gross margin	69.4 %	75.7 %		72.2 %	75.8 %

License fee gross margins decreased for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods in 2009. The decrease in gross margin was primarily due to a change in product mix, including a higher number of installed base customer conversions to Vitrea Enterprise Suite, which results in lower upfront revenue and therefore lower upfront gross margin than new license sales, a lower number of Vitrea sales, which more often carry a higher upfront gross margin than customer conversions to Vitrea Enterprise Suite, and increased third party software sales, which carry lower margin. Pricing pressure in the market and increased royalty expense also contributed to the decrease.

Maintenance and services gross margins decreased for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods in 2009, due to increased costs related to customer upgrades and an increased number of temporary services personnel and contractors. We had 52 permanent services personnel as of both June 30, 2010 and 2009.

Hardware gross margins decreased for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods in 2009, due to variability in pricing during the periods. Hardware margin was negative for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, due primarily to certain strategic sales transactions for which the revenue allocated to hardware was lower than the cost of the hardware.

Sales and marketing expense decreased for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods in 2009. Equity-based compensation decreased due to certain restricted stock awards becoming fully vested in the first quarter of 2010 and the reduction in unvested options outstanding subsequent to the tender offer in March 2010, described in the "Tender offer" section below. Depreciation expense decreased as assets became fully depreciated. These decreases were partially offset by increased utilization of consultants for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods in 2009. We had 68 and 71 sales and marketing personnel as of June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

We will continue to manage sales and marketing expenses based on market conditions and business opportunities.

The increase in research and development expenses for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods in 2009, resulted from increased outside services and consulting expenses related to test and product development services that were partially offset by decreased salaries and benefits expense resulting from the termination of 20 employees in our Beijing office in August 2009 in conjunction with our decision to discontinue test and product development activities there. We had 83 and 114 research and development personnel as of June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

We will continue to devote resources to develop applications and solutions to improve the cost, quality and accessibility of health care.

General and administrative expenses decreased during the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods in 2009. Accounting, auditing and legal fees decreased for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, as a result of the timing and nature of services provided. Equity-based compensation increased slightly for the six months ended June 30, 2010 due to the tender offer in March 2010, described in the "Tender offer" section below, but decreased for the three months ended June 30, 2010 as fewer unvested options remained outstanding subsequent to the tender offer. We had 38 and 43 general and administrative personnel as of June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

We will continue to manage general and administrative expenses relative to changes in the business.

Tender offer

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, we initiated a cash tender offer for certain employee stock options in an effort to reduce the number of our stock options outstanding. The tender offer expired on March 19, 2010. Pursuant to the tender offer, employees tendered for purchase 360,000 options, and we accepted for purchase all such options. As a result, we paid an aggregate of $194,000 to the participating employees and incurred a equity-based compensation expense of $692,000 related to the remaining unamortized equity-based compensation expense associated with the options tendered in the offer. The tender offer applied to outstanding stock options held by employees with an exercise price equal to or greater than $25.00 per share. The price offered for each eligible stock option was at a discount to its Black-Scholes fair value.

Interest income

We generated $130,000 of interest income in the second quarter of 2010, compared to $330,000 in the second quarter of 2009, and generated $238,000 of interest income for the first six months of 2010, compared to $760,000 for the first six months of 2009. The decrease for the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods in 2009, was due to a decline in interest rates and decreased investment in higher yielding U.S. government obligations which matured in fiscal 2009.

Income taxes

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2010, we recognized a tax provision of $21,000 and $45,000, respectively, relating entirely to our foreign operations. During the three months ended June 30, 2009, we recorded a non-cash charge of $15.0 million to the provision for income taxes to establish a full valuation allowance against our deferred tax assets. As of June 30, 2010, our deferred tax assets remained fully reserved with a valuation allowance based on our assessment of cumulative pretax results in recent years and projections of cumulative pretax results in future periods. If pretax results improve in future periods, we may be able to utilize the deferred tax assets to reduce our tax provision and related payments.

Liquidity and capital resources

The following table sets forth certain relevant measures of our liquidity and capital resources (in thousands):

	June 30, 2010	December 31, 2009
Cash and cash equivalents	$100,757	$120,317
Marketable securities - current	16,347	9,673
Marketable securities - noncurrent	25,969	12,234
Cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities	$143,073	$142,224
Working capital	$108,553	$121,034
Debt	$-	$-

Cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities as of June 30, 2010 did not change significantly compared to December 31, 2009. Working capital as of June 30, 2010 decreased from December 31, 2009 due primarily to investments in noncurrent marketable securities during the six months ended June 30, 2010.

We believe our existing cash and investments will satisfy our foreseeable working capital requirements for at least the next 12 months. Additionally, we believe our liquidity and strong balance sheet enable us to execute our repurchases of common stock under our existing share repurchase program while still investing in our enterprise solution and marketing strategy and remaining well positioned to pursue strategic acquisition opportunities if and when they emerge.

Summary of Cash Flows

A summary of cash flows is as follows (in thousands):

	For the Six Months Ended
	June 30,
	2010	2009
Cash provided by (used in):
Operating activities	$ 458	$ 931
Investing activities	(21,189)	4,306
Financing activities	1,171	(4,837)
Net change in cash and cash equivalents	$ (19,560)	$ 400

Operating activities

Net cash provided by operating activities was $458,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2010, compared to net cash provided by operating activities of $931,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2009. The decrease in cash from operating activities was primarily due to the timing of receipts and payments in the ordinary course of business. The change in accounts receivable for the six months ended June 30, 2010, reflected a $14,000 use of cash, compared to a $1.6 million source of cash for the same period in 2009. Changes in the accounts receivable balance each period result primarily from the amount and timing of sales within the quarter and the timing of receipts from large enterprise transactions and channel partners. Our days' sales outstanding (calculated by dividing ending net accounts receivable by revenue per day) was relatively constant at 77 days as of June 30, 2010, compared to 74 days as of June 30, 2009. The change in deferred revenue for the six months ended June 30, 2010, reflected a $324,000 source of cash, compared to a $1.9 million use of cash for the same period in 2009. Changes in the deferred revenue balance each period are primarily affected by sales for the preceding four quarters and the timing of services provided.

