PART III
NARRATIVE

The reason for the delay is that the Company is finalizing a further review of reconciliations performed related to its preneed funeral verification project and other preneed trust accounts. As previously reported, the preneed funeral trust verification project involved the physical examination of more than 430,000 individual preneed funeral contracts and the reconciliation of such contract records to trustee statements and to the Company's general ledger.

The Company may not be able to complete its further review of reconciliations in a timely manner. As a result, it would not be able to file its Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ending June 30, 2005 by the extended filing deadline of August 15, 2005. To date, this review has resulted in the identification of certain non-cash adjustments, which the Company is in the process of evaluating to determine if adjustment to previously issued financial statements is needed. It is possible that additional adjustments to financial statements may be identified as the Company completes its review. The Company is also still in the process of evaluating whether it will identify and report additional material weaknesses in its internal control over financial reporting.
