On August 23, 2011, Omnicare, Inc. sent the following letter to its employees:

August 23, 2011

Dear Omnicare Employee:

I want to update you on important news about our company. This morning we sent PharMerica a letter proposing to acquire PharMerica for $15.00 per share in cash. The attached press release provides details about today's announcement and highlights some of the benefits of combining with PharMerica. The release also includes the full text of the letter we sent to PharMerica's Board of Directors.

As you know, we have made significant investments over the years in acquisitions, technologies and services for the benefit of our stockholders, customers and other stakeholders. As a result, we are one of the leading providers of pharmaceutical care. The work we do is important and your efforts have helped to make a difference for our customers and the residents we serve.

Bringing together our complementary businesses would enable the combined company to benefit from enhanced scale and operational efficiencies, and a broader array of service offerings. We believe the proposed transaction is consistent with the country's effort to lower overall healthcare costs and is expected to help our customers manage and respond to the ongoing industry cost pressures. Our Board unanimously supports this proposal, which is not subject to any financing contingencies.

At this time, we have only submitted a proposal to acquire PharMerica to its Board of Directors. It is important to keep in mind that this proposal is, at this stage, just a proposal. Omnicare and PharMerica remain separate companies, so it's business as usual. During this process, the best way you can help us is to continue providing the same high level of professionalism that has made Omnicare an industry leader in the markets we serve.

Although we must adhere to certain legal and regulatory requirements, we will make every effort to keep you informed throughout this process.

Please keep in mind that today's announcement is likely to result in increased interest in our company from the media and other third parties. It is very important that we speak with one voice on this matter, and I ask that you please forward any inquiries to Patrick Lee, Vice President of Investor Relations at (859) 392-3444.

Thank you for your ongoing hard work and dedication to Omnicare. It is your commitment to exceeding expectations on a daily basis that makes our services so important to our customers and their patients.

Sincerely,

John Figueroa

Chief Executive Officer

On August 23, 2011, Omnicare, Inc. sent the following letter to its customers:

August 23, 2011

Dear Valued Customer:

I am writing to update you on important news regarding Omnicare. Earlier today, we announced a proposal to acquire PharMerica. The attached press release provides details about today's announcement and highlights some of the benefits of combining with PharMerica.

Bringing together our complementary businesses would enable the combined company to benefit from enhanced scale and operational efficiencies, and a broader array of service offerings. Given the dynamic nature of our industry, and the many changes currently underway, we believe the proposed transaction is consistent with the country's effort to lower overall healthcare costs and is expected to help our customers manage and respond to the ongoing industry cost pressures. Combining with PharMerica represents a compelling opportunity toward that goal. Together we will benefit from:

High Quality Technology and Service Offerings. Omniview offers a range of innovative cost-saving solutions, including admissions preview, e-refill, proof of delivery tracking, drug management reports, and real-time validation of Part D coverability. Additionally, Omnicare's investments in automation have resulted in greater accuracy, speed and consistency of service and freed up resources and time for the people who serve customers face-to-face. Finally, through the use of a proprietary document imaging system, Omnicare has simplified the order entry process, resulting in significantly improved turnaround times. Taken together, Omnicare's sophisticated technology and systems can greatly enhance PharMerica's current service levels while also reducing costs.

Formulary Management. Omnicare's Clinical Intervention Centers, which provide clinically appropriate and financially cost-effective, patient-specific medication therapy and other formulary management initiatives, are expected to help customers of the combined company identify and reduce drug costs.

Purchasing Ability and Speed to Market with Generics. The combined company's purchasing ability is expected to provide cost savings to customers of the combined company, especially with regard to generics, and will allow you to benefit from the coming wave of brand drug patent expirations. Omnicare's ability to convert over 95% of a brand product to its generic equivalent in a matter of a few weeks provides almost immediate cost savings to its customers.

At this time, we have only submitted a proposal to acquire PharMerica to its Board of Directors. It is important to keep in mind that this proposal is, at this stage, just a proposal. Omnicare and PharMerica remain separate companies, so it's business as usual. Today's announcement should have no effect on how we conduct business with you. Although we must adhere to certain legal and regulatory requirements, we will make every effort to keep you informed throughout this process.

