ITEM 1. SCHEDULE OF INVESTMENTS.

The Schedule of Investments follows.

DNP Select Income Fund Inc.

First Quarter Report

March 31, 2010

Fund Distributions and Managed Distribution Plan: Your Fund has been paying a regular 6.5 cent per share monthly distribution on its common stock since July 1997. In February 2007, the Board of Directors adopted a Managed Distribution Plan, which provides for the Fund to continue to make a monthly distribution on its common stock of 6.5 cents per share. Under the Managed Distribution Plan, the Fund will distribute all available investment income to shareholders, consistent with the Fund's primary investment objective. If and when sufficient investment income is not available on a monthly basis, the Fund will distribute long-term capital gains and/or return capital to its shareholders in order to maintain the 6.5 cent per share distribution level.

To the extent that the Fund uses capital gains and/or returns of capital to supplement its investment income, you should not draw any conclusions about the Fund's investment performance from the amount of the Fund's distributions or from the terms of the Fund's Managed Distribution Plan.

The Fund estimates that it has not distributed more than its income and capital gains in the current year; however, a portion of your distribution for the full year may be a return of capital. A return of capital may occur, for example, when some or all of the money that you invested in the Fund is paid back to you. A return of capital distribution does not necessarily reflect the Fund's investment performance and should not be confused with yield or income.

The amounts and sources of distributions reported in monthly statements from the Fund are only estimates and are not provided for tax reporting purposes. The actual amounts and sources of the amounts for tax reporting purposes will depend upon the Fund's investment experience during the remainder of its fiscal year and may be subject to changes based on tax regulations. In early 2011, the Fund will send you a Form 1099-DIV for the calendar year 2010 that will tell you how to report these distributions for federal income tax purposes.

The Board may amend, suspend or terminate the Managed Distribution Plan without prior notice to shareholders if it deems such action to be in the best interests of the Fund and its shareholders. For example, the Board might take such action if the Plan had the effect of shrinking the Fund's assets to a level that was determined to be detrimental to Fund shareholders. The suspension or termination of the Plan could have the effect of creating a trading discount (if the Fund's stock is trading at or above net asset value) or widening an existing trading discount.

The Managed Distribution Plan is described in a Question and Answer format on your Fund's website <http://www.dnpselectincome.com>, and discussed in the Board of Directors section of this report.

May 6, 2010

Dear Fellow Shareholders:

Performance Review: Consistent with its primary objective of current income, the Fund declared three monthly distributions of 6.5 cents per share of common stock during the first quarter of 2010. The 6.5 cent per share monthly rate, without compounding, would be 78 cents annualized, or an 8.41% common stock dividend yield based on the March 31, 2010, closing price of $9.27 per share. That yield compares favorably with the yields of 4.41% on the Dow Jones Utility Index and 4.30% on the S&P Utilities Index. Please refer to the portion of this letter captioned "Board of Directors Meeting" for important information about the Fund's distributions.

Your Fund had a total return (income plus change in market price) of 5.89% for the quarter ended March 31, 2010, which exceeded the -2.11% return of the composite of the S&P Utilities Index and the Barclays Capital U.S. Utility Bond Index, reflecting the stock and bond ratio of the Fund. In comparison, the S&P Utilities Index a stock-only index had a total return of -3.54%.

On a longer-term basis, as of March 31, 2010, your Fund had a five-year cumulative total return of 31.8%, which exceeded the 28.5% return of the composite of the S&P Utilities Index and the Barclays Capital U.S. Utility Bond Index, reflecting the stock and bond ratio of the Fund. In comparison, the S&P Utilities Index had a total return during that period of 22.7%. It is important to note that the composite index includes no fees or expenses.

The table below compares the performance of your Fund to various market benchmarks. The composite and index returns do not include any fees or expenses.

