NVE CORPORATION
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(Unaudited)

NOTE 1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

We develop and sell devices that use spintronics, a nanotechnology that relies on electron spin rather than electron charge to acquire, store, and transmit information.

NOTE 2. INTERIM FINANCIAL INFORMATION AND SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The accompanying unaudited financial statements of NVE Corporation are consistent with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States and reporting with Securities and Exchange Commission rules and regulations. In the opinion of management, these financial statements reflect all adjustments, consisting only of normal and recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair presentation of the financial statements. Although we believe that the disclosures are adequate to make the information presented not misleading, it is suggested that these unaudited financial statements be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements and the notes included in our latest annual financial statements included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009. The results of operations for the quarter ended September 30, 2009 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the full fiscal year ending March 31, 2010.

We evaluated all events or transactions that occurred after September 30, 2009 through October 21, 2009, the date we issued these financial statements. During this period we did not have any material recognizable subsequent events.

NOTE 3. RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

In June 2009, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 168, The FASB Accounting Standards Codification and the Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles a replacement of FASB Statement No. 162. SFAS No. 168 was codified as Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) Topic 105-10 and replaces SFAS No. 162, The Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, to establish the FASB ASC as the source of authoritative accounting principles recognized by the FASB to be applied by nongovernmental entities in preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. We adopted ASC Topic 105-10 effective for the quarter ended September 30, 2009 and the adoption did not result in a significant impact on our financial statements.

NOTE 4. NET INCOME PER SHARE

Basic earnings per share are computed based on the weighted-average number of common shares issued and outstanding during each period. Diluted net income per share amounts assume conversion, exercise or issuance of all potential common stock instruments (stock options and warrants). Stock options and warrants totaling 1,000 for the quarter and six months ended September 30, 2009 and 60,000 for the quarter and six months ended September 30, 2008 were not included in the computation of diluted earnings per share because the exercise prices of the options and warrants were greater than the market price of the common stock. The following table reflects the components of common shares outstanding:

| | Quarter Ended Sept. 30 | |

Gross unrealized losses at September 30, 2009 were attributable to our municipal bonds. The gross unrealized losses were primarily due to interest rate fluctuations and market-price changes. Although several of the bonds we hold were downgraded by Moody's or Standard and Poor's during the six months ended September 30, 2009, all of the bonds that were rated by Moody's or Standard and Poor's had investment-grade credit ratings, and a substantial majority were rated A3/A- or better. For each bond with an unrealized loss, we determined that it was not probable that we would not collect all amounts due. In reaching this determination, we considered factors including the credit ratings of the bonds, the underlying ratings of insured bonds, whether the bonds were prefunded, and historical default rates for securities of comparable credit rating. Because we determined that it was not probable that we would not collect all amounts due, and because we have the ability and intent to hold our bonds until a recovery of fair value, which may be maturity, we did not consider any of our marketable securities to be other-than-temporarily impaired at September 30, 2009.

| Less inventory reserve | (300,000) | (300,000) |
| Total inventories | $ 1,864,989 | $ 2,247,621 |

NOTE 8. STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION

Stock-based compensation expense was $95,244 for the second quarter of fiscal 2010, $69,878 for the second quarter of fiscal 2009, $100,842 for the first six months of fiscal 2010, and $75,476 for the first six months of fiscal 2009. Stock-based compensation expenses for the quarter and six months ended September 30, 2009 and 2008 were non-cash and primarily due to the issuance of automatic stock options to our non-employee directors on their reelection to our Board. The increases in stock-based compensation for the quarter and six months ended September 30, 2009 compared to the prior-year periods were primarily due to a higher stock price at the date of grant compared to the prior-year date of grant. We calculate the share-based compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the vesting periods of the related share-based awards.

NOTE 9. INCOME TAXES

Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amount of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for income tax purposes. Tax provisions of $280,448 for the the six months ended September 30, 2009 and $236,524 for the six months ended September 30, 2008 were credited to Additional paid-in capital.

At September 30, 2009 we had no unrecognized tax benefits and we do not expect any significant unrecognized tax benefits within twelve months of the reporting date. We recognize interest and penalties related to income tax matters in income tax expense. As of September 30, 2009 we had no accrued interest related to uncertain tax positions. The years 1999 through 2008 remain open to examination by the major taxing jurisdictions to which we are subject.

