QUARTERLY HIGHLIGHTS

[PHOTO OMITTED: JON A. BOSCIA]

TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS:

Despite continued uncertainty in the stock market and overall market performance, Lincoln continued to make significant progress on key business drivers.

Our second quarter income from operations was $168.1 million, or $.88 per diluted share, compared with income from operations of $173.0 million, or $.89 per diluted share in the second quarter of 2000. Results were primarily driven by growth in our annuity, life insurance and reinsurance segments.

Following the second quarter, we completed Lincoln's evolution from a multi-line insurer to a financial services company with a core focus on providing wealth accumulation and protection products and services. We announced the sale of our reinsurance operation to Swiss Re for $2.0 billion. In addition, Lincoln will retain approximately $500 million of capital currently supporting the business. The capital will be used to implement an aggressive, yet disciplined, acquisition strategy and continue our expanded stock buyback program. The transaction is expected to close by the end of the year.

Our Annuities segment reported earnings of $90.8 million, up 8 percent over second quarter 2000. In addition, this was the third consecutive quarter of improving net flows, with net outflows going from $681 million in the fourth quarter 2000 to $196 million in the second quarter 2001. This tracks well with our goal to get to positive net flows in the fourth quarter.

Life Insurance income from operations was $67.1 million, up 8 percent over second quarter 2000, driven by growth of business in force and favorable investment performance, partially offset by unfavorable mortality. First year life insurance premiums increased 8 percent over second quarter 2000 and 19 percent over first quarter 2001, primarily due to higher universal life and variable universal life sales.

Income from operations for the Reinsurance segment was $34.1 million, reflecting favorable mortality experience and growth in the individual life block of business over recent years.

Investment Management reported income from operations of $3.7 million. The lower earnings were affected by lower assets under management stemming from equity market declines and net outflows over the last year. For the first time since September 1999, we experienced positive net flows, driven by institutional sales. Net flows improved to a positive $285 million for the quarter, compared with outflows of $465 million in first quarter 2001 and $1.42 billion in second quarter 2000.

Lincoln UK reported income from operations of $16.2 million, compared to $19.3 million in the second quarter 2000.

We're very pleased that we had a solid quarter and will remain focused on taking the right steps to ensure strong future performance at Lincoln.

Volatile Stock Market and Tax Protection Are Top Concerns For Wealthy Americans

The number one concern for 53 percent of the wealthiest Americans is a another stock market slump, according to a survey conducted by Wirthlin Worldwide on behalf of Lincoln Financial Group. "We are definitely seeing a shift in financial planning for the wealthy away from isolated individual transactional decisions toward a more holistic and long-term approach," said Wes Thompson, chief executive officer of Lincoln Financial Distributors. "As a result of their concerns over a volatile market, the wealthy in America are looking for help in preserving their assets through this turbulent financial environment," he added.

Edgar Filing: LINCOLN NATIONAL CORP - Form 8-K

Over the past few years, Lincoln Financial Group has studied the personal savings habits and investment trends of America's wealthy. However, this new study specifically focused on how wealthy Americans approach estate planning and their concerns over certain tax issues. Telephone interviews with 400 wealthy Americans were conducted between February 6-20, 2001. Participants were at least 35 years old with investable assets of $250,000 or more. Although IRA's were included as part of the individual's assets, assets such as the individual's primary residence, company retirement plan, 401(k) and 403(b) were excluded.

Protecting assets from excessive taxes is the second most common financial planning goal among those surveyed. Three out of four wealthy Americans think they are vulnerable to excessive taxes. Overall, 27 percent of those surveyed think they have taken adequate steps to avoid paying excessive taxes, 52 percent believe they are "moderately" protected and about 20 percent believe they have "very little" shelter. Avoiding excessive taxes was followed by accumulating additional wealth, passing wealth to children and preserving their company.

Amid all of the market volatility and new tax legislation, wealthy Americans are looking for a long-term, holistic financial plan, allowing them to weather any market condition and tax situation. "As a result, financial planners must look at the type and range of advice they offer this group," said Thompson.

More detailed information on the Lincoln survey is included on the lfg.com web site.

FOCUSED feature

Distribution Diversity Is Key For LFG

In today's financial services industry, distribution breadth is critical for survival. Lincoln has one of the most well balanced and effective distribution systems in the nation. Our distribution model is designed to make us the partner of choice for our customers. And, we define our partner as the intermediary, which includes approximately 53,000 financial planners, 50,000 stockbrokers, 7,500 insurance brokers and 14,000 bank agents. These are the people that influence the decisions of the end users.

Our multi-channel approach to distribution is achieved through Lincoln Financial Distributors (LFD), our intermediary wholesale distribution arm, Lincoln Financial Advisors (LFA), our retail financial planning firm and broker/dealer and a number of strategic alliances, including American Funds Distributors.

LFD's customer focused distribution model simplifies the financial intermediary's ability to access Lincoln's entire product portfolio, improves LFD's ability to manage its wholesaler force and provides a common platform for leveraging Lincoln enterprise products, marketing materials and advertising.