For the period indicated through March 31, 2010	Cumulative Total Return*
	DNP Select Income Fund Inc.		Composite	S&P	Barclays Capital
	Market	NAV	Index	Utilities Index	U.S. Utility Bond Index
One year	50.4%	38.4%	20.8%	21.0%	20.2%
Five years	31.8%	32.5%	28.5%	22.7%	36.0%

* Total return includes dividends reinvested in the Fund or index, as applicable. The Composite Index is a composite of the returns of the S&P Utilities Index and the Barclays Capital U.S. Utility Bond Index, weighted to reflect the stock and bond ratio of the Fund. Performance returns for the S&P Utilities Index and Barclays Capital U.S. Utility Bond Index were obtained from Bloomberg LLP. Fund returns were obtained from the Administrator of the Fund. Past performance is not indicative of future results.

Lipper Ranks the Fund First Among Its Peer Group: Lipper, a global leader in providing independent mutual fund analysis and information, monitors fund performance, including net asset value (NAV) total returns, over a variety of time periods. We are pleased to report that your Fund again ranked first among closed-end funds in its income and preferred stock investment category for both the 5- and 10-year periods ended December 31, 2009 having achieved the same ranking for the 5- and 10-year periods ended December 31, 2007 and 2008.

Analyst Reviews: As part of the review of our investment process, Fund analysts prepare annual industry reviews and outlooks for presentation to the Board of Directors. These reviews bring into focus certain factors affecting the operating and financial performance of each sector of the utility industry in which the Fund invests. Following are highlights from those reviews.

Electric Utilities Focusing on Strong Companies in a Challenging Environment: Economic weakness and declining power prices have posed challenges for the electric industry. The recession caused annual electricity consumption in the United States to decline by 1.1% in 2008 and by 3.5% in 2009. Reduced demand generally exerts downward pressure on prices. Demand now appears to have stabilized and we expect modest growth going forward, but it could take three to four years for consumption to return to pre-recession levels.

In addition to demand weakness, power prices have also declined due to depressed natural gas prices. The amount of electricity produced from natural gas has materially increased over the past few years, currently representing 30% of total generation. In many areas of the country natural gas is now the reference fuel that determines the price of electricity; therefore, lower gas prices can lead to lower power prices.

We are observing waning political and regulatory support for electricity rate increases. This was the case in Florida, for example, where two electric utilities recently received disappointing responses to their requests for rate increases. However, many other states have remained supportive and in fact are encouraging increased capital spending for distribution network upgrades, environmental compliance equipment, and renewable generating facilities.

A different kind of challenge for the electric industry is operating without the guidance of a comprehensive national energy policy. Such a policy would address the need to enhance energy security (by reducing our dependence on foreign oil) and improve air quality; while guiding utilities' resource planning decisions for fossil fuel generation, renewable generation, and environmental compliance. Given the divisiveness currently overwhelming Washington politics, the chances for passage of energy legislation currently appear remote.

Your Fund manager's goal is to position the Fund to best deal with the changing electric utility landscape. Your investments are in electric utility companies that have strong fundamentals and attractive operating environments. We have reduced our exposure to companies sensitive to low power prices, have increased exposure to companies that operate in constructive regulatory jurisdictions, and have increased positions in companies that are expected to prosper regardless of the outcome of the current energy policy debates. Dividends remain a central focus of our analysis. Despite the impact from a depressed economy, many electric utility companies continue to have both the ability and the objective to pay and grow dividends.

Natural Gas Focusing on the Natural Gas Value Chain: DNP's holdings of equities of utilities that deliver natural gas participated in the market upturn during 2009 and delivered income. The yield on the portfolio's gas stocks was higher than the natural gas universe, and most of your Fund's investments in gas companies increased their dividends during the year.

The tepid economic upturn has affected some of the local distribution companies (LDCs) in the Fund's natural gas portfolio. Demand growth has been anemic and customers are conserving gas usage in the uncertain economic environment. Companies are diligent in closely managing cash flow. Many have filed, or plan to file, rate cases so they can recover the costs of business and earn a reasonable return.

In contrast to the LDCs, several of DNP's holdings are companies involved in the gathering, processing, transportation, and storage of natural gas which are referred to as the natural gas value chain. Those companies did very well in 2009, as gas had to be processed and transported to demand regions. Gas processing entails removing liquids and other substances so the gas meets pipeline quality standards. Some of the liquids extracted are used as feedstocks in industrial processes.