Should you have any questions, please feel free to contact me. We remain as focused as ever on delivering the same exceptional services that you have come to expect from us, and we sincerely appreciate our ongoing partnership.

We are confident that this transaction, if consummated, will generate substantial benefits for both companies' customers and the residents we serve.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey Stamps

Executive Vice President, President of Long-Term Care Operations

On August 23, 2011, Omnicare, Inc. provided the following list of frequently asked questions to its employees:

Employee FAQ

1. Why are we proposing to acquire PharMerica?

PharMerica represents an excellent strategic fit for Omnicare and presents a compelling opportunity for PharMerica stockholders to realize value for their shares not likely to be available in the market place or in other business combination opportunities.

Bringing together our complementary businesses would enable the combined company to benefit from enhanced scale and operational efficiencies, and a broader array of service offerings. We have made significant investments over the years in acquisitions, technologies and services for the benefit of our stockholders, customers and other stakeholders. As a result, we are one of the leading providers of pharmaceutical care.

Importantly, the proposed transaction is consistent with the country's effort to lower overall healthcare costs and is expected to help our customers manage and respond to the ongoing industry cost pressures.

2. Why haven't you been able to reach a friendly agreement with PharMerica?

On April 19, 2011, PharMerica's CEO approached Omnicare about a combination. Following this initial approach, we intensified our analysis of the potential benefits and quickly realized the value such a combination could deliver.

While we have repeatedly tried to engage in a constructive dialogue with PharMerica, we are surprised that they continue to rebuff those attempts. It remains our strong preference to reach a negotiated agreement with PharMerica, as we believe we can reach a mutually agreeable transaction in a quick and efficient manner that will benefit both companies and their respective stockholders and other constituencies.

We are committed to pursuing this transaction. If PharMerica continues to refuse to engage in meaningful negotiations with us, we are prepared to submit our proposal directly to PharMerica's stockholders.

3. What does this mean for me?

At this time, it is important to keep in mind that the proposal we made is, at this stage, just a proposal. Omnicare and PharMerica remain separate companies, so it is business as usual. During this process, the best way you can help us is to continue providing the same high level of professionalism that has made Omnicare a valued partner in the markets we serve.

Although we must adhere to certain legal and regulatory requirements, we will make every effort to keep you informed throughout this process.

4. What benefits does this transaction provide for our customers?

Bringing together our complementary businesses would enable the combined company to benefit from enhanced scale and operational efficiencies, and a broader array of service offerings.

The combined company would be a recognized leader in generic utilization and other drug cost management programs and its customers, employees and other constituencies would benefit from high-quality technology and service offerings, formulary management, purchasing ability and speed to market with generics.

As noted above, we believe the proposed transaction is consistent with the country's effort to lower overall healthcare costs and is expected to help our customers manage and respond to the ongoing industry cost pressures.

5. What should we say to customers?

It is business as usual at Omnicare. We are committed to our valued customers and will continue to support our customer base with the high-quality service they have come to expect from us.

6. How will the two companies be integrated? Are there any plans yet?

At this time, it is important to keep in mind that the proposal we made is, at this stage, just a proposal. Omnicare and PharMerica remain separate companies, so it is business as usual.

During this process, the best way you can help us is to continue providing the same high level of professionalism that has made Omnicare an industry leader in the markets we serve. We will make every effort to keep you informed, as appropriate, throughout this process.

7. What happens next?

We believe our proposal presents a compelling opportunity for PharMerica stockholders to realize value for their shares not likely to be available in the market place or in other business combination opportunities. We are committed to pursuing this transaction. If PharMerica continues to refuse to engage in meaningful negotiations with us, we are prepared to submit our proposal directly to PharMerica's stockholders.

8. What should I say if I'm contacted by media, financial community, or other third parties about the transaction?

It is very important that we speak with one voice on this matter, and I ask that you please forward any inquiries to Patrick Lee, Vice President of Investor Relations at (859) 392-3444.
