Our telephone number is (952) 947-0000. The mailing of this proxy statement and our board of directors' form of proxy to shareholders will commence on or about March 7, 2007.

Record Date

Only shareholders of record at the close of business on February 26, 2007 will be entitled to vote at the annual meeting or adjournment. At the close of business on the record date, we had 36,839,977 shares of our common stock outstanding and entitled to vote.

Voting of Proxies

Proxies voted by telephone or through the Internet in accordance with the voting instructions set forth on the enclosed proxy card, or in the accompanying form that are properly signed and duly returned to us, and not revoked, will be voted in the manner specified. A shareholder executing a proxy retains the right to revoke it at any time before it is exercised by notice in writing to one of our officers of termination of the proxy's authority or a properly signed and duly returned proxy bearing a later date.

Shareholder Proposals

We must receive shareholder proposals intended to be presented at the annual meeting of shareholders in the year 2008 that are requested to be included in the proxy statement for that meeting at our principal executive office no later than November 8, 2007. We must receive any other shareholder proposals intended to be presented at the annual meeting of shareholders in the year 2008 at our principal executive office no later than January 27, 2008.

Quorum

The presence at the meeting, in person or by proxy, of the holders of a majority of the shares of common stock outstanding on the record date will constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at the meeting. Abstentions and broker non-votes will be counted as present for purposes of determining the existence of a quorum.

Vote Required

Election of Directors. The affirmative vote of a plurality of the shares of common stock present in person or by proxy at the meeting and entitled to vote is required for the election to the board of directors of each of the nominees for director. Shareholders do not have the right to cumulate their votes in the election of directors.

Other Proposals. The affirmative vote of the holders of the greater of (1) a majority of the shares of common stock present in person or by proxy at the meeting and entitled to vote and (2) a majority of the minimum number of shares entitled to vote that would constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at the meeting is required for approval of each other proposal presented in this proxy statement. A shareholder who abstains with respect to a proposal will have the effect of casting a negative vote on that proposal. A shareholder who does not vote in person or by proxy on a proposal (including a broker non-vote) is not deemed to be present in person or by proxy for the purpose of determining whether a proposal has been approved.

Adjournment of Meeting

If a quorum is not present to transact business at the meeting or if we do not receive sufficient votes in favor of the proposals by the date of the meeting, the persons named as proxies may propose one or more adjournments of the meeting to permit solicitation of proxies. Any adjournment would require the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting.

Board of Directors Meetings and Attendance

Director Independence

Our board of directors reviews at least annually the independence of each director. During these reviews, our board of directors considers transactions and relationships between each director (and his immediate family and affiliates) and our company and its management to determine whether any such transactions or relationships are inconsistent with a determination that the director was independent. In February 2007, our board of directors conducted its annual review of director independence and determined that no transactions or relationships existed that would disqualify any of our directors under New York Stock Exchange rules or require disclosure under Securities and Exchange Commission rules, with the exception of Mr. Akradi, who is also our President and Chief Executive Officer. Based on a review of information provided by the directors and other information we reviewed, our board of directors concluded that none of our non-employee directors have any relationship with our company other than as a director or shareholder of our company. Based upon that finding, our board of directors determined that Messrs. Bateman, Halpin, Jackson, Richards, Sefton and Vassalluzzo are independent.

Stephen R. Sefton is the independent director who chairs the executive sessions of the non-management members of our board of directors. Mr. Sefton has served as the chair of executive sessions of the board of directors since April 2004. During 2006, our board of directors held an executive session of the non-management members of our board of directors after each of its five meetings.

Interested parties may communicate directly with Mr. Sefton, the independent director who chairs the executive sessions individually, or the non-management members of our board of directors as a group by mail addressed to the attention of Mr. Sefton as executive session chair or the non-management members of our board of directors as a group c/o General Counsel, Life Time Fitness, Inc., 6442 City West Parkway, Eden Prairie, MN 55344. Our General Counsel will then forward them to the appropriate director or directors on a periodic basis.

We have (a) reviewed and discussed our company's audited consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006 with management; (b) discussed with our company's independent registered public accounting firm the matters required to be discussed by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, as amended (PCAOB Interim Auditing Standard AU Section 380, Communication with Audit Committees), regarding communication with audit committees; and (c) received the written disclosures and the letter from our company's independent registered public accounting firm required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Discussions with Audit Committees), and discussed with our company's independent registered public accounting firm their independence.

Based on the review and discussions with management and our company's independent registered public accounting firm referred to above, we recommended to our company's board of directors that our audited consolidated financial statements be included in our company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006 for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION Compensation Discussion and Analysis

Overview

We operate distinctive and large sports and athletic, professional fitness, family recreation and resort/spa centers and we focus on providing our members and customers with products and services at a compelling value in the areas of exercise, education and nutrition. We participate in the large and growing U.S. health and wellness industry, which we define to include health and fitness centers, fitness equipment, athletics, physical therapy, wellness education, nutritional products, athletic apparel, spa services and other wellness-related activities. For compensation purposes, we currently compare our company against the hotel, restaurant and leisure global industry as well as the larger consumer services global industry.

Our compensation committee, which is composed of three independent, non-employee directors, discharges our board of directors' responsibilities with respect to all forms of compensation of our company's executive officers and oversight of our company's compensation plans. The purpose of this discussion and analysis is to summarize the philosophical principles, compensation decision-making process, specific program elements and other factors we considered in making decisions about executive compensation during fiscal year 2006.

The compensation committee has the authority to retain outside counsel, experts and other advisors as it determines appropriate to assist it in the performance of its functions.

Compensation Philosophy

We believe that the quality, ability and commitment of our executive officers are significant factors contributing to the proper leadership of our company and driving shareholder value for our company. Our executive compensation goals are to:

attract, retain and motivate qualified talent;

motivate executives to improve the overall performance of our company and reward executives when our company achieves specific measurable results;

Table of Contents

encourage accountability by determining salaries and incentive awards based on the company's collective performance and contribution;

ensure compensation levels are externally competitive and create internal pay equity among executives; and align our executives' long-term interests with those of our shareholders.