NOTE 10. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

Generally accepted accounting principles establish a framework for measuring fair value, provide a definition of fair value and prescribe required disclosures about fair-value measurements. Generally accepted accounting principles define fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability. Fair value is a market-based measurement that should be determined using assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability. Generally accepted accounting principles utilize a valuation hierarchy for disclosure of fair value measurements. The categorization within the valuation hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The categories within the valuation hierarchy are described as follows:

Table of Contents

Level 1 Financial instruments with quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities. Our Level 1 financial instruments consist of publicly-traded marketable debt securities that are classified as available-for-sale. On the balance sheets, available-for-sale securities are classified as Marketable securities, short term and Marketable securities, long term. The fair value of our available-for-sale securities was $41,036,494 at September 30, 2009 and $32,446,748 at March 31, 2009.

Level 2 Financial instruments with quoted prices in active markets for similar assets or liabilities. Level 2 fair value measurements are determined using either prices for similar instruments or inputs that are either directly or indirectly observable, such as interest rates. We do not have any financial assets or liabilities being measured at fair value that are classified as Level 2 financial instruments.

Level 3 Inputs to the fair value measurement are unobservable inputs or valuation techniques. We do not have any financial assets or liabilities being measured at fair value that are classified as Level 3 financial instruments.

NOTE 11. STOCK REPURCHASE PLAN

On January 21, 2009 we announced that our Board of Directors authorized the repurchase of up to $2,500,000 of our Common Stock. The repurchase program may be modified or discontinued at any time without notice. We did not repurchase any of our Common Stock during the quarter or six months ended September 30, 2009.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

To the extent that this Report contains forward-looking statements regarding the financial condition, operating results, business prospects or any other aspect of NVE, you should be aware that our actual financial condition, operating results and business performance may differ materially from that projected or estimated by us in the forward-looking statements. We have attempted to identify, in context, some of the factors that we currently believe may cause actual future experience and results to differ from their current expectations. These differences may be caused by a variety of factors, including but not limited to an uncertain economic environment, risks associated with our marketable securities, competition including entry of new competitors, progress in research and development activities by us and others, variations in costs that are beyond our control, adverse legal proceedings, lower sales, failure of suppliers to meet our requirements, failure to obtain new customers, inability to carry out marketing and sales plans, inability to meet customer technical requirements, inability to consummate license agreements, ineligibility for SBIR awards, loss of key executives, and other specific risks that may be alluded to in this Report or in the documents incorporated by reference in this Report.

Further information regarding our risks and uncertainties are contained in Part I, Item 1A Risk Factors of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended March 31, 2009.

| Interest and other income | 6.0% | 4.8% | 41.9% |
| Income before taxes | 61.5% | 59.2% | 18.0% |
| Provision for income taxes | 20.1% | 19.0% | 20.0% |
| Net income | 41.4% | 40.2% | 17.1% |

Total revenue for the quarter ended September 30, 2009 (the second quarter of fiscal 2010) increased 14% to $6,508,501 compared to $5,727,790 for the quarter ended September 30, 2008 (the second quarter of fiscal 2009). The increase was due to a 6% increase in product sales and a 55% increase in contract research and development revenue. The increase in product sales was due to the addition of new customers and increased purchase volume by existing customers. The increase in research and development revenue was due to new contracts. The increase in research and development revenue may not be representative of future trends and there can be no assurance of additional or follow-on contracts for expired or completed contracts.

Gross profit margin was 69% of revenue for the second quarter of fiscal 2010, unchanged from the second quarter of fiscal 2009. Higher margins on both product sales and contract research and development revenue offset a less favorable revenue mix with a higher portion of revenue from contract research and development.

Selling, general, and administrative expense for the second quarter of fiscal 2010 increased 6% compared to the second quarter of fiscal 2009, primarily due to increases in salaries, commissions, and stock-based compensation expense. Stock-based compensation expenses for the quarters ended September 30, 2009 and 2008 were primarily due to the issuance of automatic stock options to our non-employee directors on their reelection to our Board. The increase in stock-based compensation for the quarter ended September 30, 2009 compared to the prior-year quarter was primarily due to a higher stock price at the date of grant compared to the prior-year date of grant.

Research and development expense increased 4% for the second quarter of fiscal 2010 compared to the second quarter of fiscal 2009 due to increased sensor and coupler product development. Our research and development expense can fluctuate significantly depending on staffing, project requirements, and contract research and development activities.

Interest and other income increased 42% to $393,198 for the second quarter of fiscal 2010 compared to $277,074 for the second quarter of fiscal 2009. The increase was due to an increase in interest-bearing marketable securities.

The provision for income taxes was $1,308,522, or 33% of income before taxes, for the second quarter of fiscal 2010 compared to $1,090,629, or 32% of income before taxes, for the second quarter of fiscal 2009. The effective tax rate can fluctuate due to a number of factors, some of which are outside our control.

