Item 1.01

Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

As previously disclosed, on November 23, 2015, Cadiz Inc. (the “Company”) entered into an agreement with its senior lenders, including majority lender MSD Credit Opportunity Master Fund, L.P., which grants the Company the right to extend the maturity date of a $40 million first tranche of its mortgage debt from March 2016 to June 2017. Also as previously disclosed, on November 23, 2015, the Company entered into agreements with a majority of its convertible note holders to exchange their outstanding convertible notes due in March 2018 for substantially similar convertible notes due in March 2020 (“Convertible Notes”), at a ratio of $1.00 in principal amount of new Convertible Notes for each $1.00 of accreted principal amount of existing convertible notes exchanged. Holders of $49,025,000 million in aggregate original principal amount of the Company’s existing convertible notes agreed to exchange them for new Convertible Notes pursuant to such agreements. In exchange for this maturity extension, the conversion rate on the new Convertible Notes will be reduced from $8.05 to $6.75 of accreted principal amount per share. Interest will continue to accrue at 7% with no payment due until maturity.

In connection with issuing the new Convertible Notes, the Company entered into an Indenture, dated as of December 10, 2015, by and between the Company and U.S. Bank National Association.