Compensation Determination Process

Our company uses a variety of compensation elements to achieve our compensation philosophy, including primarily base salary, annual bonuses and long-term incentive equity awards. The compensation committee does not use a specific formula to set compensation elements under each component, but instead attempts to achieve the appropriate balance between short-term cash compensation and long-term equity compensation and to reflect the level of responsibility of the executive officer. The factors the compensation committee considers when determining each compensation element and when considering a material increase or decrease in a compensation element include, but are not limited to, the following:

the executive's current total compensation and the appropriate portion of the total compensation that should be performance-based;

the executive's performance compared to his goals and objectives;

the qualifications of the executive and his potential for development and performance in the future;

whether the total compensation is generally equivalent to the executive pay level for comparable jobs at similar companies and the financial performance of those companies relative to ours;

the strategic goals and responsibilities for which the executive has responsibility; and the recommendations of the Chief Executive Officer (except with respect to his own compensation).

Annually, the compensation committee reviews the executive compensation program in connection with our company's merit review and compensation plan process, which typically concludes on or about March 31 for a fiscal year. In general, the compensation committee begins this review process by determining the total cash compensation to be paid to an executive based on a review of the executive pay level for comparable jobs at similar companies, as described below, and the financial performance of those companies relative to ours in addition to considering the other factors listed above. After the total cash compensation has been determined, our compensation committee determines the appropriate amount of total cash compensation that should be performance-based for each executive based on the level of performance-based pay being paid by similar companies while also considering the other factors listed above. The difference between the total cash compensation and potential annual bonus portion, or the performance-based cash portion, of total cash compensation is the executive's base salary, which is also independently measured against the base salaries being paid by similar companies while also considering the other factors listed above. The compensation committee then uses total cash compensation as a basis to establish long-term incentive equity awards while also considering the other factors listed above.

In connection with the compensation applicable to our 2005 fiscal year for executives, the compensation committee reviewed the base salary, annual bonuses and long-term incentive equity award elements and levels for our executives with the consultation of Mercer Human Resources Consulting, LLC. This general review compared these compensation elements against a group of other publicly held companies that were at the time generally similar to ours in growth-rate, market capitalization and financial performance. This group included Aeropostale, Inc., Dick's Sporting Goods, Inc., Electronics Boutique Holdings Corp., GameStop Corp., Guitar Center, Inc., Krispy Kreme Doughnuts, Inc., Linens 'n' Things, Inc., O'Reilly Automotive, Inc., PetSmart, Inc., Reebok International, Ltd., The Talbot's, Inc. and The Yankee Candle Company, Inc. The compensation committee considered this information in addition to the factors described above when determining that base salary, annual bonuses and long-term incentive awards were appropriate compensation elements and when setting the corresponding compensation levels to be paid to our executives for fiscal 2005.

In connection with the base salary and annual bonuses applicable to our 2006 fiscal year for executives, the compensation committee reviewed the base salary and annual bonus compensation elements. The compensation committee compared the general level of our company's executive base salary and annual bonus compensation elements against the previously identified group of other publicly held companies that were generally similar to ours in growth-rate, market capitalization and financial performance. The compensation committee considered this information in addition to the factors described above when determining the base salary and annual bonus levels to be paid to our executives for fiscal 2006.

In connection with the long-term incentives applicable to our 2006 fiscal year for executives, our compensation committee engaged the services of Pearl Meyer & Partners and instructed them to provide a competitive assessment of our base salary, annual bonus and long-term incentive elements and review our company's long-term incentive compensation element in order to assist in the development of a forward-looking strategy. As part of this study, Pearl Meyer & Partners compared our base salary, annual bonuses and long-term incentive award elements primarily against two updated peer groups. The first peer group was composed of 13 publicly traded companies within the hotels, restaurant and leisure global industry classification that each had similar size, revenues and market capitalization as compared to our company. The companies selected to be a part of this peer group were Bally Total Fitness Holding Corporation, CEC Entertainment Inc., Cedar Fair, L.P., Chipotle Mexican Grill, Inc., IHOP Corporation, International Speedway Corporation, Panera Bread Company, Pinnacle Entertainment, Inc., Sonic Corporation, Speedway Motorsports, Inc., Texas Roadhouse, Inc., Town Sports International Holdings, Inc. and Vail Resorts, Inc. The second peer group was composed of 11 publicly traded companies from the consumer services global industry classification, each with similar size or market capitalization to revenue ratios as compared to our company. The companies selected to be a part of this peer group were Bally Total Fitness Holding Corporation, Cedar Fair, L.P., International Speedway Corporation, ITT Educational Services, Inc., Jackson Hewitt Tax Service, Inc., Panera Bread Company, Pinnacle Entertainment, Inc., Sotheby's, Speedway Motorsports, Inc., Town Sports International Holdings, Inc. and Vail Resorts Inc. The compensation committee considered this information, in addition to the factors described above, when determining the long-term incentives payable to our executives in fiscal 2006.

For fiscal 2007, we plan to target total cash compensation and long-term incentive equity award grants within the range of or slightly above the median of the general and industry peer groups identified by Pearl Meyer & Partners given that our company has, in general, provided a higher total return to shareholders and had higher net income growth than such peer group companies during the previous two years.

Management Participation. Members of executive management participate in the compensation committee's meetings at the committee's request. Management's role is to contribute input and analysis to the committee's discussions. Management does not participate in the final determination or recommendation of the amount or form of executive compensation, except that our Chief Executive Officer does participate in the final recommendation, but not determination, of the amount and form of compensation to be paid to all other members of executive management.

Use of Consultants. From time to time and as noted above, the compensation committee uses outside compensation consultants to assist it in analyzing our company's compensation programs and determining appropriate levels of compensation and benefits. The decision to retain consultants and, if so, which consultants to retain, is made solely by the compensation committee.

Executive Compensation Elements

Our company's executive compensation package consists of base salary, annual bonuses, long-term incentive awards, other compensation, a deferred compensation plan and change in control benefits.

Base Salary

Purpose. Our base salaries are designed to provide regular recurring compensation for the fulfillment of the regular duties and responsibilities associated with job roles. We also use base salaries as an important part of attracting and retaining talented executives.

Structure; Determination Process; Factors Considered. The compensation committee generally establishes base salaries for executives after first determining the executive's total cash compensation amount and the portion of the total cash compensation amount that will be an annual bonus opportunity, with the difference being the executive's base salary. The compensation committee then may adjust the executive's base salary based on a consideration of the factors outlined under "Compensation Determination Process" in making its decisions. The compensation committee reviews base salaries annually.