The 17% increase in net income in the second quarter of fiscal 2010 compared to the prior-year quarter was primarily due to increases in product sales, contract research and development revenue, and interest income, partially offset by increased expenses.

| Interest and other income | 5.7% | 5.0% | 42.7 % |
| Income before taxes | 63.0% | 58.4% | 35.9 % |
| Provision for income taxes | 20.8% | 18.7% | 39.9 % |
| Net income | 42.2% | 39.7% | 34.0 % |

Total revenue for the six months ended September 30, 2009 increased 26% to $13,343,033 compared to $10,591,576 for the six months ended September 30, 2008. The increase was due to a 14% increase in product sales and a 124% increase in contract research and development revenue. The increase in product sales was due to the addition of new customers and increased purchase volume by existing customers. The increase in research and development revenue was due to new contracts. The increase in research and development revenue may not be representative of future trends and there can be no assurance of additional or follow-on contracts for expired or completed contracts.

Gross profit margin increased to 71% of revenue for the first six months of fiscal 2010 compared to 70% for the first six months of fiscal 2009. The increase was due to higher margins on both product sales and contract research and development revenue.

Selling, general, and administrative expense for the first six months of fiscal 2010 increased 13% compared to the first six months of fiscal 2009, primarily due to increased salaries, performance-based compensation, commissions, and stock-based compensation expense. Stock-based compensation expenses for the six months ended September 30, 2009 and 2008 were primarily due to the issuance of automatic stock options to our non-employee directors on their reelection to our Board. The increase in stock-based compensation for the six months ended September 30, 2009 compared to the prior-year period was primarily due to a higher stock price at the date of grant compared to the prior-year date of grant.

Research and development expense decreased 16% for the first six months of fiscal 2010 compared to the first six months of fiscal 2009 due to an increase in contract research and development activities, which caused resources to be reallocated from expensed research and development activities. The decrease in research and development expense for the six-month period may not be representative of future expense trends. Our research and development expense can fluctuate significantly depending on staffing, project requirements, and contract research and development activities.

Interest and other income increased 43% to $763,223 for the first six months of fiscal 2010 compared to $534,909 for first six months of fiscal 2009. The increase was due to an increase in interest-bearing marketable securities.

The provision for income taxes was $2,779,680, or 33% of income before taxes, for the first six months of fiscal 2010 compared to $1,986,686, or 32% of income before taxes, for the first six months of fiscal 2009. The effective tax rate can fluctuate due to a number of factors, some of which are outside our control.

The 34% increase in net income in the first six months of fiscal 2010 compared to the prior-year period was primarily due to increases in product sales, contract research and development revenue, and interest income.

Liquidity and capital resources

At September 30, 2009 we had $43,626,680 in cash plus short-term and long-term marketable securities compared to $34,321,811 at March 31, 2009. Our entire portfolio of short-term and long-term marketable securities is classified as available for sale. The increase in cash plus marketable securities in the first six months of fiscal 2010 was primarily due to $6,617,013 in net cash provided by operating activities, a $1,952,593 net increase in the market value of our marketable securities due to market-price changes, and $622,423 in net proceeds from the sale of common stock related to option exercises.

Deferred taxes were a $23,971 liability at September 30, 2009 compared to a $667,729 asset at March 31, 2009. The change was primarily due to a $702,771 increase in deferred taxes related to the net increase in the value of our marketable securities. Accounts receivable decreased by $413,671 at September 30, 2009 compared to March 31, 2009 due to the timing of payments by our customers. Inventories decreased by $382,632 due to raw material purchase timing and our efforts to manage certain inventories.

We currently believe our working capital is adequate for our needs at least for the next 12 months.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk.

The primary objective of our investment activities is to preserve principal while at the same time maximizing after-tax yields without significantly increasing risk. To achieve this objective, we maintain our portfolio of cash equivalents and marketable securities in a variety of securities including government agency obligations, municipal obligations, corporate obligations, and money market funds. Short-term and long-term marketable securities are generally classified as available-for-sale and consequently are recorded on the balance sheet at fair value with unrealized gains or losses reported as a separate component of accumulated other comprehensive income, net of estimated tax. Marketable securities as of September 30, 2009 had remaining maturities between seven and 58 months. Our short-term and long-term marketable securities had a fair market value of $41,036,494 at September 30, 2009, representing approximately 81% of our total assets. We have not used derivative financial instruments in our investment portfolio.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures.

Management, with the participation of the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, has performed an evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (Exchange Act)) as of the end of the period covered by this report. This evaluation included consideration of the controls, processes and procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in the reports we file under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Based on such evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that, as of the end of the period covered by this report, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective.

During the quarter ended September 30, 2009, there was no change in our internal control over financial reporting that materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