Investing activities

Cash used in investing activities was $21.2 million for the first six months of 2010, compared to cash provided by investing activities of $4.3 million for the same period in 2009.

We used $25.4 million and $16.8 million to purchase investments in marketable securities in the first six months of 2010 and 2009, respectively. We realized $5.0 million and $22.7 million of proceeds from maturities of marketable securities in the first six months of 2010 and 2009, respectively. As of June 30, 2010, our marketable securities consist of U.S. government obligations and corporate commercial obligations.

We used $820,000 and $1.6 million for purchases of property and equipment in the six months ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively. The purchases for both periods were principally to upgrade computer equipment. We anticipate that we will continue to purchase property and equipment in the normal course of business. The amount and timing of these purchases and the related cash outflows in future periods are difficult to predict and depend on a number of factors, including the hiring of employees and the rate of change of computer hardware.

Financing activities

Cash provided by financing activities totaled $1.2 million for the first six months of 2010, compared to cash used in financing activities of $4.8 million for the same period in 2009. The primary source of cash in 2010 was $1.6 million in proceeds from the sale of common stock under stock plans, of which $1.4 million related to the exercise of stock options. The primary use of cash in 2009 was $5.8 million for repurchases of common stock under our stock repurchase programs.

We have never paid or declared any dividends and do not intend to pay dividends in the foreseeable future.

Off-balance-sheet arrangements

We did not have any off-balance sheet arrangements as of June 30, 2010 or December 31, 2009.

Other purchase commitments

We had no significant outstanding purchase commitments as of June 30, 2010. We have entered into a number of technology licensing agreements that provide for the payment of royalties when we sell our software products; we are not obligated for any minimum payments under such agreements.

Foreign currency transactions

Our export sales are primarily negotiated, invoiced and paid in U.S. dollars, with a portion of sales transactions denominated in foreign currencies. As we expand our direct business internationally, we expect to enter into a higher percentage of sales transactions in foreign currencies and could be subject to greater gains or losses based on exchange rate fluctuations.

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q and any other written or oral statements made by or on our behalf may include forward-looking statements that reflect our current views with respect to future events and future financial performance. Certain statements in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q are “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of Section 27(a) of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. You can identify these forward-looking statements by our use of the words “believes,” “anticipates,” “forecasts,” “projects,” “could,” “plans,” “expect,” “may,” “will,” “would,” “intends,” “estimates” and similar expressions, whether in the negative or affirmative. We wish to caution you that any forward-looking statements made by us or on our behalf are subject to uncertainties and other factors that could cause such statements to be wrong. We cannot guarantee that we actually will achieve these plans, intentions or expectations. Actual results or events could differ materially from the plans, intentions and expectations disclosed in the forward-looking statements that we make. These statements are only predictions and speak only of our views as of the date the statements were made. Although we believe that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot guarantee future results, levels of activity, and/or performance of achievements. Except as required by law, we do not assume any obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements that we make, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Factors that may impact forward-looking statements include, among others, our abilities to maintain the technological competitiveness of our current products, develop new products, successfully market our products, respond to competitive developments, develop and maintain partnerships with providers of complementary technologies, identify and close mergers and acquisitions, manage our costs and the challenges that may come with growth of our business, and attract and retain qualified sales, technical and management employees. We are also affected by the growth and regulation of the medical technology industry, including the acceptance of advanced visualization by hospitals, clinics, and universities, product clearances and approvals by the United States Food and Drug Administration and similar regulatory bodies outside the United States, and reimbursement and regulatory practices by Medicare, Medicaid, and private third-party payer organizations. We are also affected by other factors identified in our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, some of which are set forth in the section entitled “Item 1A.Risk Factors” in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009 (and many of which we have discussed in prior filings). Although we have attempted to list comprehensively these important factors, we also wish to caution investors that other factors may prove to be important in the future in affecting our operating results. New factors emerge from time to time, and it is not possible for us to predict all of these factors, nor can we assess the impact each factor or combination of factors may have on our business.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

For information regarding our exposure to certain market risks, see “Item 7A. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk,” in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2009, which is hereby incorporated herein. There have been no material changes in the financial instruments or market risk exposures from the amounts and descriptions disclosed therein.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures

We maintain disclosure controls and procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the reports that we file or submit under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (“Exchange Act”), is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the rules and forms of the Securities and Exchange Commission, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required financial disclosure.

Our management, under the supervision of and with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, has evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures, as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act, as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on such evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that, as of the end of the period covered by this report, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at a reasonable assurance level.

Limitations on the effectiveness of controls

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting. Our internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with established policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Changes in internal control over financial reporting

There were no changes in internal control over financial reporting during the quarter ended June 30, 2010 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

These risks and uncertainties, together with other factors described elsewhere in this report, have the potential to affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows, strategies or prospects in a material and adverse manner. New risks may emerge at any time, and we cannot predict those risks or estimate the extent to which they may affect financial performance.