2006 Results. The compensation committee did not approve the 2006 fiscal year base salaries for executives until May 2006 given that its review of this element was not completed until that time. For fiscal 2006, the compensation committee determined that the base salary amounts being paid to Messrs. Akradi and Gerend should remain unchanged because Messrs. Akradi and Gerend were currently being paid total cash compensation and base salary amounts that were similar to the median range of total cash compensation and base salary amounts being paid by a group of other publicly held companies that were at the time generally similar to ours in growth-rate, market capitalization and financial performance. Mr. Rowland's total cash compensation and base salary amounts remained unchanged because he was in the process of transitioning his role with our company. A total cash compensation increase of 5%, including a base salary increase of 6.1%, was granted for fiscal 2006 to Mr. Robinson, our Chief Financial Officer, in order to begin creating total cash compensation and base salary levels comparable with Mr. Gerend, our Chief Operating Officer, as the compensation committee believes that total compensation comparability should exist between these positions based on its review of similar companies. The compensation committee granted 42.9% and 25% increases in total cash compensation to Messrs. Zaebst and Buss, respectively, including 33.3% and 11.1% increases in the base salary amounts paid to Messrs. Zaebst and Buss, respectively, for fiscal 2006. These increases were granted to Messrs. Zaebst and Buss to reflect their performance, increased responsibilities and to adjust their total cash compensation and base salary levels to more closely reflect the base salaries being paid by other publicly held companies for similar positions.

Annual Bonuses

Purpose. All executive officers, as well as certain other senior and management-level employees, participate in our annual bonus program. We believe that this program provides an incentive to the participants to deliver upon the financial performance goals of our company. The financial performance goals are derived from our annual financial budget and our site business plans and based on our actual performance during the current fiscal year.

Structure. The compensation committee generally establishes annual bonus opportunities for executives after first determining the executive's total cash compensation amount and then determining the proportion of the total cash compensation amount that will be an annual bonus opportunity. The compensation committee feels that individual executive performances should not be highlighted in the area of annual bonuses given the executive team's focus on collaborative decision making and its intent to use this compensation element to link the interests of executives with our company's bottom line. The compensation committee reviews the program annually, however, and may adjust the executive's annual bonus opportunity based on a consideration of the factors outlined under "Compensation Determination Process" in making its decisions.

Under our annual bonus program, we provide for the payment of cash bonuses to each participant, on a monthly basis throughout the year, based upon our year-to-date performance in relation to predetermined year-to-date financial objectives. In addition, we provide for the payment of an additional cash bonus to our executives annually based upon our annual performance in relation to certain other predetermined annual financial objectives. We may withhold payout on the monthly portion of the year-to-date bonus component to offset a negative variance in the annual bonus component. Our compensation committee approves the financial objectives that are utilized for purposes of determining all bonuses and assigns "Target Bonuses" for each executive participant to create a Target Bonus approximating 33% of an executive's total target cash compensation. The Target Bonus amount is prorated on a year-to-date basis to determine the monthly portion of the year-to-date cash bonus payout and the full-year Target Bonus amount is used to determine the annual cash bonus opportunity at the end of a fiscal year.

Actual bonuses paid to participants are calculated based upon the relationship of our actual financial performance to budgeted financial performance and are not limited by any minimum or maximum thresholds. Accordingly, if actual financial performance is less than budgeted financial performance, the actual bonus paid to the participant would be proportionately less than the participant's Target Bonus. At the same time, if actual financial performance exceeds budgeted financial performance, the actual bonus paid to the participant would proportionately exceed the participant's Target Bonus. At all participation levels, the actual bonuses paid are based upon the relationship of actual financial performance to budgeted financial performance, on a monthly or annual basis, as applicable. Accordingly, the total actual bonus paid to each participant could exceed the participant's Target Bonus if actual financial performance exceeded budgeted financial performance for such participant.

Target Bonus and Measurement Determination Process. For fiscal year 2006, the financial objectives selected under our bonus components for all of our executives were earnings before taxes (EBT) on a year-to-date basis versus plan and capital expenditures on an annual basis versus plan, with the exception of Mr. Rowland as discussed below. The executive plan provides for monthly payouts based on our company's EBT for the year-to-date period as compared against our company's 2006 financial plan. In addition, the incentive plan provides for an additional year-end payment or reduction based on our company's capital expenditures as compared to the original business plan for applicable centers opened during fiscal 2006 and our company's 2006 financial plan for maintenance and corporate capital expenditures. The compensation committee feels that applying these specific financial metrics to the executive team is appropriate given the requirement that they work collectively in order to achieve top-level growth while reducing operating expenses and expenses in areas of interest, depreciation and amortization. For that reason, the compensation committee changed the financial metrics driving the annual bonuses applicable to Messrs. Gerend and Zaebst from EBITDA and capital expenditures during fiscal 2005 to EBT and capital expenditures for fiscal 2006, consistent with the metrics already applicable to Messrs. Akradi, Robinson and Buss. As Mr. Rowland was already in the process of transitioning his employment with our company at the time that Messrs. Gerend and Zaebst's financial metrics were changed, the compensation committee elected to leave Mr. Rowland's financial metrics set at EBITDA and capital expenditures for fiscal 2006.

-EBT. EBT consists of net income plus provision for income taxes before adjustments for enrollment fee revenue and cost deferral and share-based compensation expense. Our company uses EBT as a measure of operating performance. The targeted EBT objective of $90.1 million set for fiscal 2006 was the same as for our company's internal plan for EBT in fiscal 2006. We included the impact of certain health and fitness centers that we leased in July 2006 in both our targeted and actual EBT amounts so that our executives would not unduly benefit from the transaction because it had not been a part of our company's original plan. We feel that the EBT objective represented an achievable but challenging goal.

-EBITDA. EBITDA consists of net income plus interest expense, net, provision for income taxes and depreciation and amortization before adjustments for enrollment fee revenue and cost deferral and share-based compensation expense. Our company uses EBITDA as a measure of operating performance. The targeted EBITDA objective set for fiscal 2006 of $156.6 million was the same as for our company's internal plan for EBITDA in fiscal 2006. We feel that the EBITDA objective represented an achievable but challenging goal.

