These statements are subject to uncertainties and risks including, but not limited to (i) securing capital for general working purposes, and (ii) other risks and in statements filed from time to time with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”). All such forward-looking statements, whether written or oral, and whether made by or on behalf of the Company, are expressly qualified by the cautionary statements and any other cautionary statements which may accompany the forward-looking statements. In addition, the Company disclaims any obligation to, and will not, update any forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date hereof.

ITEM 1.01 ENTRY INTO A MATERIAL DEFINITIVE AGREEMENT.

On January 18, 2016, Soul and Vibe Interactive Inc. (the “Company”) completed the closing of a private placement financing transaction (the “Transaction”) with an accredited investor (the “Investor”), pursuant to a Securities Purchase Agreement (the “Purchase Agreement”). Pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, the Investor purchased a 10% Convertible Debenture (the “Debenture” and together with the Purchase Agreement, the “Transaction Documents”) in the aggregate principal amount of $81,000.00, and delivered gross proceeds of $75,000.00 excluding transaction costs, fees, and expenses.

Interest on the Debenture is payable in the amount of 10% of the principal amount, regardless of how long the Debenture remain outstanding. Principal and interest is due and payable January 18, 2017, twelve (12) months after the date of the Debenture. The Debenture is convertible into shares of the Company’s common stock at any time at the discretion of the Investor at a variable conversion price (“VCP”). The VCP is calculated as the lowest trading price during the twenty five (25) trading days immediately prior to the conversion date multiplied by fifty percent (50%).

The Company may prepay the Debenture, subject to prior notice to the Investor, by: (i) within an initial 89 days period after the issuance of the Debenture, by paying an amount equal to 120% multiplied by the amount that the Company is prepaying; and (ii) from the 90th day through the 179th day after the issuance of the Debenture, by paying an amount equal to 125% multiplied by the amount that the Company is prepaying. Beginning on the 180th day after the issuance of the Debenture, the Company is not permitted to prepay the Debenture, so long as the Debenture is still outstanding, unless the Company and the Investor agree otherwise in writing.

As long as the Debenture is outstanding, the Investor has a right of first refusal, exercisable for ten (10) business days after notice to the Investor, to purchase to purchase securities proposed to be offered and sold in the future by the Company in a transaction primarily for purposes of financing the operations or business of the Company. If the Investor is unable or unwilling to provide financing or capital to the Company during its ten business day right of first refusal period, then the Company is free to secure financing or capital from a third party, provided however such a transaction is completed within 30 days of the Company's notification to the Investor. If the Company does not receive financing or capital from such a third party, the Company must again offer the Investor the opportunity to provide financing or capital.

Pursuant to the terms of the Purchase Agreement, the Company shall use the proceeds from the sale of the Debenture for working capital and other general corporate purposes and shall not, directly or indirectly, use such proceeds for any loan to or investment in any other corporation, partnership, enterprise or other person, subject to exceptions outlined therein.

The foregoing description of the Purchase Agreement and the Debenture does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of each document, which are filed as Exhibits to this Current Report on Form 8-K and are incorporated herein by reference.
