Form of Letter Sent to CNA Employees

[CNA Letterhead]

November 4, 2010

Dear Colleague,

CNA announced its third quarter results this week; so, let me start there.

Our Property & Casualty Operations combined ratio was 97.9, which is on a par with the previous few quarters before the effects of prior year development and catastrophe losses. Net written premiums decreased 1% substantially better than the 8% decrease in the third quarter last year. Our capital position continued to improve, as reflected in a 19% increase in book value per common share from the end of 2009.

We completed a major loss portfolio transfer transaction with National Indemnity Company, a subsidiary of Berkshire Hathaway. We recognized a $365 million loss from the transaction in the third quarter. As we announced last quarter, this transaction substantially enhances CNA's financial stability and eliminates our exposure to legacy asbestos and environmental pollution liabilities.

In addition to our third quarter earnings, CNA Financial Corporation (NYSE: CNA) announced that it has proposed to acquire all of the outstanding shares of common stock of CNA Surety Corporation (NYSE: SUR) that are not currently owned by subsidiaries of CNA for $22.00 per share in cash. The proposed transaction is consistent with CNA's strategic objective to grow our Specialty franchise.

Over the past 12 months, CNA has made substantial investments in new people, positions and locations to improve our responsiveness to producers and customers. These investments are evident in increased new business in Specialty. In Commercial, we are seeing improved retention and increased new business in Small Business. We are also seeing a shift in Middle Market new business to more desirable segments. In addition, we are moving ahead on a range of initiatives to improve our process management and become more efficient and effective.

Looking to 2011, we expect the market to remain very competitive; but, we also see promising areas, such as technology and manufacturing. I remain very optimistic about CNA's future.

We all have a part to play in making CNA a bigger, more profitable company. I encourage you to act like an owner constantly thinking about how to make CNA more effective and distinctive in the eyes of our customers. I also ask you to take personal accountability for achieving individual and collective goals.

I'm convinced with the right attitude, people, execution and a sense of urgency, we can take CNA to the next level.

Thanks for your hard work. Enjoy the upcoming holidays, and let's use the rest of the year as a springboard to an even more successful 2011.

Sincerely,

/s/ Thomas F. Motamed

Tom Motamed