-Capital Expenditures. Capital expenditures represent investments in our new centers, costs related to updating and maintaining our existing centers and other infrastructure investments. Our company uses capital expenditures as a measure of the amounts that it is investing into its infrastructure. The targeted capital expenditure objective of $181.9 million that was originally set for fiscal 2006 represented the original business plan expenditures for applicable centers opened during fiscal 2006 and our company's 2006 financial plan for maintenance and corporate capital expenditures. However, our compensation committee approved a 7% increase in our targeted 2006 fiscal year capital expenditures to reflect the construction cost increases for new centers and other projects the compensation committee felt were outside the control of management. We feel that the capital expenditures objective, as amended, represented an achievable but challenging goal.

For fiscal 2006, the compensation committee determined that the Target Bonus opportunity available to Mr. Akradi should remain unchanged at approximately 32% of his total target cash compensation. The committee determined that the Target Bonus for all other executives should be set at approximately 33% of their total target cash compensation in order to create Target Bonus percentage equity among all executives other than Mr. Akradi.

2006 Results. Our company achieved EBT growth above its target during fiscal 2006, EBITDA growth approximately equal to its target during fiscal 2006 and had capital expenditures that exceeded its maximum target, as amended, for fiscal 2006. Accordingly, executive officers earned bonuses based on the financial performance metrics that were lower than the Target Bonus amounts available for the 2006 fiscal year.

Our compensation committee approved a bonus of $30,000 for Mr. Buss during fiscal 2006 in light of Pearl Meyer & Partners' analysis of his total cash compensation as compared to the total compensation paid to comparable executives at the peer group companies identified by Pearl Meyer & Partners. Our compensation committee also approved a bonus totaling $21,365 for Mr. Zaebst during fiscal 2006 in light of Mr. Zaebst's key role in driving certain key company initiatives.

Long-Term Incentive Awards

Purpose. We believe that equity-based incentives are an important part of total compensation for our executives as well as for certain other senior and management-level employees. We believe that this type of compensation creates the proper incentive for management and aligns the interests of our management with the interests of our shareholders. The compensation committee views the grant of equity-based compensation and other like awards to be a key component of its overall compensation program.

Structure; Determination Process; Factors Considered. The shareholder-approved Life Time Fitness, Inc. 2004 Long-Term Incentive Plan, referred to as the 2004 Plan, allows our company to issue incentive or non-qualified stock options, restricted stock, stock units, performance stock units and/or other cash or equity-based incentive awards. The terms of our 2004 Plan dictate that award repricing cannot occur without shareholder approval and that awards cannot be granted with exercise prices below fair market value. To date, the compensation committee, as administrator of our 2004 Plan, has granted time-vested and performance-vested stock options as well as time-vested and performance-vested restricted stock.

In fiscal 2006, based on a review and analysis provided by Pearl Meyer & Partners, the committee began to make a shift in the equity instruments to be issued under the 2004 Plan. Based on the review and analysis conducted by Pearl Meyer & Partners, our compensation committee feels that restricted stock is preferred over stock options as it has higher retention value, has immediate value to the recipient upon grant and is less dilutive to shareholders. Moreover, our compensation committee determined that the granting of restricted stock which featured both time-based and performance-based vesting to our executives would create both retention and shareholder alignment while creating a true "at risk" portion of the award. The committee feels that performance-based vesting provisions are best linked to challenging, but achievable, short-term actual financial performance measures.

In general, we grant awards that as of the grant date are proportional to the executive's total potential cash compensation for the current fiscal year, which the compensation committee believes, based on the review and analysis provided by Pearl Meyer & Partners, is the best measure to use in order to remain competitive with the equity awards being granted to executives of the companies identified as part of the peer groups identified in the "Overview" section. The proportion of equity to total cash compensation to be granted as well as the actual number of shares awarded to each executive officer is determined and approved by the compensation committee after considering the expected expense to our company in addition to the factors outlined under "Compensation Determination Process." The compensation committee annually reviews the long-term incentive program and information relevant to approving annual awards for executive officers.

2006 Results. The compensation committee did not approve the 2006 fiscal year grant for executives until November 2006 given that its strategic review of this element was not completed until late in fiscal 2006. For fiscal 2006, the compensation committee determined that the executive team in place at that time should each be granted restricted shares that vest 25% on each 10-month anniversary of the grant date to make vesting equal to what it would have been had these shares been granted in connection with our company's 2006 merit review process. The compensation committee provided, however, that 50% of the shares would automatically be forfeited in the event that our company's actual consolidated EBT for fiscal year 2006 did not meet or exceed budgeted EBT for 2006.

Table of Contents

On November 1, 2006, the compensation committee issued Mr. Akradi 50,000 restricted shares, Messrs. Robinson and Gerend each 11,500 restricted shares, and Messrs. Zaebst and Buss each 8,500 restricted shares with these provisions. As Mr. Rowland had already transitioned from his executive role with our company at this time, he was not granted any restricted shares. Pursuant to the equity review and analysis provided by Pearl Meyer & Partners, a grant of 75,000 restricted shares to Mr. Akradi would have been within the median range of equity awards made to similar positions at companies in our peer groups. However, Mr. Akradi offered to accept 60,000 shares in order to reduce the expected expense of his restricted stock grant to our company. Subsequent to his offer to accept 60,000 restricted shares, Mr. Akradi requested that the compensation committee grant him 50,000 restricted shares along with the authority to grant 10,000 restricted shares to reward employees of our company for their service over time that might not otherwise receive long-term incentive awards as part of our company's merit review process. The compensation committee approved Mr. Akradi's request.

Other Compensation

We provide our executive officers with perquisites and benefits that we believe are reasonable, competitive and consistent with the company's overall executive compensation program in order to attract and retain talented executives. Our executives are entitled to few benefits that are not otherwise available to all of our employees. The compensation committee periodically reviews the levels of perquisites and other personal benefits provided to executive officers.

Deferred Compensation

During fiscal 2006, we implemented the Executive Nonqualified Excess Plan of Life Time Fitness, a non-qualified deferred compensation plan. This plan was established for the benefit of our highly compensated employees, which our plan defines as our employees whose projected compensation for the upcoming plan year would meet or exceed the IRS limit for determining highly compensated employees. This unfunded, non-qualified deferred compensation plan allows participants the ability to defer and grow income for retirement and significant expenses in addition to contributions made to our company's 401(k) plan.