We remain focused on stable gas utilities for DNP, particularly those with constructive regulatory environments, service territories that are growing at above-average rates, and secure dividends. We are also attracted to companies that invest in infrastructure gas pipelines and storage because those activities have the same characteristics as utilities stable-to-growing incomes and little-to-no commodity exposure.

Telecommunications Wireless Data Growth, Compelling Valuations and Dividend Yields: The telecommunications story of 2009 was wireless data. Key drivers of wireless data usage include laptop computer air cards and smartphones, particularly the 3G iPhone introduced in July 2009. We've commented on the positive investment story of wireless data in this letter over the last few years, and usage has continued to experience explosive growth.

Anticipating trends for wireless in 2010 and beyond, the investment theme continues to be all about data. The internet is going mobile as more smartphones and emerging devices, such as the Kindle and the new iPad, come to market. Can the wireless networks handle the explosion of data usage without a big increase in capital expenditures? Companies have been expanding their high-speed networks for a few years, and should be able to meet data demand with only a modest increase in capital spending. Price wars in wireless are also of concern to investors. Voice pricing will continue to be competitive, but there is potential upside on data pricing as all smartphone users with contracts now have to pay for a data package. Over time, we believe companies will gain more from the data plan increases than they lose in voice pricing.

What about the wireline (the wires into your home) part of the telecommunications business? Wireline broadband is a mature market in most developed countries, but is a key service, as all communications in the home are moving to broadband, including voice in the form of voice-over-internet-protocol, or VOIP. Providing a video product has also been a major initiative of telecom companies over the past few years, and has proven to be a necessary part of the bundle of services offered to retain wireline consumers. Last year's stimulus package and the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) announcement of a National Broadband Plan have the goal of expanding broadband availability in rural areas. Although this could be a source of growth for some telecom companies in the future, we don't expect any major developments in 2010.

The financial condition of most companies in the telecommunications industry has remained stable over the recent period. Dividends within the sector are well supported and even have room to grow. We continue to believe that telecommunications equity investments provide value to DNP shareholders through attractive dividend yields that are supported by a recurring revenue model that generates significant and stable free cash flow.

Board of Directors Meeting: At the regular May 2010 Board of Directors meeting, the Board declared the following monthly dividends:

Cents Per Share	Record Date	Payable Date
6.5	June 30	July 12
6.5	July 30	August 10
6.5	August 31	September 10

Francis E. Jeffries retired as a director of the Fund when his term of office ended at the annual meeting of shareholders. Mr. Jeffries first began work as an analyst with the former Duff & Phelps Corporation in 1966 and rose to become its Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. He has been a director of the Fund since it was first organized in 1986 and served as Chairman of the Board of the Fund from 2005 to 2009, and Chairman Emeritus thereafter. The Board expressed its deepest appreciation for Mr. Jeffries' dedicated service and distinguished leadership over the past decades and wishes him well in his retirement.

The Board, on the recommendation of its nominating and governance committee, has decided to reduce the size of the Board to ten directors following the retirement of Mr. Jeffries.

The Annual Shareholder Meeting: The annual meeting of the Fund's shareholders was held on May 5, 2010 at 200 South Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois. At that meeting, holders of the Fund's common stock reelected Philip R. McLoughlin and Nathan I. Partain as directors for terms expiring in 2013, and holders of the Fund's preferred stock reelected Robert J. Genetski as a director for a term expiring in 2013. The shareholders also approved the amendment to the Fund's Articles of Amendment and Restatement to increase the number of authorized shares of common stock to provide sufficient shares of common stock for issuance in connection with the Fund's dividend reinvestment plan (DRP) and provides the Fund with flexibility to make future issuances consistent with its investment objectives. Also at the meeting an amended and restated investment advisory agreement was approved between the Fund and Duff & Phelps Investment Management Co. (the Adviser) in order to clarify that the asset base used to calculate the management fee includes all assets managed by the Adviser, including those attributable to financial leverage, and which includes a retroactive payment to the Adviser for its management since March 24, 2009 of Fund assets derived from borrowings under the Fund's credit facility.

