NEW YORK - Verizon Communications Inc. (NYSE:VZ) today announced changes in 2003 financial targets -- resetting adjusted EPS to a range of $2.56 to $2.60, while reiterating the company's overall revenue growth estimate and debt target, increasing expectations for Verizon Wireless customer additions, and reducing expected full-year capital spending.

Verizon CEO Ivan Seidenberg said, "Reviewing the changing operational, economic and regulatory conditions in the second half, we remain confident in our long-term strategy for growth and value-creation, and we are taking steps, such as our groundbreaking labor contracts, to remove uncertainties that have clouded the investment outlook for Verizon."

The labor agreements, announced earlier this month, will slow the rate of expense growth in Verizon's largest business unit, Domestic Telecom, while providing labor stability over the next five years.

Lowered EPS guidance results from 10 to 12 cents per share in additional operational impacts from issues that have emerged since mid-year, and 4 cents per share in primarily non-cash expenses related to a change in treatment of retiree healthcare obligations (FAS 106).

Issues affecting financial forecasts for the second half include pressures on Domestic Telecom revenues due largely to the economy and new regulatory constraints. Demand for business voice services remains soft as unemployment levels remain high; demand for consumer landline services has been impacted by technology substitution; and state and federal regulatory rulings, particularly the Federal Communications Commission's Triennial Review order, will have an ongoing adverse effect on revenues.

Additional expense pressures include contingency costs to maintain operational readiness during labor negotiations, and the timing of a 3 percent lump sum payment that was part of the settlement. Domestic Telecom has seen increased repair costs due to record-setting rainfall, while Verizon Wireless has seen increased customer acquisition expenses that are fueling the higher levels of customer additions expected in the second half.

GROWTH IN DSL, LONG DISTANCE, INTERNATIONAL

Somewhat offsetting revenue and expense pressures has been continued growth in Verizon's DSL (digital subscriber line) and long-distance businesses. Verizon currently has more than 2 million billed DSL lines, on track with prior guidance, and the company is seeing similar long-distance growth trends in the third quarter as in the second quarter, when the company reported 1.4 million net additional long-distance lines.

Also offsetting the pressures are expected results from Verizon International, driven primarily by the results at Italian wireless provider Omnitel as well as asset sales.

REVENUE GROWTH REITERATED

"While our industry is rapidly transforming, we are reiterating top-line revenue growth targets this year and building long-term value by focusing on the opportunities we see in wireless, broadband and the Enterprise business market," Seidenberg said. "Contributing to this solid foundation, Verizon Wireless has significantly outperformed expectations, and Domestic Telecom continues its excellent track record of containing costs and maintaining margins. Verizon also continues to generate strong cash flows which, as we get closer to our targeted debt levels, will give us more flexibility to create shareholder value."

WIRELESS, CAPITAL AND DEBT TARGETS

Verizon Wireless now expects a total of more than 4.5 million net retail customer additions for 2003. Previous guidance, announced two months ago, was for more than 4 million.

Verizon expects 2003 capital expenditures to be in the range of $12 billion to $12.5 billion, a $1 billion reduction from the high end of previous guidance of $12.5 billion to $13.5 billion. Investments in wireless remain as previously targeted, with demand-driven declines in Domestic Telecom investment due to decreases in access lines and other reductions due to the sale of the company's stake in Mexican wireless carrier Grupo Iusacell and lower capital spending at subsidiaries.

Verizon is reiterating its year-end net debt target of $46 billion to $47 billion. The company began the year with a target of $49 billion to $51 billion and revised it in July.

ONGOING IMPACTS

Beginning in 2004, the accounting for retiree healthcare obligations is estimated to reduce EPS by an additional 16 cents per year. These are primarily non-cash expenses.

Verizon has also announced that, under a program to reduce the workforce, voluntary separation incentives have been made available to most union and management employees. The company expects to take a severance charge for these separations in the fourth quarter.

A Fortune 10 company, Verizon Communications (NYSE:VZ) is one of the world's leading providers of communications services, with approximately $67 billion in revenues and 221,000 employees. Verizon companies are the largest providers of wireline and wireless communications in the United States, with 137.6 million access line equivalents and 34.6 million Verizon Wireless customers. Verizon is the third largest long-distance carrier for U.S. consumers, with 14.6 million long-distance lines. The company is also the largest directory publisher in the world, as measured by directory titles and circulation. Verizon's international presence includes wireline and wireless communications operations and investments, primarily in the Americas and Europe. For more information, visit www.verizon.com.