Employment Agreements and Change in Control Provisions

In July and August 2004, we entered into employment agreements for certain of our executive officers and other members of senior management. We believe that our company has achieved growth through innovative, confidential and proprietary management and marketing methods and plans and that it was necessary to enter into employment agreements to assure protection of our company's goodwill and confidential and proprietary information, management and marketing plans.

In addition, our company also wanted to assure that certain of our executive officers and other members of senior management would continue to serve our company under circumstances in which there was possible threatened or actual change of control at our company. Our company believes it is imperative to diminish the inevitable distraction of certain of our executive officers and other members of senior management by virtue of the personal uncertainties and risks created by a potential severance of employment and to encourage their full attention and dedication to our company currently and in the event of any threatened or impending change of control, and to provide these persons with compensation and benefits arrangements upon a severance of employment which ensure that their compensation and benefits expectations will be satisfied and which are competitive with those of other corporations. For these reasons, our company also included change in control provisions in our 2004 Plan and LIFE TIME FITNESS, Inc. 1998 Stock Option Plan, referred to as our 1998 Plan.

We do not currently have an employment agreement with Mr. Akradi. Our compensation committee feels that because Mr. Akradi is a principal shareholder of our company, our company's goodwill and confidential and proprietary information and management and marketing plans are adequately protected and that Mr. Akradi will continue to serve our company with our company's best interest in mind under circumstances in which there was possible threatened or actual change of control at our company.

Accounting and Tax Impacts of Executive Compensation

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code generally precludes a public corporation from taking a federal income tax deduction for compensation paid in excess of one million dollars per year to certain covered officers.

Under this section, compensation that qualifies as performance-based is excludable in determining what compensation amount shall qualify for tax deductibility. Covered employees include each of our named executive officers.

Our compensation committee considers the company's ability to fully deduct compensation in accordance with the one million dollar limitations of Section 162(m) in structuring our compensation programs. However, the compensation committee retains the authority to authorize the payment of compensation that may not be deductible if it believes such payments would be in the best interests of the company and its shareholders. After consideration, the compensation committee determined that it was appropriate and in the best interests of the company and its shareholders to pay Mr. Akradi's compensation as set forth in the Summary Compensation Table in fiscal 2006, even if a portion of his compensation exceeded the one million dollar deductibility limit.

Our compensation committee will continue to consider ways to maximize the deductibility of executive compensation while retaining the flexibility to compensate executive officers in a manner deemed appropriate relative to their performance and to competitive compensation levels and practices at other companies.

Compensation Committee Report

The compensation committee has discussed and reviewed the Compensation Discussion and Analysis with management. Based upon this review and discussion, the compensation committee recommended to the board of directors that the Compensation Discussion and Analysis be included in this proxy statement.

- (5) This amount represents the portion of Mr. Gerend's earnings under the Executive Nonqualified Excess Plan of Life Time Fitness, Inc. which were considered to be above market.
- (6) A portion of the equity award compensation cost recognized by our company during fiscal 2006 for Messrs. Zaebs and Rowland was capitalized along with other directly-related expenses over the useful lives of the projects for which they were involved during fiscal 2006.
- (7) Mr. Rowland ceased being an executive officer of our company in April 2006, but remained an employee of our company through December 31, 2006.

Stephen F. Rowland, Jr.		150,000

(1) These amounts represent the potential target bonus amounts available to our executives for fiscal 2006 as described in Annual Bonuses section beginning on page 12. Actual target bonuses paid are calculated based upon the relationship of our actual financial performance to budgeted financial performance and are not limited by any minimum or maximum thresholds. Accordingly, if actual financial performance is less than budgeted financial performance, the actual target bonus paid to the executive would be proportionately less than the executive's potential target bonus. At the same time, if actual financial performance exceeds budgeted financial performance, the actual target bonus paid to the executive would proportionately exceed the executive's potential target bonus. The actual amounts of the target bonuses earned by our executives during fiscal 2006 are listed in the Non-Equity Incentive Plan Compensation column of the Summary Compensation

- (2) The restricted stock was granted under our 2004 Plan and 25% vests on each 10-month anniversary of the grant date. 50% of the number of granted shares would have automatically been forfeited in the event that our company's actual consolidated earnings before tax (EBT) for fiscal year 2006 had our company not met or exceed its budgeted EBT of $90.1 million for 2006 (see Annual Bonuses on page 12).

Executives may vote and receive dividends, if any, on restricted shares that they hold. Restricted shares may not be transferred and are subject to possible forfeiture until they vest, which forfeiture occurs when an executive ceases to be employed by our company for any reason other than death or total disability unless our board of directors determines otherwise. In the event of the death or total disability of an executive prior to the granting of a restricted stock award in respect of the fiscal year in which such event occurred, the restricted stock award may, in the discretion of our board of directors, be granted in respect of such fiscal year to the disabled executive or his or her estate. In addition, in the case of an executive's death or total disability (see Employment Agreements and Change in Control Provisions on page 23), all restricted shares then outstanding to an executive that have not previously vested or been forfeited will vest in proportion to the term of the award during which the executive was employed. Lastly, in the case of the occurrence of a change of control (see Employment Agreements and Change in Control Provisions on page 23), all restricted shares then outstanding to an executive that have not previously vested or been forfeited will vest immediately.

- (3) Valuation of awards based on the grant date fair value of those awards determined pursuant to SFAS 123(R) utilizing assumptions discussed in note 2 to our company's consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006. Table of ContentsNonqualified Deferred Compensation for 2006

The following table sets forth certain information concerning nonqualified deferred compensation contributed to the Executive Nonqualified Excess Plan of Life Time Fitness of amounts earned during fiscal 2006 for the named executive officers:

Name	Executive Contributions in Last FY ($)	Registrant Contributions in Last FY ($)	Aggregate Earnings in Last FY ($)	Aggregate Withdrawals/ Distributions ($)	Aggregate Balance at Last FYE ($)

Michael J. Gerend	30,000(1)		1,121(2)		31,121
Mark L. Zaebst
Eric J. Buss
Stephen F. Rowland, Jr.

(1) This amount was reported in the Summary Compensation Table as part of Mr. Gerend's base salary compensation.