About Your Fund's Distribution Policy: At the February 2007 Board of Directors meeting, the Board reaffirmed the current 6.5 cent per share monthly distribution rate and formalized the monthly distribution process by adopting a Managed Distribution Plan (MDP). The Board reviews the operation of the MDP on a quarterly basis, with the most recent review having been conducted in May 2010. The MDP is described in a Question and Answer format on your Fund's web site: <http://www.dnpselectincome.com>.

From 2004 to 2008, the Fund made use of realized gains offset by tax loss carryforwards to supplement its investment income. When the Fund utilizes tax loss carryforwards, distributions to shareholders derived from realized gains are treated as ordinary income for tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code (IRC). Until 2008, the treatment of the Fund's realized gains as ordinary income for tax purposes enabled the Fund to maintain its monthly income only distribution rate. In 2008, however, the Fund exhausted the tax loss carryforwards it had previously generated.

In the absence of tax loss carryforwards, some of the Fund's monthly distributions could be made from either realized gains and treated as taxable gains rather than ordinary income, or return of capital and not taxed. Shareholders are required to reduce the cost basis of their shares by the amount of the return of capital so that, when the shares are ultimately sold, they will have properly accounted for the return of capital. In 2009 there was a return of capital.

Due to the significant market dislocation in 2008 and 2009, the Fund accumulated approximately $100 million in tax loss carryforwards as of December 31, 2009. The Fund estimates that it has not distributed more than its income and capital gains in the current year; however, a portion of your distribution for the full year may be a return of capital.

About Your Fund Leverage: Fund management reports quarterly to the Board about the composition of the Fund's leverage and its contribution to the income available for distribution to common shareholders. As of March 31, 2010 the Fund's leverage consisted of Remarketed Preferred Stock (RP) in the amount of $200 million, Auction Preferred Stock (APS) in the amount of $200 million, and debt in the amount of $600 million. On that date the total amount of leverage constituted approximately 38% of the Fund's total assets.

The use of leverage enables the Fund to borrow at short-term rates and invest at longer-term rates. Currently, and historically, the term structure of interest rates is upward sloping (longer-term rates are higher than shorter-term rates). As a result, leverage is making a significant contribution to the earnings of the Fund. The use of leverage also can make the Fund's share price more volatile than it would be otherwise.

Early in 2008 disruptions in the short-term fixed income markets resulted in failures in the periodic auctions and remarketings of all closed-end funds' preferred shares, including the preferred shares of your Fund. After reviewing options for resolving preferred share illiquidity, in March 2009 management arranged a $1 billion credit facility with a commercial bank. Subsequently, the Fund utilized the credit facility to redeem $300 million of RP and $300 million of APS.

Fund management is continuing to pursue the goal of ultimately redeeming the preferred stock that remains outstanding in a manner consistent with the interests of all shareholders. The Fund is currently limited in its ability to use debt to refinance all of its outstanding preferred stock because of the asset coverage requirements of the 1940 Act and related SEC rules, and by guidelines established by the rating agencies as a condition of maintaining the AAA rating of the preferred stock. Accordingly, the exact timing of any share redemptions is uncertain, and it is unlikely that all of the Fund's outstanding preferred stock will be retired in the near future. The Fund will announce any redemption through press releases and postings to its website.

Automatic Dividend Reinvestment Plan and Direct Deposit Service The Fund has a dividend reinvestment plan available as a benefit to all registered shareholders and also offers direct deposit service through electronic funds transfer to all registered shareholders currently receiving a monthly distribution check. These services are offered through BNY Mellon Shareowner Services. For more information and/or an authorization form on automatic dividend reinvestment or direct deposit, please contact BNY Mellon Shareowner Services (1-877-381-2537 or <http://stock.bankofny.com>). Information on these services is also available on the Fund's website at the address noted below.
