STMicroelectronics announces additional restructuring efforts

Geneva, May 16, 2005 STMicroelectronics (NYSE:STM) today announced additional restructuring efforts to recover profitability, after the disappointing results of first quarter 2005. The moves reposition the Company's cost structure in the competitive environment of the industry, characterized by the slowing growth rate of demand and by the continued weakness of the dollar, which especially impacts European-based companies. Within this challenging environment, ST has previously announced a series of wide-ranging initiatives aimed at improving the Company's competitiveness and financial performance through accelerated innovation, a reduction of costs, and the broadening of its customer base.

In addition to the prior measures, the Company is announcing today new initiatives which will bring the cumulative reduction of its workforce outside Asia to a total of 3,000 people by mid-2006. This number combines some already-announced, ongoing actions, as well as the consequences of further restructuring and streamlining measures. This new effort will be finalized and details will be announced in the coming weeks.

From these new measures, the company anticipates additional savings of $90 million per year, at completion of the plan. Restructuring charges are estimated to be between $100 and $130 million.

Some of the statements contained in this release that are not historical facts are statements of future expectations and other forward-looking statements (within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 or Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, each as amended) that are based on management's current views and assumptions and involve known and unknown risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results, performance or events to differ materially from those in such statements due to, among other factors:

*future developments of the world semiconductor market, in particular the future demand for semiconductor products in the key application markets and from key customers served by our products;
the timing and outcome of negotiations following consultation, information, and discussions with unions and employee representatives pursuant to regulatory or contractual requirements in the various jurisdictions in which we operate;*

our ability find a successor for any business we may decide to discontinue pursuant to announced restructuring initiatives; changes in the exchange rates between the US Dollar and the Euro compared to the current exchange rate of $1.30=1 Euro, and between the US Dollar and the currencies of the other major countries in which we have our operating infrastructure; and changes in the economic, social, or political environment, as well as natural events such as severe weather, health risks or earthquakes in the countries in which we and our key customers operate.

Such forward-looking statements are subject to various risks and uncertainties, which may cause actual results and performance of our business to differ materially and adversely from the forward-looking statements. Certain such forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as believes, may, will, should, would be or anticipates or similar expressions or the negative thereof or other variations thereof or comparable terminology, or by discussions of strategy, plans or intentions. Some of these risk factors are set forth and are discussed in more detail in Item 3. Key Information Risk Factors included in our Annual Report on Form 20-F for the year ended December 31, 2004, as filed with the SEC on March 23, 2005. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those described in this release as anticipated, believed or expected. We do not intend, and do not assume any obligation, to update any industry information or forward-looking statements set forth in this release to reflect subsequent events or circumstances.

Unfavorable changes in the above or other factors listed under Risk Factors from time to time in our SEC filings, including in our Form 20-F, could have a material adverse effect on our business or financial condition.