(2) Of this amount, $718 was reported in the Change in Pension Value and Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Earnings column of the Summary Compensation Table as this portion of the aggregate earnings in the last fiscal year was considered to be above market. The earnings listed represent, as determined by the third party administrator of the Executive Nonqualified Excess Plan of Life Time Fitness, the change in the value of the investment choices selected by the participant during the fiscal year, weighted for activity, such as increases credited under the plan, transfers, and distributions, and taking into consideration any fees, reinvestments, net asset value changes, and earnings credited to the investment choices. Mr. Gerend's rate of return was 17.7%.

All highly compensated employees eligible to participate in the Executive Nonqualified Excess Plan of Life Time Fitness, including but not limited to our executives, may elect to defer up to 50% of their annual base salary and/or annual bonus earnings to be paid in any coming year. The investment choices available to participants under the non-qualified deferred compensation plan are of the same type and risk categories as those offered under our company's 401(k) plan and may be modified or changed by the participant or our company at any time. Distributions can be paid out as in-service payments or at retirement. Upon retirement, a participant's account benefits can be paid out as a lump sum or in annual installments over a term of up to 10 years. Our company may, but does not currently plan to, make matching contributions and/or discretionary contributions to this plan. If our company did desire to make contributions to this plan, the contributions would vest to each participant according to their years of service with our company.

Equity Ownership Guidelines

In fiscal 2006, a review and analysis performed by Pearl Meyer & Partners as commissioned by our compensation committee found that, in general, our executives had stock ownership levels in Life Time Fitness, defined as shares held plus vested and unexercised option shares, that are at or above the median levels of each of the two peer groups identified by Pearl Meyer & Partners and described in the Compensation Determination Process section on page 10.

While our company encourages executives to hold company shares, our company does not feel that formal stock ownership guidelines should be implemented at this time.

Equity Grant Policies

In February 2007, our company adopted a formal equity grant policy governing all awards granted under our company's stock incentive plans, including the grant of any shares of our company's common stock, restricted shares, restricted stock units, stock options, stock appreciation rights, deferred stock units, phantom stock and performance units.

This policy maintains that no grants are to occur on a date when our company's insider trading window is closed. Annual grants approved by our compensation committee are to occur on or about the same time every year. Any new hire grants are to be approved by our compensation committee at their next meeting that occurs during an open trading window. The policy requires that all grants of awards to any members of our board of directors must be approved by our board of directors and that all grants of awards to any current or new hire executive officers of our company must be approved by our compensation committee.

This policy also maintains that upon the compensation committee's request, they may receive and review a report from a compensation consultant hired by the compensation committee that includes relevant survey and benchmarking data prior to approving annual awards for executive officers as well as prior to approving awards to any new hire executive officers. In connection with approving grants of awards to any executive officer, the policy holds that our compensation committee is to review total compensation for such person for the most recent three year period, or such lesser time as the person has been employed by our company. The review is to include a listing of all equity awards granted to such executive officer in the three year period and a listing of all outstanding equity awards issued to such executive officer. Our compensation committee may consider recommendations of any executive officer when approving awards, other than recommendations by an individual for his or her own award.

Pursuant to authority delegated to Mr. Akradi, our Chief Executive Officer, in accordance with our company's stock incentive plans, Mr. Akradi had the authority to approve grants to any eligible participant under the applicable plan whose award does not require compensation committee approval as described above; provided, however, unless otherwise approved by the compensation committee:

No stock option grant to any employee at any one time shall exceed 25,000 shares;

No restricted share grant to any employee at any one time shall exceed 10,000 shares; and

The aggregate number of stock options, restricted shares and stock appreciation rights shares that can be granted subject to awards during a fiscal year is not to exceed 750,000 shares.

Mr. Akradi granted both stock options and restricted shares to eligible participants that did not require compensation committee approval pursuant to such authority during fiscal 2006 until our company and the compensation committee determined that only the compensation committee should approve all grants to eligible participants on a going-forward basis, excluding non-employee directors, in connection with our company implementing various additional corporate governance best practices.

Subsequent to the decision to have the compensation committee approve grants on a going-forward basis but prior to the adoption of our formal equity grant policy, our compensation committee expressly granted Mr. Akradi the ability in late fiscal 2006 to specifically grant 10,000 restricted shares that he had chosen to forego in return for the ability to instead grant such shares to reward employees of our company for their service over time that might not otherwise receive long-term incentive awards as part of our company's merit review process. Mr. Akradi is obligated to provide the compensation committee with a summary of the grants that he has made in connection with this specific grant of authority.

Employment Agreements and Change in Control Provisions

In June 2004, our compensation committee approved a form of employment agreement for certain of our executive officers and other members of management. Effective July 7, 2004, employment agreements were executed by each of Messrs. Robinson, Gerend, Zaebst and Buss, along with certain other members of senior management. Mr. Rowland executed the employment agreement effective August 3, 2004. Mr. Akradi does not currently have an employment agreement with our company.

The employment agreements provide that if an executive's employment is terminated other than for cause, death or disability, or the executive terminates his employment for good reason, then our company is to provide the executive with (i) semi-monthly severance payments for a period of 18 months after such termination, with each payment equal to 1/24 of the sum of the executive's then current annual base salary and target payout under our annual cash-based incentive plan; (ii) up to $10,000 in aggregate outplacement costs associated with the executive's search for new employment; and (iii) continuation of medical plan coverage and life insurance coverage, including dependent coverage for a period of 18 months, at the same level, in the same manner and at the same cost to the executive as in effect on the termination date of employment.

The employment agreements define "good reason" as any of the following events:

our company breaching any material terms or conditions of the employment agreement if not cured within 21 business days after receiving written notice from executive;

our company relocating its executive offices outside of a 75 mile radius of its current location;

our company reducing an executive's combined base salary and target annual bonus opportunity by 25% or more, or materially reducing an executive's duties and responsibilities if, in either case, not cured within 21 business days after receiving written notice from executive; or our company assigning duties and responsibilities to an executive that are materially inconsistent with the executive's position and experience, if not cured within 21 business days after receiving written notice from executive.

The employment agreements generally define cause as our company determining in good faith that an executive has:

engaged in willful and deliberate acts of dishonesty, fraud or unlawful behavior that adversely affects our company's business affairs;

been convicted of or pleaded no contest to a felony;

been grossly negligent or engaged in willful misconduct in performing his or her duties and responsibilities and thereby materially adversely affected our company's business affairs;

refused to substantially perform or persistently neglected his or her duties and responsibilities, or experienced chronic unapproved absenteeism;

demonstrated an inability to perform the duties of his or her position, and is unable to satisfy within 60 days the conditions of any resulting performance improvement plan; or breached any material terms or conditions of the employment agreement.