With over 270 internal and external wholesalers who serve as consultants to their clients, LFD provides a breadth of products including life insurance, annuities, investment and retirement products.

LFD's unique approach to distribution has opened many doors and increased shelf space for Lincoln products. For example, earlier this year an alliance was formed with Salomon Smith Barney (SSB), which is providing substantial value for both organizations. In addition to helping SSB meet their clients' demand for variable life products, this alliance is providing LFD with a tremendous outlet to market Lincoln products.

Lincoln Financial Advisors' business model is designed to make it the country's premier fee-based financial planning firm serving the high net-worth marketplace. As a financial planning firm, LFA is clearly aligned with the needs of the sophisticated high net-worth market. And, LFA has an edge over many of its competitors who are just now getting into financial planning. With nearly 2,000 planners in 39 offices, LFA generated nearly $18.5 million in financial planning fees for the year 2000, up 18 percent over the previous year. LFA's average planning fees are $2,500 versus average industry planning fees of $600. LFA places a high priority on serving the customer first through a superior planning process done by an experienced group of planners with localized support. Along with financial planning advice, LFA has access to a full range of insurance and investment products, all offered by leading companies that meet strict due diligence criteria.

Strategic alliances also have been important to LFA's success in penetrating the high net-worth market. Some of LFA's strategic alliances include: one of the largest accounting and consulting firms serving entrepreneurial organizations, as well as CPA Direct, Sun Trust, Legg Mason and Morgan Stanley Dean Witter.

Our strategic alliance with American Funds Distributors also has been a cornerstone to Lincoln's distribution success, specifically as it relates to the successful marketing of annuities. Since 1984, Lincoln has had a relationship with American Funds, the nation's third largest mutual fund company and one of the most respected in the industry. Through the American Funds wholesaling network, Lincoln markets American Legacy variable annuity and variable life insurance products. Through this alliance, Lincoln has over 1,400 existing selling group agreements and annuity-focused distribution relationships with over 110 of the top broker/dealers in the country. Lincoln annuities are accessed by approximately 65,000 appointed brokers, agents and financial planners. The extensive reach of this relationship delivered enormous gains in 2000, with American Legacy annuity sales reaching a record $2 billion.

As the financial services industry becomes even more competitive, Lincoln possesses the distribution strength and business tools to meet the changing needs of the customer while staying ahead of the competition. We've created a well-balanced distribution organization that is helping our financial intermediary customers maximize their growth and profits, while at the same time assisting the super affluent in accumulating and protecting their wealth.

BRIEF notes

Quarterly Highlights

- (bullet) Lincoln National Corporation was named to Salomon Smith Barney's 2001 annual "Ten+ Exceptional Names" list of top stock picks of the year. The list consists of 15 stocks that Salomon analysts believe will represent a compelling investment opportunity for the coming 12 months. Lincoln ranked as Salomon's number three investment performer in 2000.

Edgar Filing: LINCOLN NATIONAL CORP - Form 8-K

- (bullet) Lincoln Annuities was ranked as the nation's ninth largest seller of variable annuities for the six months ending June 30, 2001, according to a VARDS Report.
- (bullet) Jenne K. Britell, Ph.D. and Michael F. Mee were elected to Lincoln National's board of directors. Dr. Britell is chairman and chief executive officer of Structured Ventures, Inc., a private company with a focus on financial and management restructuring, disposition and liquidation of portfolio companies for venture capital firms and financial institutions in both U.S. and foreign markets. Swiss Re to Buy Lincoln's Reinsurance Operation

Lincoln Financial Group announced the sale of its reinsurance business to Swiss Re for $2 billion on July 29, 2001. In addition, Lincoln will retain approximately $500 million of capital currently supporting the business. The transaction is expected to close by the end of this year.

The divestiture of Lincoln Re is a logical step in Lincoln's transformation from a multi-line insurance company to a financial services firm with a core focus on providing wealth accumulation and protection products and services. In the past decade Lincoln has sold two other non-core businesses, health insurance in the early- to mid-1990s and property casualty in 1997.

"This transaction allows Lincoln to focus management's attention on its highly synergistic annuities, life insurance and investment management businesses," said Jon A. Boscia, chairman and chief executive officer. "Going forward, Lincoln will use its capital to implement an aggressive, yet disciplined, acquisition strategy and continue its expanded stock buyback program."

In conjunction with the transaction, Lincoln's Board of Directors also authorized the repurchase of an additional $500 million of LNC securities, bringing the total unused securities repurchase authorization to $866 million.

Lincoln Re significantly enhances Swiss Re's position as the premier global life/health reinsurance company and adds a tremendous boost to their capabilities in the important North American market. Swiss Re is very enthusiastic about the talent that resides in Lincoln Re and the broad range of innovative products, research tools and relationships that they can leverage across their existing platform.

Lincoln Re has tremendous respect within the industry and is the number one provider of life-health reinsurance in North America. Its reputation as the industry leader and knowledge management expert have made it a highly valued franchise.