The latter four events will constitute cause only if our company provides the executive with written notice of the event and the executive fails to remedy the event within 21 business days.

Termination Other than for Cause, Death or Disability or Termination for Good Reason (Other than Change in Control)

The following table presents the estimated total amounts that would be paid out (including the present value cost to our company of benefits coverage provided) to the executive officer if his employment was terminated other than for cause, death or disability, or the executive terminated his employment for good reason, as of December 31, 2006, other than in connection with a change in control of our company. In addition to the amounts included below, certain terminations for good reason will result in acceleration of stock options, the circumstances of which are described below:

Name	Cash	Aggregate	Continued	Total
	Severance Payments ($)(1)	Outplacement Costs ($)	Benefits Coverage ($)	Potential Payout ($)

Termination Other than for Cause, Death or Disability or Termination for Good Reason Following a Change in Control

The employment agreements also provide that if the executive's employment with our company or its successor is terminated by our company within one year of a change in control for any reason other than cause, death or disability, or by the executive within one year of a change in control for good reason, then the executive will receive the same benefits as set forth above, except that the semi-monthly payments of base salary and annual bonus amounts will be made for and over a period of 21 months for Messrs. Robinson, Gerend and Rowland and 12 months for Messrs. Zaebst and Buss.

In addition, our 2004 Plan and the agreements relating to stock option and restricted stock awards subject to that plan provide that all stock option awards will become immediately exercisable in full and all restricted stock awards will fully vest immediately upon a change in control of our company. However, in the event of a change in control, our company's compensation committee has the right to cancel any outstanding options under the 2004 Plan and to cause our company to instead pay the optionee the excess of the fair market value of the option shares covered by the option over the exercise price of the option at the date that the compensation committee provides a buy-out notice.

The employment agreements as well as the 2004 Plan define change in control as consisting of any of the following events:

a majority of our board of directors no longer consists of individuals who were directors at the time the employment agreements were executed or the 2004 Plan was adopted or who, since that time, were nominated for election or elected by our board of directors;

the consummation of a merger, tender offer or consolidation of our company with any other corporation, other than a merger or consolidation that would result in the voting securities of our company outstanding prior to the transaction continuing to represent at least 45% of the combined voting power of the voting securities of our company or the surviving entity; or the consummation of a sale of all or substantially all of the assets of our company, other than in connection with the sale-leaseback of our company's real estate.

The following table presents (i) the estimated total amounts that would be paid out (including the present value cost of continued benefits coverage) to each named executive officer if the officer's employment were terminated by our company or its successor for any reason other than cause, death or disability, or by the named executive officer for good reason, as of December 31, 2006 and within one year of a change in control; and (ii) the intrinsic value of the stock options whose exercisability would be accelerated, and of the restricted stock awards whose vesting would be accelerated, if a change in control occurred as of December 31, 2006:

Name	Cash	Aggregate	Continued	Value of	Total
	Severance	Outplacement	Benefits	Accelerated	Potential
	Payments	Costs	Coverage	Equity	Payout
	($)(1)	($)	($)	Awards	($)

Michael R. Robinson	735,000	10,000	6,492	903,465	1,654,957
Michael J. Gerend	787,500	10,000	3,657	903,465	1,704,622

Stephen F. Rowland, Jr.	787,500	10,000	24,095	345,600	1,167,195

- (1) Cash Severance
Payments are based on the executive's then current base salary and Target Bonus rates at the date of termination.

- (2) Value based on a share price of $48.51, which was the last reported sale price for a share of our common stock on the NYSE on December 29, 2006. Value of restricted stock awards is determined by multiplying that closing share price by the number of restricted shares; value of accelerated stock options is determined by multiplying the number of option shares by the difference between that closing share price and the option exercise price.

Payment of severance benefits under our employment agreements, whether or not termination is in connection with a change in control, is conditioned upon the executive signing a global release of all claims against our company, and remaining in compliance with his obligations under the employment agreement to (i) protect our company's confidential information, (ii) refrain from competing with our company for 18 months (or 24 months in connection with a change in control) after his termination of employment, (iii) refrain from hiring any of our company's employees for 12 months after his termination of employment, and (iv) refrain from soliciting any of our company's customers or inducing any customer or supplier to stop doing business with our company for 12 months after his termination of employment.

Acceleration of Vesting of Equity Awards

Under our 2004 Plan, if an executive's employment is terminated due to death or disability, any outstanding stock option will immediately become exercisable in full for one year (or until the option expires, if that occurs sooner), and any restricted stock award will vest in proportion to the term of the award during which the executive was employed. If an executive's employment terminates for any reason other than death, disability or cause (defined in a manner similar to that in our employment agreements), his outstanding stock options will remain exercisable for a period of 90 days after termination to the extent they were exercisable immediately before termination, but any unvested shares of restricted stock will be forfeited. The following table presents the intrinsic value of the stock options granted under the 2004 Plan whose exercisability would be accelerated, and of the restricted stock awards whose vesting would be accelerated, if the named executive officer's employment were terminated due to death or disability as of December 31, 2006:

Name	Value of Accelerated Equity Awards ($)(1)
Bahram Akradi	4,058,524
Michael R. Robinson	373,126
Michael J. Gerend	373,126
Mark L. Zaebst	236,345
Eric J. Buss	236,345
Stephen F. Rowland, Jr.	345,600

(1) Value based on a share price of $48.51, which was the last reported sale price for a share of our common stock on the NYSE on December 29, 2006. Value of accelerated stock options is determined using the difference between that closing share price and the applicable option exercise price multiplied by the number of option shares whose exercisability is accelerated; value of accelerated restricted stock awards is determined by multiplying that closing share price by the number of restricted shares whose vesting is accelerated.

Certain agreements relating to stock options under our 1998 Plan provide that stock option awards will become exercisable in full upon an acceleration event. An acceleration event occurs upon the public announcement that any person has acquired or has the right to acquire beneficial ownership of 51% or more of the outstanding shares of common stock of our company, any person has made a tender or exchange offer for 51% or more of the outstanding shares of common stock of our company, or there has been a sale of all or substantially all of the assets of our company, except that an acceleration event does not occur unless one of the following events also occurs:

our company also terminates the participant without cause, the participant terminates his or her employment because his or her duties and responsibilities have been materially reduced and our company has not cured this reduction within 15 or 21 business days, as the case may be, of receiving written notice from the participant, the participant terminates his or her employment because his or her salary has been materially reduced and our company has not cured this reduction within 15 or 21 business days, as the case may be, of receiving written notice from the participant, or our company has relocated its executive offices outside of a 50 mile radius of its current location.

Table of Contents

The following table presents the intrinsic value of the stock options whose exercisability would be accelerated under the 1998 Plan if an acceleration event occurred as of December 31, 2006:

Name	Value of Option Shares Becoming Exercisable ($)(1)
Bahram Akradi
Michael R. Robinson	1,301,958
Michael J. Gerend	3,240,800
Mark L. Zaebst	81,020
Eric J. Buss	217,933
Stephen F. Rowland, Jr.

(1) Value based on a share price of $48.51, which was the last reported sale price for a share of our common stock on the NYSE on December 29, 2006, minus the exercise price of the applicable option.

In addition, certain award agreements relating to stock options under our 1998 Plan provide that a pro rata share of the participant's non-vested option shares will immediately vest if the participant has been terminated by our company without cause or the participant terminates his or her employment with our company for good reason. These agreements generally define cause in a manner similar to that under our employment agreements and define good reason as occurring upon any of the following events:

our company relocating its executive offices outside of a 50 mile radius of its current location;

our company materially reducing a participant's duties and responsibilities or title if not cured within 21 business days after receiving written notice from participant; or our company assigning duties and responsibilities to a participant that are inconsistent with the participant's position (applicable only to those options granted to Mr. Robinson in 2002 and Mr. Gerend in 2003).

The following table presents the intrinsic value of the stock options whose exercisability would be accelerated under the 1998 Plan if a named executive officer were to terminate his employment for good reason, or if we terminated the named executive officer's employment without cause, as of December 31, 2006:

All stock awards granted to non-employee directors have been in the form of restricted stock issued under our 2004 Plan. Directors may vote and receive dividends, if any, at the normal dividend rate on restricted shares that they hold. Restricted shares may not be transferred and are subject to possible forfeiture until they vest, which occurs when a director ceases to be a member of our board of directors for any reason other than death, total disability or retirement unless our board of directors determines otherwise. In the event of the death, total disability or retirement of a non-employee director prior to the granting of a restricted stock award in respect of the fiscal year in which such event occurred, the restricted stock award may, in the discretion of our board of directors, be granted in respect of such fiscal year to the retired or disabled non-employee director or his or her estate. In addition, in the case of a non-employee director's death, total disability or retirement or the occurrence of a change of control under our 2004 Plan (see Employment Agreements and Change in Control Provisions section on page 23), all restricted shares outstanding to non-employee directors that have not previously vested or been forfeited will vest immediately.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED PERSON TRANSACTIONS

Related Person Transaction Approval Policy

In February 2007, our board of directors adopted a formal related person transaction approval policy, which sets forth our company's policies and procedures for the review, approval or ratification of any transaction required to be reported in our company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Our policy applies to any financial transaction, arrangement or relationship or any series of similar transactions, arrangements or relationships in which our company is a participant and in which a related person has a direct or indirect interest, but exempts the following:

payment of compensation by our company to a related person for the related person's service to our company in the capacity or capacities that give rise to the person's status as a related person;

transactions available to all employees or all shareholders of our company on the same terms; and transactions, which when aggregated with the amount of all other transactions between the related person and our company, involve less than $120,000 in a fiscal year.

The audit committee of our board of directors must approve any related person transaction subject to this policy before commencement of the related party transaction. The committee will analyze the following factors, in addition to any other factors the committee deems appropriate, in determining whether to approve a related party transaction:

whether the terms are fair to our company;

whether the transaction is material to our company;

the role the related person has played in arranging the related person transaction;

the structure of the related person transaction; and the interests of all related persons in the related person transaction.

The committee may, in its sole discretion, approve or deny any related person transaction. Approval of a related person transaction may be conditioned upon our company and the related person taking such precautionary actions, as the committees deems appropriate.

Table of Contents*Related Party Transaction Summary*

Prior to the adoption of our related party transaction approval policy, our company entered into the transactions involving related parties described below. We believe that the transactions set forth below were on terms no less favorable than we could have obtained from unaffiliated parties.

Since 2000, we have leased various fitness and office equipment from third party equipment vendors for use at the center in Bloomingdale, Illinois. We then have subleased this equipment to Bloomingdale LIFE TIME Fitness, L.L.C., of which our company has a one-third interest. We charged Bloomingdale LIFE TIME Fitness, L.L.C. $442,500 in 2006. We anticipate that we will charge Bloomingdale LIFE TIME Fitness, L.L.C. a similar amount in the future.

In May 2001, we completed a transaction to sell and simultaneously lease back one of our Minnesota centers. We did not recognize any material gain or loss on the sale of the center. The purchaser and landlord in such transaction is an entity composed of four individuals, one of whom is Mr. Rowland. We paid $880,000 in 2006 in rent pursuant to the lease of the center. This lease expires in May 2026. This transaction was reviewed and approved by our board of directors.

In October 2003, we leased a center located within a shopping center that is owned by a general partnership in which Mr. Akradi has a 50% interest. In December 2003, our company and the general partnership executed an addendum to this lease whereby we leased an additional 5,000 square feet of office space on a month-to-month basis within the shopping center, which we terminated effective January 1, 2007. We paid rent pursuant to this lease of $540,000 in 2006. The terms of the lease were negotiated by one of our independent directors on behalf of our company and were reviewed and approved by a majority of our independent and disinterested directors. To assist our board of directors in evaluating this transaction, a third-party expert was retained to review the terms of the lease. The third-party expert determined that the terms of the lease were at market rates.

We pay a general contractor that is primarily owned by Mr. Rowland for Mr. Rowland's car allowance and related car expenses as well as for executive medical benefits. This resulted in payments of $38,251 to the general contractor for such expenses incurred by Mr. Rowland during 2006.

Other than the transactions set forth above, our company had no other transactions during fiscal 2006 which required review, approval or ratification under our related party transaction approval policy or where the related party transaction approval policy's policies and procedures were not followed.
